"Bad Teeth Cause Crime"

Charles D. Hilles, formerly Secretary to President Taft, who has devoted much time to the reformation of children, believes that "much badness in boys is due to decayed teeth and inability to properly masticate food." No boy can eat without chewing it, and the chewing of it develops sound teeth and healthy gums. Better for youngsters than mushy porridges that are bolted down without chewing. Supplies every element needed for building sturdy, robust bodies. Ready-cooked, ready-to-serve. Ask your grocer.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness; then pour over it milk or cream, adding salt or sugar to suit the taste. Deliciously nourishing for any meal in combination with berries or other fruits of any kind. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat Wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalades.

ASSISTING WOOL-GROWERS

Sheep-raising Industry to be Further Improved and Developed

The live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is prepared to offer practical assistance to associations of wool growers in the preparation and display of their wool clips for market. Associations, in order to receive aid, must be organized in accordance with the regulations of the branch, and membership is limited to actual owners of sheep. West of Fort William an association must contain at least 3,000 sheep, or sufficient to comprise one carload of wool; east of there, a relative number. The services of expert wool classifiers, who will take charge of and perform the grading, classification and preparation of the wool, will be provided.

This proposal, represents more than a mere continuation of the work that has already been undertaken. It means the introduction of a definite scheme whereby wool producers may be actually assisted in preparing and presenting their wools upon the market in the most acceptable fashion, and thus be in a position to cater more directly to the requirements of the market. Moreover, it should prove effective in developing and improving the general status of sheep-raising and in creating an impetus to the production and preparation of an improved grade of wool, and indirectly, a better class of mutton.

Pursues the Stale Egg

DR. ALBERTA READ

Stale eggs are Dr. Alberta E. Read's specialty; her reputation as a chemist rests on stale eggs, and it is to her ability to keep stale eggs out of the United States housewife's pantry that she owes her unusual position.

As an expert chemist in the Government bureau of chemistry, it is Dr. Read's business to examine the frozen and dried eggs submitted to the bureau for inspection under the interstate commerce law and to see that all the "stored" egg product is pure and wholesome when given to the consumer. By applying chemical tests, she can tell for a certainty the age and "previous condition" of the eggs under inspection.

A Chicken Coop

A combination two-in-one poultry coop for setting hens and chickens is 6 feet long, 3 feet deep and is divided into four compartments by removable partitions. At the back of each compartment is a nest, at the front is a sliding door which opens into a detachable runway. The front of the little house is three feet high and has an opening in the upper half, lengthwise covered with wire screen and closed by a hinged door at the top. Four hens are set in this coop at one time. As soon as the chicks come, two of the partitions are taken out and one hen given both hatchlings, while the other hen is put to more profitable work. When the chicks are ready to do without the hen, the hens are taken out, the other two partitions removed and perches put in for the chicks to roost on. The runways in front are then taken away also.

"One man's food is another man's poison," as you've often heard. Don't try to conform your diet to some other person's diet. Find out what suits you and then stick to it.

Get the habit of doing the right thing. Get the habit of rising early, of going to bed betimes, of eating wholesome food. Life's all much a matter of habit. Why not get the ones which will help you to live healthfully?

WAS IN TOUCH WITH GERMAN CRUISER

Montreal, Aug. 12.—The C. P. R. liner Mount Royal knows more about the German cruisers in the Atlantic than any other vessel, having innocently held a conversation with the cruiser of the Newfoundland Banks. She arrived in port last night, but her captain and Marconi operator were taken off at Quebec to tell the story to the militia headquarters. The Mount Royal was not aware that war had been declared, and when there.

The Mount Royal was not aware that war was declared, and when within two hundred miles of Cape Race her operator, Walter Condon, picked up a wireless from a German ship. The operator learned that the vessel was the German cruiser Karlsruhe. Crossing the conversation which had just been entered into between the Mount Royal and the German cruiser came the big voice of Cape Race: "Where is Mauretania? Urgent."

There was no answer. The Royal Edward and the Calgarian near to the Mount Royal were silent. The Mauretania did not reply. Operator Condon could not account for the conspiracy of silence. Again the message came out from the powerful station at Cape Race "very urgent," without response.

At this juncture the Mount Royal operator "batted in," and sent a query himself to his friend, the Mauretania operator. After a pause the answer came back, "Beat it," and she did.
