

NEWS OF FREDERICTON TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO

(From the Weekly Herald of Saturday, August 12, 1893.)

TO BE MARRIED.—Invitations are out for the marriage next Monday of Mr. E. A. Barker of the dress-goods department of Mr. John J. Weddall's store to Mrs. Henrietta Allen, widow of the late Brunswick Allen of Kingsclear.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—A meeting of the city Board of Health was held Monday night in the City Hall. Inspector Farrell reported the city to be in a cleanly state and the chairman Dr. Coburn reported the general health of the city to be unusually good.

WARM WEATHER.—The thermometer this week averaged more than 90 degrees in the shade. From some parts of the county it has been reported to be as high as 100 in the shade.

TOO MUCH GRIT.—C. McCuskey intended to remove the old Fleming Building corner York and Charlotte Streets to Needham Street, but found it almost impossible as the dust and traffic made the tallo-slides unworkable.

PASSED THE EXAM.—Mr. Henry Harvey Stuart of the "Farmer" Office has passed the entrance examinations to the Normal School and is entitled to study for a first class license. Mr. Stuart's success is all the more creditable from the fact that during his term of preparation he put in ten hours a day at his printing-work.

TARGET PRACTISE.—No. 4 Company R.C.R.I., has finished target practise and Bandsman Doyle has again secured the gold badge with 237 points. Sergt. Instructor Duncan was second with 225. Sergt. Burns was third with 211. Bandsman Torrance was first at judging distance.

THAT FENCE.—Whoever is responsible for that unsightly bill-board in front of the County Court House for the accommodation of Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show should be compelled to remove it with his own hands.

GOING TO ST. JOHN.—Miss Annie L. Lugin has accepted a position in voice-culture in the Ladies' College and Conservatory of Music in St. John. Miss Lugin's friends and the music-loving public of the city will be sorry to hear of her departure.

BUSINESS CHANCE.—Miss Susie Kelley has purchased the stock-in-trade and millinery business lately conducted at Mrs. Scery's old stand by F. G. Triton for Messrs. Daniel & Boyd of St. John.

THE SHOE FACTORY.—The Manufacturers' Committee of the Board of Trade at a recent meeting considered the offer of Mr. O. M. Hartt to invest $10,000 in a shoe factory here. Those present were: George W. Hodge, J. S. Neill, F. B. Edgcombe, A. H. F. Randolph and J. M. Wiley. The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Hartt for particulars of the probable cost of constructing a factory and its earning capacity. Mr. Neill reported that a gentleman had written him about the prospects for a pulp mill here and Mr. Randolph reported that Donald Fraser of Riverview de Chute wanted to build a lumber mill in this vicinity.

WEDDING.—At the Methodist Church on Wednesday Miss Josephine Thompson, youngest daughter of the late Alex. Thompson of Nashwaakias and sister of Hon. F. P. Thompson, was united in marriage to Mr. Joe G. Pickard a former popular resident of Fredericton but now of Boston. Rev R. W. Weddall tied the nuptial knot. The happy couple left by the early train for Bar Harbor.

THE GRAND LODGE.—The Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F. for the Maritime Provinces met in session in this city on Wednesday, continuing on Friday. The usual reports were read and adopted. On Wednesday evening the visiting delegates were tendered a reception at the Victoria Lodge. Mayor Beckwith on behalf of the city delivered an address of welcome.

THE FIRE FIEND.—At two o'clock this morning fire broke out in the old Lee Buildings on the western side of Westmorland Street known as Lee's Opera House and Livery Stable. By the time the firemen reached the scene the fire had reached the old Gaunce Livery Stable next to the Lee Buildings and to John Palmer's tannery. At one time the whole block and indeed the city, was threatened but there was little wind and the firemen kept the blaze within narrow bounds. Palmer's tannery with a heavy stock of raw and manufactured goods was totally destroyed. The rear of the Mackay building fronting on Queen Street and Parson's Hotel were also wiped out. The Leinforth building was badly gutted and Robert Winters' house was a total loss. The whole loss was $20,000 and the insurance is $10,000.

Black of Richibucto is to succeed Frank Miles as junior clerk in the Merchants' Bank here. Inspector G. W. Mercereau is taking a short course at the Infantry School.

THE PRODUCTION IN 7 ACTS AND 289 SCENES BY THE BARKER COMPANY, LONDON

To the generation of today Victoria's serene reign has passed into history. There are, however, many yet living in this country, as well as abroad, who had the rare privilege of seeing the face of Her Majesty, and almost as many heard her voice.

The great film of "Sixty Years a Queen" now gives to those who have neither seen nor heard the Royal Sovereign, an opportunity to be brought to closer knowledge of some of her noble deeds. A pictorial can transmit what words cannot.

The management of the New Gallery Kinema, in London, England, where this impressive pictorial was first presented, was hesitant in announcing the premiere of the work because it realized, in a measure, the magnitude of the subject and the impossibility of encompassing, within the limit of a two-hour exhibition, all the many stirring episodes that marked the reign of Her Majesty.

It was not a question with the London management what to include in the pictures, but what to eliminate for lack of room in the film, for the Queen's life so teemed with incidents that are graven in the world's memory.

Victoria lived for her country. By her life she showed the world the true meaning of feminine greatness.

BOSTON BRAVES TRAVELLING FAST IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—It is a pretty safe bet that every season sees some sort of a baseball sensation before the final drop of the curtain. The present season is to be no exception to the rule, thanks to the fact that we have with us Mr. G. Stallings and his fighting Braves.

In all parts of our fair land there are to be found baseball ginks who contend that a manager is nothing more than a figurehead, that the players are the whole works and would win just as many games without a pilot. This contention might hold good in the case of some ball teams but not in the case of George.

FORMALLY POOR OUTFIT.

When Stallings took charge of the Braves last season he found what looked to be the poorest baseball outfit this side of Saux Center. He canned several players, obtained some new material, rifled the team a couple of times by turning it upside down and wrongside out, and finished the season a couple of notches higher than the cellar, which was the accustomed abiding place of the Braves.

This season Stallings started out with a regular ball team. He declared that with the addition of Evers and a few promising recruits his team would be found fighting all the way. Disregarding the loss of Pitcher Jack Quinn and Catcher Bill Ralston to the Feds, Stallings went right ahead repairing his broken lineup.

STARTED BADLY.

But when the season started the team couldn't win. Game after game was lost and the Boston fans began to speak of the Braves as the same old punk outfit they had watched for ten years or more. It certainly was discouraging to Stallings, but he kept both feet on the ground and plugged away in an endeavor to find a winning combination.

The team continued to inhale the cave until the first of July, when the crew edged near enough to the entrance to see daylight. Apparently a little sunshine was all the Braves needed, for they started to win and kept right on winning. They won so many games that they put the season record of the Athletics—twenty-two won out of twenty-eight games—into the discard.

CLIMBED FAST

Naturally the almost continuous winning of the Braves enabled them to climb, which they did with neatness and despatch. Going up the pennant ladder from last place to within striking distance of the top is some climb. And the Braves accomplished this nifty piece of work inside of four weeks. Now there are

BABY HAD DYSENTERY

Had Two Doctors, But No Result

WAS CURED BY THE USE OF

DR. FOWLER'S

EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Mrs. Martin Farragher, Dogherty Corner, N.B., writes: "I can very strongly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for Dysentery and Summer Complaints. My little girl, at the age of two years, had the dysentery very bad. We had two doctors, but with no result. My mother brought me a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and when half the bottle was used the little girl was running around playing with her dolls with great delight and joy to the family, for we did not think she would ever get better."

Imitators have even gone so far as to imitate our wrapper in color and style, and have adopted similar names, such as Strawberry Compound, Extract of Strawberry, Wild Strawberry Compound, etc., which preparations they have been trying to sell as the genuine, at a bigger profit to themselves, but unfortunately not to the consumers, who sometimes have had to employ medical aid afterwards.

Do not be led into taking a substitute for "Dr. Fowler's" and thus endanger your life.

BUSY TIMES FOR THE POTTERIES

East Liverpool, O., Aug. 15.—With war in Great Britain, France, Germany and Austria, there is every reason to believe that the imports of glass and pottery products from those countries into the United States will be materially decreased from now until the end of the war. Possibility exists also that the demand for the domestic lines of pottery and glass will become greater in the meantime. All of the potteries and glass table ware factories in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia have resumed operations and they have orders booked that will keep them busy well into 1915.

SOME GOOD PLAYERS.

Of the players Stallings has under his command Johnny Evers is undoubtedly the best known. The "Key-stone Kink," as the great second sacker is known, is putting up just as brilliant a game for the Braves as he ever furnished while wearing the uniform of a Chicago Cub.

Then there is "Rabbit" Maranville. The "Rabbit" might rightfully be called Stallings' own, for George took the little fellow as a raw recruit and developed him into one of the greatest shortstops baseball has ever produced.

Deal, at the hot corner, has been tried in fast company before and cast adrift. Stallings grabbed him, put him through a course of sprouts and turned him out a finished third baseman.

Deal, at the hot corner, has been Schmidt has furnished the biggest surprise to the Boston fans. When the bugs got their first look at Schmidt they had to laugh. Some one had kidded Stallings into the belief that Schmidt was a ball player when in reality the big fellow would look better if hitched to the park's lawn mower. But George maintained that Schmidt had the goods and the big first sacker has verified the assertion.

Headed by Rudolph, James and Tyler, the pitching staff of the Braves it second to none in the game while the catching department is ably looked after by Gowdy and Whaling.

The Braves also are well fortified in the outfield. Among their star gardeners are Devore, Connolly, Mann Gilbert and Whitted.

Whether or not the Braves cop the pennant this season they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they threw a terrible scare into more than one team before the championship race was finished.

PUTTING ONE OVER.

In the happy past John Henry was madly in love with Gladys May and came one of those silly little quarrels and the fair one told the youth to leave her papa's porch.

John Henry did so. Moreover he kept on going and it was something like ten years before he returned to the native haunts he knew so well.

At a ball one night he met the beautiful Gladys May, married now, and it was with matronly condescension that she elected to look upon him.

"After ten long years we meet again, Gladys," said John Henry eagerly, stepping forward to take her hand. "I trust that you still remember me."

"Let me see," mused the fair Gladys May, with an indifferent expression, "was it you or your brother who used to be an old sweet-heart of mine?"

"Really, I don't know," came back the cruel response of John Henry. "Probably it was my father."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

SCHOOL BOY ANSWERS.

A teacher in one of our public schools gives a couple of examples which indicate the necessity of her being on the job.

"What is the equator?" she asked of little Peter Ford, whose knowledge of physical geography was well known throughout the school.

"The equator is a menagerie lion running around the earth," answered the lad, thereby forever establishing his claim to fame.

"What boy will give me an example of an imperative sentence?" inquired the teacher.

"I will," spoke up Matty New. "John, throw the horse over the fence some hat."
