MONTHLY BULLETIN ON THE FIELD CROPS

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—The usual monthly bulletin of the census and statistics office on field crops in Canada was issued today. The reports made by correspondents on July 31 show that the condition of grain crops has undergone a marked change since the last reports for June 30 due to excessive heat and continuous drought during the month of July, especially in the northwestern provinces where the bulk of the grain crops is produced.

Measured by a standard of one hundred representing the promise of a full crop the average condition for the whole of Canada is returned for fall wheat as 71.5, compared with 78 on June 30 and 77.7 on July 31, 1913, for wheat at 77.4 against 80.3 last month and 87.6 a year ago, for oats as 77.3 against 87.2 last month and 87.4 in 1913 for barley as 77.4 against 86.2 last month and 87.5 last year and for rye as 78.5 against 84.7 and 85.

In the Maritime Provinces conditions show excellent, and in Quebec and Ontario, though drought is reported as having shortened the straw, the grain was said to be filling well and the figures of condition which for most of the grain crops exceed or approach ninety are not greatly different from those of a month ago. For spring wheat in Manitoba the condition is 68.2 against 82.4 a month ago, for oats it is 62 against 79.8 and for rye 68.5 against 100. In Saskatchewan the figures are on July 31 for spring wheat 60 against ninety on June 30, for oats 57.9 against 88.9, for barley 59.6 against 89.4 and for rye 74.4 against 92. In Alberta the condition is represented by 68 for fall wheat against 73 last month, 75.4 for spring wheat against 84.3, 71.5 for oats against 85, 71.5 for barley against 85.9 and 77 for rye against 83.7. In some cases western correspondents state that there was still time for rains to effect an improvement before harvest which would begin about the end of the first week in August. Crops after summer follows are distinctly superior to those prepared by fall or spring ploughing.

Converting the figures of the standard condition at July thirty-one into those of a scale wherein one hundred represents the average condition at July 31 for the six years 1908 to 1913 the condition for fall wheat is 90, for spring wheat 93, for oats 89, for barley 92 and for rye 94. That is to say the yield per acre this year is expected to be for fall wheat 10, for spring wheat 7, for oats 11, for barley 8 and for rye 6 per cent. below the six year average.

Potatoes in the Maritime Provinces give an excellent promise with figures of condition ranging from 93 to 96.

A preliminary estimate of the yield per acre of fall wheat gives 20.95 bushels as compared with 23.29 bushel wheat in the five provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, amounting to 973,300 acres the estimated total yield is 20,394,070 bushels as compared with 22,592,000 bushels, the final estimate of 1913. The drought has naturally effected the yield of hay and clover, the yield per acre of which for all Canada is, according to the preliminary estimate 1.15 tons as against 1.33 to the final estimate of 1913. The estimated today yield is 9,206,000 as compared with 11,859,000 tons the final estimate of 1913. The yield of Alfalfa is placed at 129,780 tons.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

For five years John Henry had been keeping company with Hannah May, but at once in all that time had he whistled any tune that sounded like a wedding march.

One evening, however, John Henry came to the house looking as if he might propose and a great hope filled the heart of the fair one. Hope developed into certainty when the young man drew a small jeweller's box from his vest pocket.

"Hannah, dear," began John Henry, in a gentle voice, "I have brought you a little present but I am afraid it won't fit your finger. Will you try it on?"

"Oh, John!" ecstatically cried the dear one, "do you really mean to say that you have bought me—"

"Yes," was the rejoinder of John, as he handed over the box, "a thimble. I knew you would guess it the first time."

NOT ON THE MAP.

Mrs. Norman has a maid, Jane, who had a lover in the army. One day, after receiving a letter from him, she sought her mistress and asked if she might see a map. A while after she returned to Mrs. Norman again and said she could not find the place where her lover was.

"Where is he?" asked the mistress. "Duranceville," replied Jane after another careful perusal of the letter.

Mrs. Norman searched the map but no such place could be found.

"Jane," she said, "please let me see the part of the letter which gives the name of the place where he is."

Jane complied and Mrs. Norman read:

"I am in durance vile but hope soon to be sent home."—National Monthly.

The Straight Line in Creating Demand

"A Straight Line is the Shortest Distance between Two Points"

Whatever troubles old Euclid gave us in our schooldays his axioms were simple enough. In our business life to-day we show a lively appreciation of the truth of this axiom in cutting out superfluous efforts—in the saving of time and labor.

In making goods the straight line is "efficiency." It is the shortest distance between raw material and finished product.

In Selling Goods, the straight line is Newspaper Advertising.

It is the shortest distance between the seller and the buyer. Some manufacturers are applying the straight line in the making of their goods, but neglecting it in the selling of them. Some have no line of communication with the consumer at all—many let their message meander along by-paths of "chance acquaintanceship" instead of telegraphing it along the straight line of Newspaper Advertising.

Newspaper Advertising is the Shortest Distance between the two points of "Supply" and "Demand."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this Newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
