A WEALTH OF IGNORANCE

While presiding over a church conference a speaker began a tirade against the universities and education, expressing thankfulness that he had never been corrupted by tact with a college. After proceeding for a few minutes, the bishop interrupted with the question.

"Do I understand that Mr. B. is thankful for his ignorance?"

"Well, yes," was the answer, "you can put it that way if you like."

"Well, all I have to say," said the prelate in sweet and musical voice, "all I have to say is that Mr. B. has much to be thankful for."—The Argonaut.

C. K. HOWARD'S EVIDENCE

Q.—Twice as much as the value shown by the evidence?

A.—Perhaps not; we did not have our evidence in good shape.

Mr. Carvell—This man comes here and condemns everyone and now he says they did not have the evidence.

Q.—You have said that when I appeared on the scene the prices went up. Did you buy any land off me?

A.—Yes, five acres for $75.00.

Q.—Did I get more than the land was worth?

A.—No, I don't think so.

Mr. Guthrie—Did you give him a drink from that bottle?

A.—No, he would not drink with me. (Laughter.)

Q.—Do you know of any man whom I influenced to fight the railway or to refuse a settlement?

A.—No, I don't know that I do.

C.—Do you know that I made an offer to the company to settle every case for them on the sixty miles between Eel River and River de Chute.

A.—No, I do not.

Q.—You went to see Patrick Kennedy with Mr. Connor?

A.—Yes.

Q.—And had the bottle of whisky?

A.—If you are trying to say that I bought right-of-way with a drink of whisky you are mistaken. Why don't you tell about taking McBride to your house to get him to fight the railway?

Mr. Carvell—If you have been told that I induced McBride or anyone else to fight a case you have been told what is absolutely false.

After some further discussion about awards Mr. Carvell asked:

"Are you going to say that you did not get justice from Judge McLeod?"

A. (emphatically)—I am not going to say anything about the judges. (Laughter.)

Q.—Do you know that your records show that you paid a member of the government $56 to go to Judge Carleton and ask him not to appoint Mr. Stevens as arbitrator.

A.—No.

Q.—Or that the same sum was paid to the same man to ask Judge Carleton not to appoint Mr. Ferguson in another case?

A.—I did not.

Q.—Do you know that Mr. McLeod suggested the name of Mr. Holland and that he went to Mr. Holland and offered him the appointment if he would not give an award of more than the company offered?

A.—I do not.

Mr. Teed—How can you come here and ask such questions of the witnesses.

Mr. Carvell—I can prove it by Judge Carleton, McLeod and Mr. Holland.

Mr. Teed—Well, call them, then.

Mr. Carvell—I just want to show what methods were employed and I have only told a small part of what I know.

This completed Mr. Howard's evidence and the court took recess.

Slight Misunderstanding

Drowsily the hotel manager turned in his bed.

Whirr, whirr rang the telephone. Muttering something very low, he reached out for the receiver.

"Send someone up to Room 77 at once," came the voice of old Mrs. Moneybags.

"I trust you are not ill, madam?" he inquired.

"I soon shall be if something is not done!" replied the old lady, in excited tones.

Hurriedly dressing, the manager went to Room 77.

"Now, listen!" said the old lady in wrathful key. "What is that noise overhead. It has been going on for the last two hours, and has nearly driven me mad."

"I cannot understand it, madam, answered the manager, listening curiously, to the bumps and bang overhead. "The gentleman in that room is ill."

Quickly he ran upstairs, and inquired the cause of the disturbance. The occupier of the room was a Frenchman.

"It ees the medicine, m'sier," he explained, on being questioned. "The doctor did say, 'Take two nights running, then skip a night.' M'sieur, pardon, but I was doing the thing!"

WERE GOT VEGETARIANS

The subject of vegetarianism has been the chief topic of discussion among the members of a Pleasant St. family lately and the head of the family has been trying to impress it upon the younger fry that it is better for them not to eat much meat during the warm season.

A few days ago some of the youngsters were out after blueberries and one of the little lads took his stand on a small knoll which was inhabited by a colony of ants.

Soon after his sister noticed that he seemed to be decidedly uncomfortable, to say the least.

"What's the matter?" she called out to him.

"Oh, nothin'," was the reply. "Only them ants ain't vegetarians"—Brockton Enterprise.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

THE floors and doors appear to wait until the dust germs congregate; the housewife hails each dawning day with grim and harrowing dismay. Says she: "My work will NEVER end; over dusty stretches I must bend, until, with aching back and hands I finish what the day demands."

The Floor-and-Door-a Girl

work and the endless doors, until when Hubby saw them, too, reflections said: "Why, howdy-do!"

"The Gold Dust Twins," said she, "I find, help leave the woes of dust behind. Each mark of sticky hands on doors, each tread of muddy feet on floors, all fade before the slightest touch of Gold Dust, and the work is such that, when the woodwork has been done, I find said work was only fun." This line of reasoning must show that those who've tried it OUGHT to know. If you, in one day's duties, find that there's a Grouch in every Grind, invite the Gold Dust Twins to share such tasks as tire and fret and wear.

From kitchen floor to bedroom suite, these tireless little chaps make neat, and best of all, the sum expense is measured up in meager cents. They put both dust and dirt to rout and run the last old microbe out.
