A CHEAP OUTFIT

The Tory grafters and their repile press hate Mr. Carvell and not without reason. Last winter when Mr. Dugal preferred his charges in the Legislature and the government sought to shelve them by proroguing the House, Mr. Carvell went straight to the Lieutenant Governor, and presented certain facts to His Honor the outcome of which was that the government's little scheme was nipped in the bud. After the Royal Commission had finished its labors and handed in its report another little scheme was hatched to keep the document from the public until the meeting of the Legislature. Mr. Carvell again got busy and demanded that the report be made public forthwith. The result was an unconditional surrender on the part of the government. The "cheap outfit" now ruling this province has no initiative; it always sits back and waits for somebody to tell it what to do. The members are very anxious to unload Premier Flemming, but they do not know how to go about it. They have decided to wait until after next week's banquet with the hope that Mr. Carvell may drop a few suggestions upon which they can act. In the meantime the individual members are going about declaring in private conversation that they will positively quit the government if Flemming returns to duty as premier.

Boston Record.—With exuberance of joy and enthusiasm we note that the British $1,750,000,000 war loan has been heavily subscribed for by the royal family. The Prince of Wales took $2,500,000 of stock, and King George $5,000,000, but it is understood that one-quarter of this stock is intended for the Queen of Spain and another quarter for ex-Empress Eugenie. Princess Henry of Battenburg is taking $850,000. Bankers with German connections between them applied for $30,000,000. So far we don't hear much of an "over-the-counter" subscription, or of a rush of the "common people" to clip in. But they'll clip in, and cash in, with due generosity and sufficiency. The men who handle the guns and do the real "war work" is supported by the other heavy work of war. And they don't reap much except a place in the ditch, good before and after.

Philadelphia Record.—Krupps' dividend has been cut from fourteen per cent. down to twelve per cent. as a result of the war, it is stated. This seems to be the reverse of what one might expect—these should be boom times for gunmakers. A partial explanation may be found in the setting aside of the company of $1,500,000 to various relief and pension funds for its employees. And a boom in business is indicated by the increase of the company's capital stock from $17,000,000 to $62,500,000.

Boston Record.—Mr. Filene, at Paris, observes that the Belgian people "though overpowered, are not conquered." No, nor will they be conquered. Whatever the sophistries about the fortunes of war and military exigencies, the world is pretty well united in condemning the treatment of Belgium; and it is no violation of neutrality to have sympathy for the Belgians, if they choose to pay in kind, the world may deplore the further tragedy, but it won't be surprised.

The Turks are getting into the "official dispatches," with the result that their reports are all that could be expected. The Turk has no conscientious scruples about accuracy and truth. He has had no reverses in any telegrams he has sent out, and is not likely to have until he is chased out of Europe, a future that seems to await him with something like fatal certainty.

Hon. W. G. Mitchell the now provincial treasurer of Quebec, has been elected by acclamation in the county of Richmond.

WHEN RHEUMATISM STRIKES THE HEART IT KILLS---"NERVILINE" THE CURE

Effect of Nerviline on Chronic Cases is Almost Magical

Exposure to wet or cold is apt to bring on an attack.

The muscles stiffen, the joints swell, and exertion brings on excruciating twinges.

Often the pain shifts from one part to another, and this is dangerous, as the heart is apt to be attacked. Death as a rule follows a heart attack.

The pain of rheumatism is quickly rubbed away with Nerviline.

This is a swift, lasting, and safe way to cure rheumatism. You can depend on Nerviline. It has the power, the penetrating force, the control over pain that is so essential to a rheumatic remedy.

Lots of testimony to prove Nerviline's certainty to cure.

The following letter is from Mr. E. G. Sautter, Port of Spain, Trinidad: "Last year I was severely troubled with rheumatism. I had it in my arms, shoulders and knees. The pain was at times excruciating, and laid me up so that I couldn't work. I went to Smith Brothers' Drug Store and was advised by the manager to use 'Nerviline.' That was excellent advice. I used Nerviline as directed and was cured, completely cured of every trace of my old enemy."

Once you use Nerviline you'll realize it's different from all the others—that it contains something that gets right "at" the pain the minute you rub it on. The large 50 cent family size is the most economical—get it today, or else the 25 cent trial size. Sold by dealers everywhere or the Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Canada.

MUNICIPALITIES

dislocation it would entail that they realize their mistake."

Mr. Armstrong advocated the formation of "boys' councils" in the higher schools, which could be conducted like debating classes. This would help to instill into the minds of the boys a loyalty for their city. He would encourage them to take an interest in its welfare, the cleanliness of the streets, the beauty of its parks and squares, in its good order and good name, and in its general betterment. There was, he thought, room for the development of this idea in every city in Canada. That it would be a potent factor toward building up a better and more useful type of citizen there could be no doubt.

"It would establish a new viewpoint that we stand much in need of in Canada today."

Concluding with a reference to the effect of the war, Mr. Armstrong remarked:

"We realize now as never before the necessity for a strong, virile and a pure manhood. That manhood cannot be obtained unless we keep constantly before our boys and our young men lofty ideals of life and of citizenship and inculcate into them a true conception of their duty toward themselves, towards the community and towards the empire at large."

Mayor Mitchell, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Armstrong, remarked that there was an unfortunate feeling in the older cities of Canada that the haphazard way of building cities had gone so far that it could not be remedied. It was the duty of that union to tackle the problem and so help to educate the people.

Commissioner Potts, in seconding, suggested that the school teaching of civics could not be started too soon. He instanced the behavior of children in keeping the streets and parks clean and warmly thanked Mr. Armstrong for a most valuable paper.

An interesting discussion also took place on the paper of Mr. Lingley, in which valuable suggestions were put forward by M. Osborne and J. King Kelley. K.C.

MILK PROBLEM

Dr. G. G. Melvin, St. John, public health officer, read an instructive paper on Public Health Needs of the Province. It covered a wide field.

Commissioner Wigmore moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Melvin for his paper and paid a tribute to the work done by him in the sanitation of St. John. He thought that the commissioner of water and sewerage should be a member of the Board of Health for his usefulness would thereby be greatly increased.

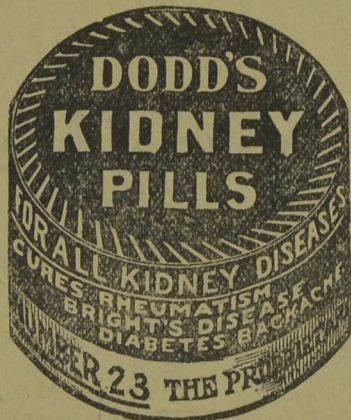

Mayor Mitchell seconded. Speaking of the importance of pure water had been proved to the City of Fredericton.

Mayor Frink also took part in the discussion, pointing out that there were difficulties in the way of making more detailed reports of vital statistics.

F. St. John Bliss of Fredericton, also spoke.

The convention then adjourned.

In the evening W. F. Burditt read an exhaustive paper on town planning. This was splendidly illustrated with lantern views of some of the most progressive schemes in the world and was a revelation of the enormous strides that have already been made in this newest of civil sciences.

Eleven men responded to the call for recruits.

BIG FEATURES AT GAIETY.

The remarkably sensational serial, "The Trey O' Hearts," was shown to capacity crowds at the Gaiety Theatre last evening and standing room only was the rule of the evening. The second chapter, entitled "White Water," was decidedly thrilling and held the audience spell bound. The same program will be repeated today. All persons who want to see this great serial should make it a point to attend today's show and they will see the synopsis of the preceding chapters.

EIGHTEEN VOLUNTEERS ENLIST

The recruiting meeting which was held in the Unique Theatre last evening for the purpose of stimulating recruiting in this district has apparently had the desired effect for up until late this afternoon no less than eighteen volunteers had enlisted for overseas service with the 26th New Brunswick Infantry Regiment. ## JUDGMENTS DELIVERED

IN COUNTY COURT CASES

In chambers this morning His Honor Judge Wilson handed down judgments in four cases recently tried before him at the County Court.

In the case of George Moore vs. J. E. Giles, His Honor found for the plaintiff. The action was brought to recover the amount of a promissory note for $67. The defence set up was that the note was part of a note for $267 made up of borrowed money and a gambling debt. The original note was transferred to a St. John man, who sued and recovered the amount in court. Moore claimed that the note of $67 was given for horse hire. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for $67 and costs.

In the case of John E. Sullivan vs. J. E. Giles, His Honor also found for the plaintiff in the sum of $167 and costs. A similar defence was set up in this case but it seems that the defendant has taken up the old note with a new one but had neglected to pay the same on maturity.

In the case of Rainford vs. Williams, His Honor set aside the verdict of the jury in favor of the plaintiff and ordered a non-suit. The action was to recover payment for a quantity of hay sold and delivered, but it seems that there was no contract or agreement. His Honor held that the action should have been one of trover and not on a contract of sale.

In the case of Mrs. Sophia Edgecombe vs. Mrs. Crowe, His Honor found for the defendant. It seems that Mrs. Edgecombe held a mortgage on the property of Mrs. Crowe at New Maryland and had advertised to foreclose the same. On the day the sale was to have taken place Mr. W. J. Edgecombe wrote the defendant offering her a life interest in eight acres of land on condition that she would deed the farm to his wife. Some hitch occurred and the agreement was never executed. The plaintiff sought to have the defendant sum marily elected under the landlord and tenant act. His Honor held that the defendant was not a tenant within the meaning of the act and dismissed the summons.

WITH THE MEDICAL CORPS

Mr. Henry Masters, of Cape Breton a student at the University of New Brunswick, has enlisted for active service with No. 8 Field Ambulance Corps, C.A.M.C., and will leave for St. John tomorrow morning.

GERMAN STAFF DRIVEN OUT.

Paris, Nov. 23.—According to an official statement, French artillery succeeded last night in getting the range of a Chateau, south of Dixmude, where the German general staff was installed. The French shells compelled twenty officers to run.

Remarkable as it may seem when the Dugal report was made public, not a single Tory paper thought it worth while to trot out Premier Flemming's picture. This is a little strange, considering the fact according to their version, that the premier was "completely vindicated."
