The Mayoralty Election

Ald. Ebbett called for the motion. It was on account of difference in the opinion of lawyers that the Council was there on the order of the court.

NOT THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

Ald. Lemont said he was not prepared to take the opinion of Mr. Gregory as if it were that of the Privy Council. Some aldermen had changed their minds after hearing Mr. Gregory. He knew of two who had.

Ald. Ebbett—"Name the men."
Ald. Lemont—"You were one."
Ald. Ebbett—"I was not."
Ald. Lemont—"I must have misunderstood you then."

Ald. McKnight said all ballots should be counted but he did not believe the law would allow it.

Ald. Walker thought Mr. Gregory's suggestion to make a return to the court was good.

Ald. Lemont strongly favored following Mr. Gregory's suggestion in order to avoid the present difficulty.

MR. GREGORY ADVISES LEGAL OPINION.

Mr. Gregory advised that the ballots be counted and checked up and then seek legal opinion, not off-hand legal opinion, but paid legal opinion. He did not think much of off-hand legal opinion expressed in committee rooms, although he did not wish to intimate that Recorder Baxter's off-hand opinion was not better than his own studied opinion. However, that was not the usual mode of procedure in getting legal opinion.

WITHDRAWN AND RESUBMITTED.

Both motion and amendment were withdrawn.

Ald. Reid moved that the suggestion of Mr. Gregory to record all ballots and make a return to the court be adopted.

Mr. Gregory wished it understood that he was not advising the Council in the matter. The course was not the right one but it was a way to avoid difficulty.

Ald. Ebbett said that he did not feel like incurring more expense in carrying the matter to a court.

Mayor Mitchell—"That's not your fault."

Ald. Ebbett—"It will be if I vote for it."

Mayor Mitchell—"You're not responsible for the investigation."

Ald. Osborne said he had withdrawn his amendment in order to avoid difficulty but if expense was to be incurred he would press his amendment.

Ald. Reid said that in view of this change of opinion he would press for his original motion.

The amendment was defeated on the following vote:

Yea—Everett, Lemont, Osborne, Walker.

Nay—McKnight, Wilkinson, Ebbett, Stevenson, Reid.

ANOTHER BRUSH.

Ald. Wilkinson protested that the chairman should not vote.

Mayor Mitchell asked sharply what the alderman meant. The chairman had not voted.

Ald. Wilkinson apologized. The motion was carried on the same vote reversed.

On the motion of Ald. Ebbett, Mayor Mitchell appointed officers to count the ballots.

WANTS TO BE PRESENT.

Mr. Gregory claimed the right to be present as counsel for ex-Ald. Farrell. He said it was not because of lack of confidence in the aldermen. He wanted to have the data for his client. This was not like an election. He did not object to the count being open to the public. Mr. Farrell also should be present.

Mayor Mitchell claimed that the order of the court did not order that the investigation should be held by any one but the City Council. As far as that was concerned, he should be provided with counsel to be present when the count was made if Mr. Farrell and his counsel insisted upon being present.

Ald. Wilkinson thought it best for the mayor to have counsel.

Ald. Lemont—"If Mr. Gregory is to be present it must be on the understanding that he is not to interfere or offer suggestions."

Mayor Mitchell—"In view of the development I should be furnished with counsel. This matter of admitting Mr. Gregory is entirely in the hands of the City Council."

Ald. Lemont—"I am surprised that the city solicitor is not present."

Ald. Walker—"I may point out that ex-Ald. Farrell and his counsel are here tonight on the personal invitation of the mayor."

Mr. Gregory stated that he had received such an invitation but would have expected notice of the meeting anyway.

Mr. Farrell said Ald. Walker had not been quite correct. The mayor had not invited him to attend.

Ald. Walker—"The invitation was given to Mr. Gregory for himself and his client."

Ex-Ald. Farrell—"I saw by the press that this was to be an adjourned meeting and as such it may be attended by any citizen."

ALD. EBBETT'S MOTION.

Ald. Ebbett moved that Mr. Farrell and his counsel be present and that His Worship be present with counsel if he so wished.

THE MAYOR'S STATEMENT.

"This is not my protest," said Mayor Mitchell. "I WAS ELECTED BY THE CITIZENS, DECLARED ELECTED, BY PROPERLY APPOINTED OFFICIALS, ANNOUNCED AS ELECTED BY THE CITY CLERK AND SWORN IN BY HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. I AM THE MAYOR OF FREDERICTON AND AS SUCH AM ENTITLED TO PROTECTION. If the aldermen wish to go ahead and count the ballots I wish to announce

SCORES BOOST IN THE INCOME TAXES

London, May 6—The characteristic recklessness, generally attributed to Lloyd George by his opponents is being forcibly reiterated in regard to the budget. On all sides its colossal daring is admitted, although widely divergent views as to the soundness or lack of soundness of its principles are being expressed. The chief complaint of the opposition is that a policy of direct taxation is being adopted without apology, while the inroad upon the sinking fund in the absence of any special national emergency is loudly condemned.

The Pall Mall Gazette declares that Lloyd George threatens to exhaust those sources of income which the chancellors of the past have held in reserve for the national emergency. "The deliberately set himself to see how far he can load the camel before the breaking point is reached."

FARMERS OF DENMARK HAVE MET QUESTION OF COST OF LIVING

"If intensive farming coupled with co-operation, could be carried on in any state of the Union with half the scientific application of the Danes there would be no such problem in this country as the high cost of living," said Dr. Maurice Francis Egan, American minister to Denmark, at the Wolcott yesterday.

"By co-operation the Danes have brought under control the exorbitant demands of the middleman. The climate of Denmark is the worst in the whole of Europe, and the soil of the country is by nature admittedly the worst, and yet those disadvantages given them by nature, the Danish farmers have solved by tackling their problem scientifically."

"I venture to say that the abandoned farms in Massachusetts alone could be put under the direction of competent Danes, they could be made so yield food enough to supply the whole of New England."

"The farms in certain sections of the East are exhausted because the farmers themselves have exhausted them. But it can be restored. That has been done in Denmark. In 1848 the soil of that country had been exhausted by over-cultivation of wheat."

"But so well have the farmers come to understand their work that Denmark, though small, has become a great agricultural country. Condition over there now are excellent. The demand for bacon, butter and eggs in England can hardly be supplied, and the market for Danish bacon in Germany has increased enormously."

"Nowhere else have the possibilities of the small farmer been developed as in Denmark. The tendency over there is to cut up the great estates into small tracts and work these intensively. In Denmark a family can make a very good living out of twenty acres. These would be devoted to raising cows and peas, and perhaps some chickens. There would probably be half a dozen cows. You see, there are only fourteen weeks when cows can feed in the open, and on the place 'qual' ties of sugar beets and mangel wurzel—big beets—are raised. Then the farmers import through corporations the very best fertilizers at low prices, such as, if bought by them as individuals would cost a great deal of money."

NO GREAT LAND SYNDICATES

"One of the beauties about Denmark is that great food syndicates are impossible. Everybody believes that the soil exists for the subsistence of the individual and for his comfort, and public opinion is against large holdings."

"However, in spite of Denmark being a cultural, Copenhagen has grown entirely too large for the rest of the country, and the cities are expanding at the expense of the agricultural districts, though not at a rate which affects production. Regars are few, and everything is done to care for the poor. The simplicity of national life is against display, and wealth is very well distributed. In Denmark the wealth per capita is greater than in any other country in the world."

that I will not be present when the ballots are counted."

Ald. Lemont said that the city should provide counsel for the mayor.

Ald. Ebbett said the city clerk was the city's counsel and should act for the mayor.

Ald. Osborne and Ald. McKnight were of the same mind.

Ald. Reid said it made no difference whether counsel was present or not.

Ald. Everett proposed that the returning-officers retire by themselves. It was not necessary that Mr. Gregory be present.

Mr. Gregory stated it was the first time it had been proposed to exclude a claimant from an investigation.

POSTPONEMENT ADVISED.

Ald. Lemont advised postponement. It had been thought the city had had enough of lawyers and it had been thought the Council could act alone in the investigation. The plan had been entirely upset and other matters brought in. It was certainly right that the mayor have counsel.

Mayor Mitchell said that he was entirely in his right in demanding that the City Council furnish him with counsel if ex-Ald. Farrell and his counsel were to be present at the recount.

Ald. Ebbett said the intent of his motion was that the city solicitor represent the mayor if the latter so desired.

His motion was put with that understanding.

Ald. Reid moved in amendment that the Council proceed to recount the ballots and that no person except members of the City Council interfere with the counting of the ballots.

In amendment to the amendment, Ald. Lemont moved that the mayor be authorized to procure counsel to be present to represent the city.

The amendment, to the amendment was carried.

Ald. Lemont suggested that a meeting in committee be arranged for the recount.

On Ald. Reid's motion it was decided to meet in committee Monday night to make the recount with both counsel present and ex-Ald. Farrell also.
