FOOD AND EVOLUTION

A Professor Attributes Man's Development to Dietary Causes

Tracing the evolution of man from the anthropoids, Prof. Carveth Reed, in a British Association paper, showed that the prominent differences all arose from a change of food. When some, or even one, of the fruit-eating apes of the forest acquired a taste for animal food sufficiently strong to lead to persistent seeking for it, then a new habit was formed, and it brought remarkable results.

The beast of prey would be able to live on the ground and to go beyond the forest. He would join other animals in hunting—especially in hunting big game—and from co-operation would arise communication leading to articulate speech. The food supply being more regular through the year, the seasonable marriage and birth time would cease.

The new life would be the great increase in knowledge and intelligence, for a higher skill was required to catch a rabbit than to pick a banana, and he would have to learn the different animals and how to track them. He would evolve the use of weapons and snares. The best hunter would follow his prey on the ground and on foot, and the great gait would become normal, the legs becoming lengthened, the arms shortened, the feet specialized, and the hands developed.

The flesh diet would bring shortening of the alimentary canal, while great variability in stature, size of brain and shape of skull would result. Cannibalism may have been simply the inclusion of fces, in the game eaten, and is a mark of the experimental stage of human development instead of being a general practice of true carnivores.

HEART WAS SO BAD
Could Not Do
Her Housework

Many women get run down and are unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung. To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes: "I thought it my duty to write you how much your Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart was so bad I could not sleep, eat nor walk about the house. I could not do my household work, and what my husband could do I had to go and do. I had two children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills some years ago, and insisted on me trying them, so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble should just give your pills a trial. If anyone cares to write me I will gladly give them all the information I know, concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ours is not born to fall short of the complete happiness. Oh, how fortunate for me was that idle impulse that turned me up the canon instead of down, for if it had not been for that there would have been no meeting."

She stopped suddenly, her face aflame at the thought of the conditions of that meeting; she must needs hide her face on his shoulder.

He laughed gayly.

"My little spirit of the fountain, my love, my wife that is to be! Did you know that your father had done me the honor to give me your hand, subject to the condition that your heart goes with it?"

"You took that first," answered the woman looking up at him again.

There was a knock on the door. Without waiting for permission it was opened; this time three men entered, for old Kirkby had joined the group. The blushing maid made an impulsive movement to tear herself away from Newbold's arms, but he shamefully held her close. The three men looked at the two lovers solemnly for a moment and then broke into laughter. It was Kirkby who spoke first.

"I hear as how you found gold in these mountains, Mr. Newbold."

"I found something far more valuable than all the gold in Colorado in these mountains," answered the other.

"And what was that?" asked the old frontiersman, curiously and innocently.

"This!" answered Newbold as he kissed the girl again.

(THE END.)

AN ANCIENT GAME

Mrs. Rogers had the barrel of russet apples placed in the attic because they were not quite ripe enough to eat, and she warned her three boys, whose ages range from five to eleven years, not to touch them.

Then, one rainy day, when she sought the attic to get something from a trunk, she came full upon her sons, surrounded by apple-cores. At her approach two of the boys drew closer together; but the third, a little distance off, who lay on his stomach contentedly munching an apple, apparently paid no attention to his mother's entrance.

"Jack! Henry! William!" she exclaimed, reproachfully. "Whatever are you doing? And those apples! Didn't I tell you not to touch them?"

"Yes, mamma," replied Jack, the eldest, "but we're not really eating them; we're acting the Garden of Eden. While and I are Adam and Eve. Henry, over there, is the serpent, trying to lead us to our downfall by showing us how good the apples are."

"But," began the mother, as sternly as she was able, "you two must have been eating apples; Henry hasn't done it all. I see as many as ten cores around you."

"Oh, yes," returned Willie, the youngest, "we've all been taking turns being the serpent."

SETTIN'

A farmer was sawing wood, when it occurred to him that he ought to have the help of one or more of his five sons. Lifting up his voice, he called, but not a boy appeared. At dinner, of course, they all appeared.

"Where were you all about two hours ago, when I wanted and called for you?"

"I was in the shop settin' the saw," said one.

"And I was in the barn settin' a hen," said the second.

"I was in grandma's room, settin' the clock," said the third.

"I was in the garret, settin' the trap," said the fourth.

"You are a remarkable set!" remarked the farmer. "And where were you?" he asked of the youngest.

"I was on the doorstep, settin' still!"

A WEAK CHEST

"What's become of old Sammy Slick? I ain't seen 'im about for quite a long time."

"What? Ain't you 'eard? A two-ton block of stone fell on his chest and killed 'im."

"Ah! I always said he'd 'ave to be very careful with that weak chest of his'n."

AN OLD SETTLER
FINDS QUICK RELIEF

Chas. Marshall Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills—Mrs. Marshall Tells How Her Husband Suffered and of His Speedy Recovery

Parkinson, Algoma, Ont., Feb. 20—(Special).—Living far from towns and with doctors not within easy reach, many of the settlers have found Dodd's Kidney Pills an inestimable blessing. One of those is Mr. Charles Marshall, Sr., whose recovery from a severe case of kidney disease has recently been the cause of much satisfaction to his family and friends.

"My husband was suffering very much with his back and legs," Mrs. Marshall says, speaking of her husband's cure. "He went to see the doctor, and he told him he had urinary trouble, but he did not seem to get any better."

Then I sent for some Dodd's Kidney Pills. Since taking them he has no more pain in his back and legs, and his troubles are all gone."

"I am indeed thankful for what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for my husband, and hope other sufferers from kidney disease will benefit by his experience, and use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Urinary troubles are caused by diseased kidneys. So are backache, rheumatism, lumbago and heart disease. The natural remedy is to cure the kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

JAKE STAHL NOT YET
SIGNED BY BROOKLYN

Chicago, Feb. 20—The Brooklyn Club of the Federal League has failed in its efforts to get Jake Stahl, the former Red Sox leader, as manager. President Ward left Chicago tonight for Brooklyn, after a final telephone conversation with Stahl, in which neither Ward nor the former Red Sox manager made concessions which would remove the differences in the terms proposed.

It is said that Stahl's terms are still being considered by the Brooklyn owner and that a deal may yet be arranged between them.

CAN-DID

Visitor:—"Can I see the mistress?"

Servant:—"Yes, sir."

Visitor:—"Well, I am selling this can-opener, and it can open any can that can be opened by a can-opener, and if you can show me a can I can—"

But the door was shut.

HIS BALD HEAD

A very bald-headed man went into a barber's shop and, plumping himself down in the chair, said: "Hair cut!"

The barber looked at him a moment and replied: "Why, man, you don't need no hair cut—what you want is shine!"

WOMAN'S AILMENTS
CAUSED BY NEGLECT

Proper Treatment Will Quickly Bring Back Robust Health and Good Spirits

Women are on the whole more sickly than men. One reason is that their system is more complicated; another and more important reason is they put off measures of relief too long. At the beginning, constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of women's ailments. The blood becomes weakened and polluted—the nerves suffer and a run-down condition takes root.

Because of their mildness of action as a system regulator, no medicine for woman can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The kidneys quickly respond to the remedial action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and the result is as you would expect—pain in the back and side, shortness of breath and bad color disappear—the functions of the body then operate naturally, congestion and pain are prevented and perfect health returns.

Thousands of happy women say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest and best blood-purifier, the finest complexion renewer, the most certain regulating medicine known. Sold by all druggists and store-keepers, 25c. per box, five for $1.00 postpaid. The Catarthozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.
