MISREPRESENTATION

"Members of the government announced that they were ready to go on with the debate tonight, but Mr. Dugal began to spar for time, and when the government consented to have the matter laid over till tomorrow, the leader of the opposition asked that the debate be postponed till Friday. The government endeavored to have the matter considered before that time but Mr. Dugal could not be persuaded to agree to this and it was finally decided to continue the debate on Friday."

The acting leader of the government told Mr. Dugal this morning the above statement was neither fair nor accurate and it would correct it when the House assembled. But how desperate must be the case of the grafters when they resort to such falsehoods to deceive the public.

PLEAS FOR SYMPATHY.

There have been many pleas for sympathy for Premier Flemming and his family because of his illness and for other reasons and there was some disposition on the part of some of his opponents to let him off as easily as the public interests would admit, but the methods pursued by the political vampires who hate to see honest rising triumphant will probably defeat the efforts of those who know the facts, who see political disaster and ruin in the future and who are asking for mercy for those who have done such a great wrong.

STANDS FOR FRIDAY.

The notices of motion of Mr. Dugal in regard to the timber bonuses and the Valley railway stand over until Friday by consent.

It is evident from the statements made by private members that the government has not made up its mind what to do. The reckless course of Thursday evening last seems to have been checked.

Public opinion and the advice of men high in the councils of the party have saved the province for the time. The bill guaranteeing two million dollars more of bonds for Mr. Gould was not heard of last night, and it would not be surprising if there were important alterations made in the measure before it is placed among the statutes. The reliance placed upon the wisdom of the chief executive has evidently not been misplaced.

The opinion of the country, the voice of the people have found the ears of the members during the Easter recess, and only the most reckless among them will not pay heed.

All interest still centered in the charges made by Mr. Dugal against Premier Flemming. They, too, stand until Friday, and the consensus of opinion is that a royal commission should be appointed to investigate the charges.

The attempt to cloud the present issue by proposing to investigate the timber business in the past is not misunderstood. The charges against the present crown land administration cannot be sidetracked by this method. After their investigation let everything be known as to methods of the past if any improvement is promised by such an inquiry; but since March 3, 1908, the present government has had three years of opportunity to make political capital if they wished out of the methods of their predecessors, and, beyond a few complaints, they have not made any success out of it. All the time that they claimed the revenues of the province from crown lands had not been increased as they should under the former surveyor-generals, their own officials have been pursuing different and more drastic methods, the outcome of which are the serious charges against their leader in the House today.

What will happen no one attempts to prophesy. The bold denials, the indignant protests of the government supporters are heard no longer. There has evidently been a great change. Men with accurate knowledge of all the circumstances have been heard from, and this may account for the silence and down-hearted demeanor of the forty-three members who support the government in the absence of their premier.

RECONSTRUCTION TALK.

Reconstruction is openly talked of on the streets in the corridors of the house and in the lobbies of the hotels. Who will be premier—Clark, Baxter? The former has never permitted ambition to predominate with him, and his friends feel that he was not taken into the entire confidence of his premier when he was required to enter the government. Mr. Baxter would like to be premier and attorney general, or attorney-general only at a pinch, but the latter would involve a by-election in St. John County, a prospect which in the present state of the public mind his friends do not regard with any satisfaction. Many of the members are consulting now as to what is best to be done. They are not looking forward to the investigation with any pleasure.

The facts are rushing forth in all directions and those who profess to now say that when they are told on the witness stand, all Canada will ber. And one would think, according to the Liberals, that after September 21, 1911, a great fog had settled down upon Western Canada."

Mr. Wilcox incidentally assured his hearers that Liberalism had been "on the wrong side of every great question since confederation."

"And, finally," added Mr. Wilcox, to clinch his argument, "if there's anything I abhor, it's seeing the Liberals ballyragging the manufacturers with hot air and shaking hands with them on the street."

HON. MR. LEMIEUX.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who followed, said Conservatism represented reaction, while Liberalism meant progress. This was demonstrated by the budget statement of the minister of finance, which was most reactionary. It constituted a complete surrender to the interests and the manufacturers. The country had been anxiously awaiting a downward revision of the tariff and had got an upward revision instead. The door had been banged, barred and closed on the consumers, who would get a stone in the form of a blue book to be issued later by the commission on the high cost of living. The farmer had received a cold shoulder. The budget might well be described by the historical saying: "It is worse than a crime, it is a blunder."

The minister of finance, Mr. Lemieux declared, had committed the government definitely to a policy of high protection. He had thrown in a few sneers for those who think that reciprocity would not have been a bad thing for Canada. It would no doubt, be popular for Conservatives for some time to come to sneer at reciprocity, but when they did this they sneered at Sir John Macdonald who was always an ardent advocate of reciprocal trade between Canada and the United States.

When the Conservatives left office in 1896 there was a deficit. When the Liberals went out of office in 1911 they left a surplus of more than $30,000,000. During the fourteen year Canadian trade trebled, while the trade with Great Britain was greatly increased. The per capita income of trade was the largest of all the trading nations of the world.

Mr. Lemieux said that today the people of the west wanted an increase in the British preference. Mr. Ames professed to be a great imperialist. Would he as an imperialist ask his party to increase this preference?

Touching briefly on the naval question, Mr. Lemieux said it was gratifying to know that the position taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the imperial conference of 1911 was the position which is today being adhered to by the government.

Mr. Armstrong moved the adjournment of the debate which will be continued tomorrow. The House then adjourned shortly before mid night.

ZAM-BUK SAVED HIS FINGER

WHEN BLOOD POISONING FOLLOWED A CUT

Mr. Albert Brennan, butcher of 141 Lindsay Ave., Toronto, has good cause to be thankful for Zam-Buk! While at work, he cut the middle finger of the left hand. Some disease germs—of which the air is full—entered the wound, and next day the finger was painful and swollen. He bathed it in hot water and applied some ordinary ointment, but the pain got worse, and the swelling continued. Not only so, but the area of the inflammation extended, until from finger to elbow was inflamed and sore and he knew that blood poisoning had set in. He had to give up his ordinary work, and suffered acute pain.

Finally he decided to enter St. Michael's hospital, but just before doing so, a friend advised him to try Zam-Buk. Mr. Brennan acted on this advice, and soon proved Zam-Buk's great value. He says: "It cured the pain almost as soon as applied, and within a day of first commencing the Zam-Buk treatment, I was back at work! Of course, I don't mean that in that time the wound was healed, but the pain had gone and the danger from blood-poisoning was averted. After that, healing was only a matter of a short time. I have no hesitation in saying that Zam-Buk saved my finger, and I am very glad to let you state these simple facts publicly."

Zam-Buk is equally effective for piles, ulcers, abscesses, eruptions, ringworm, children's rashes, scalp sores, chapped hands, frost bite, and cold sores. Every housewife should keep a supply handy, and no mother should be without it in the home. Sold by all druggists and stores, 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co. Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse substitutes.

stand appalled. The reputation of New Brunswick must inevitably suffer from the disclosures, just as the reputation of a bank suffers when the dishonesty of its officials is made public. But the province must rid itself of those political rascals who have used its resources for their personal profit and enrichment.
