OPPOSITION MEMBERS HAVE THE LAST WORD

time to deliver his address which had always been his course not only in this house but in Carleton County. He had asked in regard to the enforcement of the Highway Act why he had appointed so many Tory heeters and his answer was that he wanted all good men while a few moments previously he had claimed that he had treated Liberals and Conservatives alike. When he had appointments he gave to the Conservatives but when he wanted votes he asked for the support of all. He remembered that the Premier had told a certain man in Carleton County "that those beggars," (meaning the old government) were going to increase the taxes nearly double the amount but if they put his party into power the taxes would remain the same and better highways would be given. But all were familiar with the increase in the tax under this government. This administration was wasting money on roads and bridges. In regard to the bridge building he had made enquiries in the interests of the people, Liberals and Conservatives alike. He would tell his hon. friend that he had the same privileges as he (Fleming) and he would exercise his rights and privileges. The Auditor General's report had hidden the details of the expenditures on the Woodstock bridge where the lumber is supplied from a mill owned by the premier. On that structure the contract was $20 per one thousand feet of lumber while on the other structure on $14 was paid.

Referring to the patching on the Woodstock bridge, Mr. Upham said that slabs had been used almost altogether for that work. Not more than 4000 feet of good lumber was put into the job and yet it cost more than $600—and for slabs. Referring to the vote on the St. John Valley Railway bill on the 25th March, he was recorded in the journals as having voting against the third reading of the bill and in that way the premier had tried to put him in a hole. In the original record, as made by the clerk of the House and who was always a very accurate and strictly impartial official, he was not put down as voting against the bill, but when the premier heard the journals read he used the force of the majority back of him to have the record changed, which was very small and mean politics. He was willing to let the people of Carleton County judge between himself and the premier.

MR. BURGESS.

Mr. Burgess said that when the present provincial secretary was speaking at a public meeting at Grand Falls he had asked him a question but had not yet received a reply and would now ask again. The hon. gentleman had stated that one of the celebrated Kentucky horses which had a ringbone had been sold back to Kentucky for more than it cost in the first place. He had asked the hon. gentleman to point out in the auditor's report where there was any receipt for such sale and he said it would appear this year. He would now ask the hon. gentleman to show him the item in the report he failed to find it. He was told that the horse had been chloroformed.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER.

Mr. Copp said that the hon. commissioner for agriculture, in making his address, had questioned some figures which he (Copp) had presented to the House but he could tell the hon. gentleman that he himself had prepared the statements of figures from the official reports and had taken pains to prove them and they were absolutely correct. The hon. gentleman himself had been led into an error by taking statements prepared for him by his deputy. In moving the amendment before the House he was sincere in his conviction that in the way the public works had been carried on the past three or four years the people were paying political tribute and if the chief commissioner of public works continued in the way he was pursuing he and the government must take the responsibility. He could put his finger on scores of bridges in Westmorland County which he had personally visited two and three times a day and where men drew $3 to $4 a day as superintendents who never earned a honest dollar. The government had violated their pledges to keep the expenditure within the revenue and if the public debt continued to roll up as it had done under the present administration the province would soon be upon the verge of bankruptcy. The hon. member for St. John had already referred to the position the government had taken in regard to the Central Railway. If hon. gentlemen opposite had been sincere with regard to that railway they would not have opposed the proposition made by the former government to lease the road for all time at a rental of $21,000 a year. They every one claimed that the road was worth more than that and they all voted against it. They were afraid that the government of the day would get some credit and as said by his hon. colleague, they had been more concerned in making political capital out of the Central Railway than they had been to conduct its affairs in a business like way and now they proclaimed it as a master stroke of statesmanship because they had found someone to whom they could give the road away for nothing. His colleague from Westmorland had given an emphatic and convincing denial to the insinuations of the chief commissioner. He (Copp) thought that the hon. member had taken a most unfair advantage of an Acadian member of the House who might not be able to express himself in English as clearly and concisely as he could do in his mother tongue. He thought it was unfair of the government to force on the debate and a vote at such an hour in the morning as had been reached and he thought that they might in fairness adjourn it until members who are absent from the House had returned. However as that seemed to be their intention he was prepared that his record and his stand should go before the country as his honest conviction.

AGRICULTURAL MATTERS DISCUSSED IN HOUSE

Hon. Dr. Landry said the action of the department would be governed by the requests of the agricultural societies. The animals would be sold at several different points in the province.

The committee took recess at six o'clock.

The committee resumed at 8.30 o'clock.

On the items of $600 for assistance to scholars attending the agricultural schools Mr. Copp asked if the department had considered the matter of establishing an agricultural college in the province.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that no action would be taken by the department until it was learned where the Dominion experimental farm will be located. This would have considerable bearing on the matter and the department realized the advantages of agricultural colleges.

Mr. Copp asked whether the province paid anything to the government of Nova Scotia for pupils attending the agricultural college.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that the education in the colleges of Nova Scotia and Quebec was free gratis but the province now paid a fee for the education in the college in Quebec.

On the item of $2,500 for the encouragement of poultry raising, Mr. Labllois asked the reason for the increase in the grant.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that the poultry expert was in the service of the department for ten months last year and consequently there would have to be a portion of the increase to cover his salary and expenses for the remaining two months this year. There would be three more poultry shows. The poultry expert was assisting the farmers in the way of arranging for the forwarding of their consignments of poultry.

On the item of $750 for standing crop competition and seed fairs, Mr. Perley asked how the grant was divided.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that $100 was given to the agricultural societies in each county who held crop competition and seed fair. He anticipated that there would be six fairs this year. In the past the federal government was in the habit of paying the salary of the judges, but this year they were paying two-thirds of the prize money.

Mr. Copp asked if any of the agricultural societies could make application for the grant?

Hon. Dr. Landry said that the grant could be made to any society but all the societies in the county in question could compete.

Mr. Copp asked if the department had any report as to the advantages of this policy.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that he had the statement of a seed expert of the Dominion Government that he could vouch for the success of grain growing in the province as a result of the work of the Department.

Mr. Tweeddale said that the conditions under which the Dominion Government gave prizes required that the winner would be able to produce a certain quantity of crop and seed. Where the federal and provincial governments were working together it stimulated the farmers. He was pleased that the Department was endeavoring to improve seed conditions.

On the item of $1,000 for roller mills.

Mr. Labllois enquired if the government was taking any steps to bonus the roller mill in Campbellton which was destroyed in the fire there in 1910.

Dr. Landry said he had taken the matter up with Mr. Doherty who had wanted a bonus of $2,000. The Department felt they could not afford and thought it should be sufficient.

On the item of $10,000 for exhibitions.

Mr. Guptill urged that a grant of $300 towards a Fish Fair at the Islands of Charlotte County be made.

Mr. Byrne asked that assurance be given that a grant would be given this year towards an exhibition at Bathurst.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that such a grant had already been promised to other people from Gloucester County for an exhibition at Bathurst.

Mr. Burchill said he would like to know what would be done towards assisting a show which some of the agricultural societies of Northumberland County proposed to hold this fall at Chatham.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that last year Chatham had received a grant of $5,000 towards their biennial exhibition and it did not seem just right for the government to embark on a proposition of giving another grant for another show this year in Chatham under somewhat different conditions.

The item of $1,000 for Brown Tail Moth Extermination was passed without discussion.

Hon. Dr. Landry replying to Mr. Burgess enquired explained the transaction of the sale of the horse Garry Herrman, and said the province had not lost a cent on the transaction.

The St. John sugar refinery bill was discussed at some length and progress reported.

The granting of supply was made the order of the day for tomorrow at three o'clock.

HYDRO ELECTRIC BILL.

The House went into committee, with Mr. Slipp in the chair and took up consideration of the bill to incorporate the St. John River Hydro-Electric Company.

An amendment was agreed to providing that the company shall pay the province $4,000 annually for the first twenty years and the further sum of $25 per constant horse-power sold for the use of the water-power and at the expiration of twenty years the amount to be paid shall be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

The committee also decided to reduce the amount of the bond issue from $5,000,000 to $3,000,000.

The bill was agreed to with amendments.

CLEVER ACT AT UNIQUE

Miss Maxie Wells the girl ventriloquist now at the Unique, is very clever and is proving one of the most enjoyable acts seen at the Unique in a long time. Today and tomorrow will be her only appearance. No one should miss seeing this act. The picture programme is also an exceptionally strong one especially the Mexican subject depicting a bull-fight in one of the largest arenas in the World. This picture is both educational and intensely dramatic.
