Did Not Remove Stone In Bladder
GIN PILLS Passed it.

JOLIETTE, P. Q. CANADA.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone In The Bladder. He decided on an operation and was assisted by another doctor. They said the calculus was larger than a bean and too hard to crush and they could not take it out.

I returned home suffering greatly and did not know what to do but was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS. I bought a box and found relief from the pain at once. I took a second and third box of GIN PILLS after which I went back to the specialist. He told me the calculus was reduced in size, still he could not relieve me of it although he tried for two and a half hours.

I returned home again and continued to take GIN PILLS as they reduced the pain very much, but I did not expect that they would relieve me of the stone but to my great joy, I passed the stone on October 3rd, and am now a well man and very happy.

I am sending the stone in to you so that you can see for yourself what a great work GIN PILLS did for me. GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did so much for me, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."

J. ALBERT LESSARD.

What glorious news to those who are almost going insane from the pain of Stone In The Bladder! Here is ease and comfort! Here is relief! Here is a certain means of getting rid of the stone without being cut to pieces by the knives of a surgeon. GIN PILLS dissolve Stone or Gravel in Kidneys or Bladder because GIN PILLS are the greatest solvent for uric acid the world has ever known.

If your trouble is like Mr. Lessard's, follow his example and take GIN PILLS. Money refunded if they fail to give relief. At all dealers, 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write us, mentioning this paper.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITILE OLD NEW YORK

New York, May 9—It is rather an interesting coincidence that the new municipal ferryboat William J. Gaynor, named in honor of the late mayor, has been put into service between Manhattan and the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn on the one hundredth anniversary of the first trip of a steam ferryboat between New York and Brooklyn. It is just one hundred years this week since the Nassau, the pioneer of all steam ferryboats, began the carrying of passengers across the East River. The Nassau was a puffing, spouting little craft of almost insignificant dimensions, but it was a great improvement over the service furnished by sail boats and row boats. The people of that day would open wide their eyes could they see the new municipal ferryboat, which cost $350,000 or more than the largest and finest vessel afloat a century ago.

Collectors of historical relics who were gathered in a well-known auction room yesterday displayed more than ordinary interest when there was offered for sale a lock of George Washington's hair, also a lock of hair of Martha Washington, his wife.

The hair was preserved behind glass on a miniature gold slab. An inscription on the slab showed that the memento had been presented by Mrs. Washington, in 1797, to Mrs. Oliver Wolcott, wife of one of the Connecticut signers of the Declaration of Independence, whose son, also named Oliver Wolcott, succeeded Alexander Hamilton as secretary of the treasury.

For several years Chief Kenlon of the New York Fire Department, has been saving the buttons from firemen's uniforms. Every discarded coat has been stripped of its buttons and the chief has lost no opportunity of adding to his collection. One day recently he took stock and was surprised to find that he had on hand some twenty-three thousand old buttons. He turned them over to the Bureau of Repairs and Supplies. The buttons will be melted and used in the work of the bureau.

THE LAUNCHING OF DEFIANCE

Bath, Me., May 9—The racing sloop Defiance, a candidate for the defense of the American Cup, is to be launched at two o'clock Monday afternoon from the yards of her builders in this city. Three yachts are scheduled to enter the elimination trials to select the cup defender and the Defiance will be the second to take to the water. The first was launched two weeks ago at Bristol, R.I. The Defiance is being built by a syndicate of prominent yachtsmen of Boston, Philadelphia and New York. Members of the syndicate from each of the three cities are expected here to witness the launching. The present plan is to have the Defiance ready for her first trial spin by the middle of this month.

New York who serve terms in the workhouse for others—for a suitable consideration, of course. The method is to commit a petty offense to receive a short term in the workhouse. Once on the island it has been found easy for the "short term" to substitute himself for a prisoner serving a long term. The prisoners change names and when the sentence of the man with the short term expires, the man with the long sentence passes out. The police department now plans to introduce the finger print system to put a stop to the practise.

A few years' experiment of public education through University Extension courses was concluded last week with the close of the public schools lecture season in this city. During the five years twelve courses have been offered in economics, American history and literature. This year a course in electricity was added. During the season just ended 150 shorter lecture courses, comprising about 1,600 different subjects, were presented. In addition from 500 to 1,000 lectures on as many different subjects were delivered for discussion.

Sir Moses Ezekiel, one of the best known American sculptors living abroad, has returned to the United States for a brief visit. The chief purpose of his visit is to attend the unveiling of his monument to the Confederate dead in the Arlington national cemetery. The unveiling is to take place early next month. The sculptor, it will be remembered, is a native of Virginia, born at Richmond October 23, 1844, and is now in his seventieth year. At the beginning of the civil war he was a student at the Virginia Military Institute, and when it was burned by the Union troops under General David Hunter, he, with the corps of cadets, went into the Confederate army, and these mere boys distinguished themselves by their valorous soldiering at the battle of Newmarket, so often graphically described. Ezekiel is the designer of many notable memorials erected in the south, notable among them being the Jefferson monument in Louisville, "Virginia Mourning Her Dead," in Lexington, Va., the statue of Thomas Jefferson at the University of Virginia, and the statue of Stonewall Jackson which stands in the State House grounds in Charleston, W.Va. He has just completed a heroic portrait statue of the late Senator Daniels of Virginia, which is to be erected at his birthplace, Lynchburg, Va.

John D. Rockefeller Jr., as virtual head of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, has been brought prominently into the limelight by the recent strike troubles in Colorado. The general public has always been inclined to regard young Rockefeller merely as the son of the head of the Standard Oil Company and heir to what is probably the largest individual fortune in the world. In financial circles, however, young John D., as he is familiarly called, has long been recognized as a shrewd and capable man of business, well qualified to take up the burden that has been gradually laid aside by his father. While never a large speculator John D. Jr., knows what it is to watch the tape as an investor. Soon after he had reached his majority he cleaned up a million in a deal in Leather Common. Buying when the stock was around eleven he took it freely from that figure up to twenty and held on until forty was reached, when he sold out gradually as the stock again slumped. The deal was cleverly executed and observers quickly decided that the young man had inherited a large share of his father's business acumen. Following this Mr. Rockefeller engineered a copper and transportation deal which largely advanced freight rates and gave the Rockefellers control of the shipping of the Great Lakes.

TROUT FISHING IN THE NORTH

Fort William, Ont., May 9—Trout fishing will open in all the north country in dead earnest next week, from the Canadian head of the lakes to the height of land at the far western limits of New Ontario. Disciples of Walton whose specialty is the speckled beauty will trek into the north woods by hundreds during the next few days and scatter to the myriad ice-cold mountain streams of Thunder Bay District. The territory is so vast and the trout streams, so many that the heavy toll taken each year has no noticeable effect on the supply. An unexplained circumstance is that identical streams west of the height of land do not and never were known to contain trout.

Toronto Globe.—A despatch from Halifax says the band of the Royal Canadian Regiment serenaded the news editor of The Halifax Herald, who spent forty-eight hours in jail for refusing to give the Nova Scotia Assembly the name of an anonymous letter writer who suggested that some members were venal. The merits of the case may be a matter of dispute, but who gave authority to the band of a Canadian regiment of regulars to meddle in the affair? Col. Hughes should disavow that "serenade" at the earliest possible moment and discipline those who sanctioned it.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Weak and Dizzy Spells.

Heart Would Beat Something Awful.

Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells which come over people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded. They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but eventually they will come frequently, and at the same time more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills before their case becomes hopeless, for they have no equal for restoring the heart to its usual strength, and making the nerves firm and steady. Mrs. Len. Kinney, Moose Mountain, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with weak and dizzy spells, and my heart would beat something awful. I got so I had those spells every day. I got so I would try one medicine, and then another, but nothing did me any good until I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I can safely say they did me more good than anything I ever took, for I feel like a very different woman. My friends often ask me what I have been taking, and I always say 'Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.' I tell all my friends who say their heart troubles them, to take your pills."

SHREDDED WHEAT

the food that builds muscle, bone and brain—a natural, elemental food—contains no yeast, no baking powder, no chemicals of any kind—just the pure whole wheat grain steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Better than porridges for children.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas, canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter cheese or marmalade.
