distortion of facts can rob the truth of its own inherent power to reach the mind and grip the conscience of the honest voter.

According to the articles of The Gleaner, the ministers of the city are hopelessly divided in this issue, the Temperance Convention came to no unanimous conclusions, Scott's platform was "doctored" and the only issue in the campaign is the personal feeling of a few "grouchers" who are cunning enough to use a few innocent clergymen as their tools. And in order to make these falsehoods plausible it holds back material that would give the readers the truth. It seeks to discredit Dr. Smith because it recognizes his ability and courage as a leader in the moral life of this city and insinuates that he is not only guilty of petty revenge but of a practical falsehood in reference to the resolution presented by the Ministerial Association to its office. The resolution first introduced into the Ministerial Association relative to this campaign did not originate from Dr. Smith but from another member. That resolution was not accepted but another was framed at the meeting and was the joint product of all the members present and was unanimously passed. Dr. Smith, who sat at his desk as the resolution was being framed, wrote down the new resolution and handed it to the secretary. And yet The Gleaner would have us believe that Dr. Smith is a crafty, unworthy man, actuated by low motives and able to use the other clergy men as tools for the execution of his detestable designs. What a splendid tribute The Gleaner pays to the clergy of this city, for they are men without strength of personality or independence of judgment, innocent and helpless in the strong and crafty hands of the ignoble Dr. Smith. The Gleaner knew that this editorial was a misrepresentation, for it had with in its possession an official communication from the association, which it withheld from publication in that issue because it contradicted the editorial.

The letter of Dean Schofield which appeared in the same issue, repudiates absolutely the previous "interviews" in The Gleaner which sought

IF HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

Clean Your Liver and Waste clogged
Bowels To-night! Feel Bully

Get a 10-cent box now.

You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off and what you need is a cleansing up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

to present this reverend gentleman as a supporter of Mr. Guthrie. His letter is a humorous and inoffensive way of saying that the statements of The Gleaner about him and his position are a tissue of misrepresentations and falsehoods. And who would gather from the reports of The Gleaner that the Temperance Convention passed a resolution endorsing unanimously the candidacy of Mr. Scott? Its statement that a temperance plank was stricken out of the platform of Mr. Scott is absolutely untrue as the letter of Mr. Scott himself indicates. And alike misleading and unfair is it on the part of The Gleaner to make Mr. Scott the candidate of Mr. Pinder. Anyone who knows Mr. Scott knows that he is an honest, independent man who will think and act for himself and be the tool of nobody. There is no doubt of the fact that he is supported by Mr. Pinder as he is by many other leaders of his party, but this country is too large and its interests are far too important for any one to imagine that the present candidates are mere pawns in the game that is being played for mastery between Col-

POISONOUS TREES

Many Woods Cause Severe Skin Eruptions

Nettles, poison ivy and poison sumac are by no means the only plants which have a poisonous effect on the human skin. Poisonous substances exist in many trees, and even after they have been cut and sawed a sufficient quantity of the poison remains in the lumber, so that workmen who handle it are liable to infection.

Amberwood is impregnated with a powerful poison, according to Dr. Heinz Graf, who investigated the subject for the German Botanical Society. Two different kinds of wood are included under the term amberwood—the genuine East Indian or Asiatic satinwood, or "silkwood," and the satin hardwood or amberwood. The two are quite different in external appearance. Nestler succeeded in extracting the active substance only from the latter. This is a stearinlike substance soluble only in ether. A small quantity of it placed in contact with the skin of the underarm, in the course of about five hours produced a tensely swollen yellowish blister surrounded by a red area of inflammation. After the bursting of the blister an ulcer remained which required four weeks to heal.

What is known as "cocobolo" wood contains a poisonous substance easily soluble in alcohol and benzol, less so in water. It is apparently an ethereal oil. The placing of fine sawdust of this wood on the moist skin causes first a violent smarting. Following this, red spots or pimples appear accompanied by redness and inflammation of that part of the skin, followed by scaling.

Similar phenomena are caused by the plant Certosa Matthioli, but they are even stronger, since blisters are produced. Touching the plants is enough to cause irritation, and the infection may be transmitted to other persons by hands so infected. The bearers of the irritating substance in this case are gland-hairs, as in the case of the primrose. This substance is a crystallizable sap which can be extracted from gland-hairs.

The sawdust of the Mexican blue gum is harmful when the skin is especially sensitive from some other cause.

onel McLeod and Mr. Pinder. The citizens are asked to vote for Scott or Guthrie and not Pinder or McLeod. And there is no doubt that Mr. Scott has the support of citizens of all classes and creeds who believe in honesty and fair play and who wish a representative that will be the tool of no ring, machine or special interest, but will seek to give an honest and efficient administration to the affairs of this province and a square deal to every one.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR

FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp the hair roots famish, loosen and die, then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Tennyson's Love For Birds.

Alfred Tennyson was all his life a great lover of the woods and fields. Trees, birds and flowers were his everyday companions, and he faithfully studied the habits of Dame Nature's English nurslings. The lark, the nightingale, the owl and the linnet were his favorite birds. He was also greatly interested in the sea birds, the peregrine falcons, the cormorants, seagulls, etc., and in the long legged sea birds, the visitors to marshes and pools. He thought the curlew, of which he has written in "Locksley Hall," a very noble bird and loved its wild call over the marshes. There are many references to birds native to England in his poems, and all of them show a thorough acquaintance with the individual characteristics of the different species.

At Farringford the poet's garden was the home of the wild birds of the hedgerows. The blackbird and robin and the smaller birds flocked there in great numbers, and it was considered far more important that they should feel welcome there than that the fruit should be permitted to ripen undisturbed or the garden be kept in proper order.

Domesticated birds also Tennyson numbered among his friends. Brilliant peacocks and more sober doves and pigeons, he loved them all.

A Helpful Suggestion.

The young man had married the rich man's daughter and wasn't killing himself with work to support her. One day the father called him up to talk to him.

"Look here," he said emphatically, "why don't you go to work?" "I don't have to," the son-in-law replied, with brazen effrontery. "Well, you will have to." "Why will I?" "Because, sir, I can't live always to support you." "But you will leave us something?" "Not much, I won't. There won't be anything to leave." The son-in-law was alarmed. "Great Jupiter!" he exclaimed. "You don't mean to tell me that you have nothing?" "That's about it."

The son-in-law devoted himself to profound thought for several seconds. "I have a suggestion to offer," he said in a businesslike manner. "What is it?" asked the old gent. "Well, I suggest that you take out, say, a £20,000 life insurance on yourself to save wear and tear on my mind."—London Answers.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.
Dr. Wood's
Norway Pine Syrup
CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle. Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
