THE PREMIER CANADIAN

The Acadian Recorder pays the following tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier:

"Thursday was the fortieth anniversary of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's entrance into public life and the day was marked by an enthusiastic reception given him and Lady Laurier by his followers and friends in the commons chamber. To the great chieftain himself was presented a $600 gold watch and chain and to Lady Laurier a purse of gold in token of the esteem of colleagues and friends. Fitting addresses were made by leading Liberals and an eloquent reply was made by Sir Wilfrid. The compliments and the gifts were indeed well and worthily paid and bestowed. When the young man Laurier made his first appearance in the house of commons, he came from the provincial legislature with a reputation for powerful and eloquent speaking. The house of commons is, however, only too often the grave of local reputations of this character, but it was not so in his case. He spoke little but his few speeches showed a thorough mastery of the subject in hand. Not many months before the debacle of 1878 he became a member of the Mackenzie cabinet. Thenceforward for ten years in the long opposition period, he sat beside Mr. Blake, speaking once to his leader's dozen times, but always listened to with attention. In those early days Sir Adolphe Chapleau was the great French-Canadian orator whom his Quebec contemporaries feared and who lorded it over them in a stately fashion indeed. One day, some unfortunate member had drawn the fire of the great BLEU and was writhing under his castigation when Mr. Wilfrid Laurier arose and took issue with Cartier's successor. For the better part of an hour there was such brilliant sword play as the commons had not seen for many a year and Sir Adolphe's days of strutting and terrorizing were over. During the heated debates over the Riel question in 1885 and 1886, Wilfrid Laurier made a number of remarkable speeches and when Mr. Blake retired, after the election of 1887, the brilliant Quebecer was chosen successor. It was soon seen that the right man had arrived. He led his forces in ceaseless combat against the MacDonald government and when the election of the year 1891 occurred, he failed to win, but it was a pyrrhic victory for the Tories. From that time till 1896 he pressed the government hard and the Tories at length became disorganized under the attack. The elections of that year saw them routed, horse, foot and artillery and for fifteen years thereafter Canada enjoyed an era of growth and prosperity unparalleled possibly in the history of the world. After placing Canada in the very forefront of the world's prosperous nations, he was at length defeated by the combined wealth and bigotry of the country the majority of the electors being excited and deluded by a heavily subsidized campaign of denunciation and misrepresentation. He fell in the attempt to make free the poor man's breakfast table but there are many signs that the people have recovered from their excitement and their delusion and will seize the first opportunity to place him at the helm of the ship of state once more."

THE LIBERALS AND THE C. N. R.

While the Liberals in parliament are opposing the government's scheme to give Mackenzie and Mann a bond guarantee of $45,000,000 they are not opposed to national aid for the Canadian Northern if aid is needed. They are united in holding that the road must not be allowed to go down, that the railway must be completed in the interests of the dominion.

But the government which proposes to give $45,000,000 of assistance to Mackenzie and Mann decided upon its scheme without thorough investigation of the physical and financial condition of the railway and without investigation as to the methods followed by Mackenzie and Mann in the construction and management of the line. There are many reports as to those methods which indicate the desirability of a full inquiry. Reports as to the condition of the railway also give reason for an investigation before the company is granted more millions by the country. All that the government has placed before parliament in the way of information regarding the company and its affairs is contained in statements supplied by Mackenzie and Mann, in affidavits made by employees and relatives of Mackenzie and Mann and in brief reports prepared by government officials on the strength of an investigation extending over only a few days. The Liberals are willing that aid should be given if it is needed to save the railway, but they insist that there should first be a thorough investigation so that it may be made clear just what the state of the Canadian Northern is today. They believe also that if the dominion is to put more money into the railway the dominion should have control of the railway and should not be merely a junior partner in the firm of Mackenzie, Mann and Canada as Mr. Borden proposes. Surely the Liberals are on solid ground in taking this position. But Mackenzie and Mann want neither an investigation nor a change in the control of the company and the government majority is determined that Mackenzie and Mann shall have their way.

Parliament will prorogue this week. The members will be able to go back to their constituents and tell them that although protection has been increased, not a single proposal has been allowed to go through which would lower the cost of living.

The Borden government's record to date may be unsatisfactory from the point of view of the people but then, what can the people expect, anyway, from a Conservative administration? Certainly not Liberal measures.

The High Cost of Living Commission has been heard from again. After a lengthy rest in Ottawa it is off today for a trip to Vancouver. Beautiful weather for it, isn't it?

Canadian bank deposits increased twelve millions during April. The piling up of money in the banks will force a speedy renewal of industrial activity. Idle money warns no interest.

We have a flag incident of our own, and are independent of Ulster as a source of excitement. The German flag has been hauled down by antagonistically patriotic Canadians in Berlin, Ont.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been forty years a member of Parliament. And he is still a gay sprightly figure on the front bench, enjoying his leadership of the Opposition far more than Mr. Borden enjoys leading the House.

Toronto Globe:—To the greatest Canadian long life and a speedy return to power. There was no need to prove prosperity by doubtful statistics under Laurier.

Peterboro Times:—An Australian Labor member of parliament punched another on the nose. Labor in Australia, like everywhere else, insists on the right to strike.

MISSOURI PACIFIC FEATURE OF DULL MARKET

New York, June 2—No promise of relief from the condition of dullness was held out by the market at the opening which was dull and uninteresting with no changes in the active issues.

During first hour the market was dull with prices sagging off rationally. U. S. Steel was perhaps the steadiest stock of the active list holding well at opening figures. Missouri Pacific was the most notable feature of the opening, showing an overnight gain of a full point on the news that Goulds and Fayers would take over the company's notes. The market may drag along until oversold again but may look for bullish activity in the specialties.

KIDNEY DISEASE IN EVERY SYMPTOM

Why Mrs. Mark Found Quick Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

NEW BRUNSWICK LADY WHO SUFFERED FOR SIX YEARS TELLS HOW SHE FOUND A SPEEDY CURE

Miscou Harbor, Gloucester Co., N.O., June 1—(Special)—"For some five or six years I was troubled with backache. I tried many tonics but kept growing steadily worse, until I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They gave me almost immediate relief."

This is the statement of Mrs. A. Mark, well known and highly respected here. Asked to give more particulars in regard to her case, Mrs. Mark said:—

"My trouble started with a cold and gradually grew worse. I had stiffness in my joints and cramps in my muscles and suffered from neuralgia. I had heart flutterings and headaches, my sleep was broken and unrefreshing and I was always tired and nervous. I had dark circles under my eyes, I was irritable and often dizzy and had a bitter taste in my mouth in the mornings. I also had attacks of rheumatism. It just took three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills to fix me up."

Every symptom Mrs. Mark mentions spells kidney disease. That's why she found such quick relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

to a head. It was expected the report would have been ready about the time of the closing of the recent session of the House of Assembly.

WANTS INFORMATION.

Some correspondence was read from an Italian interpreter wishing to know by whose authority the leg of a countryman of his had been amputated, and whether the authorities of the hospital thought the victim was Vincent Astor, of New York, for he thought the surgeon's professional charge floated off into high life. While there is said to have been no excess in charge, the matter is entirely between physician and patient.

A letter was read from Manager Henderson of the Minto Coal Co. asking information respecting nature of treatment given a foreigner who was recently discharged from the hospital, and the writer wishes to know whether the late patient is permanently incapacitated.

ENLARGEMENT DETAILS

Considerable time was devoted by the Trustees to details bearing upon the proposed enlargement of the hospital. Everything is just now at a standstill awaiting the plans which are being prepared by Architect Brodie. A pleasing and most encouraging statement was made by the Secretary Treasurer to the effect that a Fredericton citizen has already offered one thousand dollars to be appropriated to the immediate erection of a Maternity pavilion. It has been felt that the Nurses going out from the Hospital in this City are greatly handicapped on account of an opportunity being afforded them for obstetric study and experience. As soon as arrangements are sufficiently matured respecting the action to be taken in reference to enlargement already mapped out and also the decision reached between the city and Board of Health, the Trustees will then be in a better position to assume the responsibility of dealing with generous donors like that of today.

INCREASE FOR MR. KELLEY.

After 20 or more years of most useful and satisfactory service in the hospital, the Trustees at their meeting yesterday gave William Kelley a little increase to his annual stipend. The matter was introduced by Mr. Vandine and heartily approved by all the members. One of the physicians, who had served on the staff made the remark that if he was unfortunate enough to break his leg he would as soon have Kelley set it as any surgeon. The general opinion is that Mr. Kelley well deserves this recognition.

Secretary Treasurer Sampson was heartily accorded two months' leave of absence to enable him to visit the Old Country. A bon voyage resolution was passed.
