QUEER NAMES

An Englishman, coming by train to Glasgow for the first time, and passing Motherwell Junction, said to the gentleman opposite, with whom he had been chatting:

"Queer name, Motherwell. Is there a Fatherwell next?"

"No," was the reply; "but we come immediately to Both-well!"

Two Doctors Said He Had Consumption.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP CURED HIM.

Mrs. John Eliff, St. John's West, Ont., writes:—"My little boy was very bad with whooping cough and severe cold. I went to two doctors with him, and they said he had Consumption. I could get no relief for him, he would cough all night long, with a dry hacking cough."

I was persuaded to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and was surprised to see the first bottle did him good. I have had five bottles, and he cured him, he rests well at night now, and is well and hearty. If he gets a cold we always give him Pine Syrup and he is soon better. I did not think I could raise him but I am thankful to say Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup saved him from being a consumptive."

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the admonition to all persons affected by the earlier stages of throat and lung trouble, as failure to take hold at once will cause many years of suffering, and in the end that terrible scourge "Consumption."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is without an equal for all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ACROSS ATLANTIC IN FIFTY HOURS

Noted Birdman Says It Is Possible in Huge Aeroplane Carrying Two Hundred Passengers

Louis Elmer, the first airman ever to fly across the English channel, has some interesting things to say about the possibility of trans-Atlantic flight. One of the most interesting is that he thinks it impractical. Elmer is as great an expert in the mathematics of aviation as he is in the art of actually handling a machine.

"Do you think it is possible to fly across the Atlantic?" he was asked. "Perhaps, but I would not wish to try it with the aeroplanes we have today. Only the very best of luck—marvellous luck—could get a flyer across. An attempt would be full of danger, with many odds in favor of failure and death."

"Why would it be dangerous?"

"Because, on the wastes of the Atlantic, the flyer would have to alight beside ships several times to secure fuel, and how could he be sure that he would find the ships. Even if there were a string of ships 200 miles apart—and that is not a long distance for a non-stop flight—how could he find his way from one ship to the next? There is no known way by which an aviator can follow a trail across the Atlantic; his compass might show that his machine headed for the west, but in reality, the moving air might be carrying the flyer southward, without his knowledge, away from the next ship that he is seeking. It would be much the same as being lost in a desert!"

"But would it be possible to build an aeroplane that could carry enough fuel for a non-stop flight across the Atlantic?"

"If I had the money and there was a commercial demand for it I could build an aeroplane within two years that would cross the Atlantic ocean in 50 hours! I have figured it all out and made all my calculations," answered the French flyer. "It would easily carry two hundred persons, in addition to the fuel!"

The great airman drew a pencil from his pocket and made some hurried calculations.

"My plan would be," he said, "I have an aeroplane of 10,000 horsepower. You see," he explained, "we figure that every horsepower carries 100 pounds, so our big trans-Atlantic aerplane might weigh 220,000 pounds or 110 tons. The engine and the fuel together with the necessary lubricating oil, would weigh about 25 tons. I could build a very safe aeroplane that would weigh 40 tons, aside from the engine, and this would leave us 40 tons for the passengers. This would mean about 200 passengers, unless it was desired to use some of this passenger-tonnage in supplying luxurious surroundings for the passengers."

LOUIS ELMER

"How soon, do you suppose, will such aeroplanes carry passengers across the Atlantic?"

"Just as soon as there is a demand for such transportation. It is a problem of commercial demand; not of aeroplane building. But I do not think that aeroplanes will ever take the place of ships, for I doubt their commercial usefulness in crossing oceans. Aeroplanes will always be dependent on the weather."

A Valuable Autograph

Princess Mary, in accordance with a promise made to her by the Duchess of Fife, secured the last maiden signature of Her Royal Highness—excepting the signature in the marriage register. The Duchess signed the Princess's autograph album at Broom Palace on the afternoon before her marriage to Prince Arthur of Connaught. A lady who is a noted autograph hunter offered the Duchess $500 to be paid to any charity Her Royal Highness might name for the purpose.

Accidents to Miners

Although there is an increase in the number of deaths from accidents in coal mines now, as compared with a few years ago, the death rate per 1,000 persons employed, says the chief inspector of mines in Great Britain in his annual report is lower now than it ever was.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair growing all over the scalp.

THE LARGEST STEAMSHIP

London, Feb. 25—An ocean steamship that will rank among the largest and most luxurious vessels in the world is scheduled to be launched tomorrow at Messrs. Harland and Wolff's shipyards, at Belfast. The vessel will be christened Britannic. She is being built for the White Star Line, which means that to a large extent she is a product of American enterprise. The line flies the British flag and is managed by American capitalists. The new steamship will be an answer to the Cunard Line, which is about to put out the mammoth Aquitania to stand for British supremacy on the seas.

The Britannic is commonly spoken of as a sister ship of the Olympic and the ill-fated Titanic, but while she corresponds to these vessels in her general dimensions, there are some radical differences in her construction. She will have a length of nearly 1,000 feet and a breadth of 80 feet. Her tonnage will be 60,000, which is about equal to a mile-long train of 50-ton cars.
