

CREAM SEPARATORS

MELOTTE DE LAVAL

Why do you waste money, time and patience tinkering with a worn-out separator? It is a losing proposition, any way that you can look at it.

Get a Melotte or De Laval and you will have a separator that will give you satisfaction for practically a life time. These machines have stood the test of time; you are not taking chances in buying one of them. Ask your neighbors.

If you keep cows and have never had a separator it is time you woke up.

Let us show you these splendid machines or write for information.

PERSISTENCY IN ADVERTISING

The stroke of a bell in a thick fog does not give a lasting impression of its location, but when followed by repeated strokes at regular intervals the densest fog, the darkest night can not long conceal its whereabouts. Likewise a single insertion of an advertisement—as compared with regular and systematic ADVERTISING—is in its effect not unlike a sound which, heard but faintly once is lost in space and soon forgot.—Printing Art.

September Morns	2	6

September Morns of the lower flat in the Celestial League turned over the estimates on Wednesday night when they turned on Pets on the fourth innings and piled up five runs. The closing score was 5 to 3.

The game was uneventful and slow until the batting began in the fourth. Pets made their three runs in the first and thought their work was done. The game dragged along through the next two innings, Pets putting in time and waiting for the moon to come up and call the game.

In the fourth, however, Coward, went to first on a pass ball, second on Barry's error. Walker got a hit but died on second, Ryan to Barbour.

O'Ree walked to first and then the land-slides came. Drillen came to the bat and hoisted the round out into left field just over the head of Melrose. Coward and O'Ree came home. Campbell followed with a single and Moran next at bat also with a single. Drillen came home on Barry's error and Campbell and Moran reached third and second. Merritt brought them home and then died on second.

GAME GOSSIP

Some of the fans made Hazlett peevish over the putting in of time. Both teams were guilty of this little offence but no balls were called.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ROWERS ON HUDSON RIVER

Biggest American Aquatic Event of the Season—
Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Wisconsin, Syracuse and the University of Washington Requested—Cornell Crew Picked to Win

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., June 25—Along with a course historic with the memories of former quatic struggles, college crews representing the east, the middle west and the far west are matched to try conclusions in their racing shells tomorrow to the annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association on the Hudson River.

As usual, three events are scheduled for the day, the two-mile race of the university four-oared shells, the freshmen eight-oared two-mile race, and the university eight-oared race over a four-mile course for the varsity challenge cup, which, for the past year, has been in the keeping of the Syracuse crew.

Chief interest, of course, centers in the race of the varsity eight, which is the biggest aquatic event of the year in American waters. The institutions represented in this event will be the same as last year, namely, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Wisconsin, Syracuse and the University of Washington.

Although open pool sailing is not permitted, there is keen interest among the backers of the various crews today and many individual wagers are being placed. Cornell, Syracuse and Columbia money appears to be most abundant. Cornell appears to be the favorite in all the races, although Syracuse is making many backers.

Columbia has many admirers who appear confident that the blue and white will get a well to the fore in the race of the day. The coaches of all six crews today expressed satisfaction with the work of their own, by none would venture a prediction on the results of the regatta.

The Washington crew have again added greatly to the interest of the regatta by coming three thousand miles to meet the eastern colleges. Physically they are the equal of any of the men on the river, but the belief is that they have not had the training to make them dangerous competitors of the other colleges, who have had for years the services of the best professional coaches.

Tomorrow's races will mark the twentieth annual event held here under the auspices of the American Intercollegiate Rowing Association. It was in 1895 that the Poughkeepsie Highland course was selected by the association, then composed of Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania. Cornell is now the first race and has never finished first since. In 1895 Harvard, having disagreed with Yale and several athletic connections, made a two-year agreement with Cornell and was admitted to a contestant on the Hudson. Cornell won on the pitchers. "Congratulations Mist' Dullen" your two bagger came in a most opportune time. There are games and games. Last night's game was a surprise. Kitchen seems such a young thing but he plays a good position and feels the pitcher.

Baltimore, June 24—That a revolution in organized baseball is imminent was the opinion expressed last night by Manager Jack Dunn of the Baltimore League Club. "I expect to see a big shakeup," he said. "We club owners cannot go on looking forever and this fact seemed to have more weight with the National Commission last week than anything else. I told the commission that something had to be done for me or I would drop out of organized baseball. In working out new plans with the International as a major league I

GOOD-A-BYE MIST' MORAN GOOD-A-BYE

Sportsmen Consider Moran a Slim
Chance Against the Big Black Champion

Paris, June 23—Jack Johnson is really and truly punching the bag, taking before-daybreak runs and otherwise disporting himself as an earnest defender of his title.

Johnson is making believe that Moran is going to give him a regular battle. This is the hardest work that Moran will have to do in connection with the fight.

Moran is a husky. He weighs 196 pounds when at his strongest, but so might a hoghead of chess. We do not wish to intimate that the fighting strength of the two is comparable. On his last performance this chess had the edge.

We are not wishing this reputation on Moran, who seems a decent sort of chap. Here are a few facts on which to sentence him:

March, 1911, was beaten by Jim Savage, at Brooklyn, in ten rounds.

May, 1911, was beaten by Tony Ross at Cleveland, ten rounds.

August 2, 1912, was beaten by Jack Geyer at San Francisco in four rounds.

December 27, 1912, was beaten by Gunboat Smith at San Francisco in twenty rounds.

April 29, 1913, was beaten by Luther McCarty at New York in ten rounds.

Moran's other 1913 fights include knockouts of Al McCluskey, Al Kuhn and Al Palmer. Some of his other battles embrace draws with such poor scrappers as Al Kuhn, Tony Kennedy, John Willis, Dummy Maxon and others of that ilk.

Moran may be able to beat Johnson, you never can guess these things. But the chances are that Moran will be just a little training workout whereby the champion will be enabled to note if he is in good enough condition to meet Sam Langford next September.

For, crude as he is, Moran hasn't even youth and resilience to recommend him. Moran himself is twenty-seven years of age, which is only one year younger than Sam Langford, an experienced and dangerous heavyweight, whom many critics are already calling a "has-been." Figure from that where Moran alights and on what end of his prospects.

Joe Borrel, the Philadelphia mid-dayweight who returned recently from the successful trip abroad, expects to go back to England in September.

Al McCoy has signed up with "Dumby Dan" Morgan. After losing two bouts to Billy Murray, McCoy thought it best to change managers so he canned Jack Dougherty.

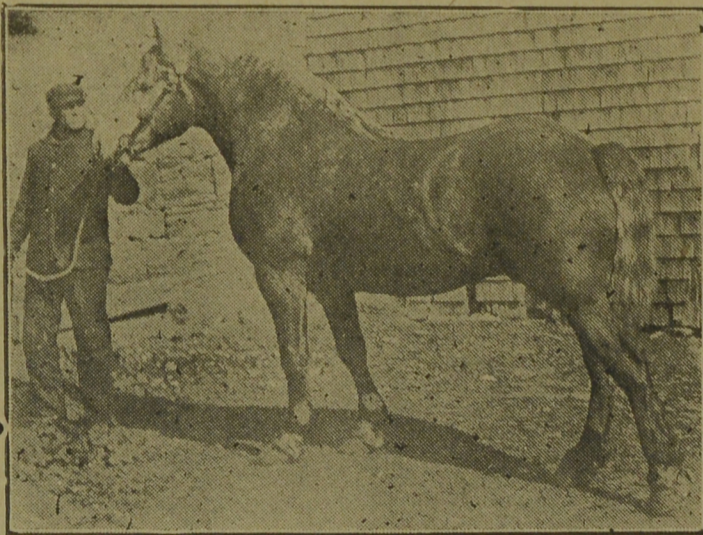

cannot see how there can be anything but big changes in the baseball situation, that will really be a revolution."
