TORONTO PAPER

SCORES COL. SAM

Toronto Saturday Night an Independent
Newspaper in It's Last Issue Hands
Out One to Col. Sam Hughes

(Toronto Saturday Night.)
"While an army, even a small army, such as we are endeavoring to get into the field, is not created in a night, nor by merely rubbing a lamp and wishing for it, one may be pardoned none the less for giving expression to an ardent desire that our Valcartier organization was in other and abler hands. If ONE-TENTH of the charges that are being made by responsible military officers against the minister of militia are true, AND WE BELIEVE THEM TO BE TRUE, it is full time that the Hon. Col. Sam Hughes was given his orders to 'right about' by the Borden government."
"This is no time for carping criticism, but it is time for action. If Canada is to be represented in this war as well as she deserves and desires to be, the minister of militia MUST BE replaced, and under the circumstances it seems impossible that Sir Robert Borden is not privy to this necessity. Party politics and party men, no matter how valuable they may be in the 'howling times of peace,' should not in the present crisis be allowed to stand in the way. It is well known that Valcartier camp, together with the various military headquarters throughout Canada, are today a seething mass of discontent brought about wholly by inefficient management and bad judgment on the part of the minister of militia. If the premier has any doubts on the subject, let him call before him the commanding officers and ask questions."
"There is no need at this time to go into details. It should be sufficient to point the way."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

cure many common ailments which are very different, but which all arise from the same cause—a system clogged with impurities. The Pills cause the bowels to move regularly, strengthen and stimulate the kidneys, and open up the pores of the skin. These organs immediately throw off the accumulated impurities, and Biliousness, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Kidney Troubles, Headaches, Rheumatism and similar ailments vanish. CARLYLE BLACKWELL
AT THE GAIETY.

A stirring two-part story of the Northwest Mounted Police, "The Fringe on the Glove," by the Kalem Company, with Carlyle Blackwell in the title role, will be the head-line feature at the Gaiety Theatre today. This is decidedly one of the best stories that Mr. Blackwell has appeared in to date. The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial of very latest events, including war, baseball, water sports and many other items will also be shown. Two splendid Lubin farce comedies, introducing that ever popular slap-stick comedy, will be included in today's banner program.

A SQUARE PEG in a Round Hole

You may be right, but if you are in the wrong position you are like a square peg in a round hole. You want a position where you fit.

SIDELIGHTS OF THE WAR

A big prize to the aviator who first drops eight bombs on British soil! This is the offer to German flying men.

War is agreeing with Sir John French, field marshal of the British. He is said to look twenty years younger.

A cartoon prepared in Tokio pictures a jaundiced Kaiser as the Yellow Peril.

The Germans, advancing on Paris, told the authorities of the towns they passed through that if civilians were quiet they would be unmolested.

It has been proposed in England to wear white for the war's dead, thus revising an ancient custom.

Through the capture of Samoa, the grave of Robert Louis Stevenson again lies in British territory.

The banners of certain Knights of the Garter will be taken down and these Knights, who are fighting the English, will be degraded. The Kaiser is a Knight of the Garter.

General von Armin, German commander at Brussels, is the husband of the Countess who wrote "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt washing dishes! She really has been. She was found doing this in the American Red Cross Hospital, Paris.

The Berlin War Office announces that American Ambassador Gerard has denied persistent reports that the United States would join the Allies.

The tourist hotels in Paris are almost empty. "What are your rates?" asked an American of one proprietor. "What will you pay?" he replied.

A Paris cartoon shows the Emperor Franz Josef on a bloody battlefield. "I wonder if it is true that I grieved the late Pope?" he asks.

The Germans are aiming so low that many Frenchmen have been shot in the toe. They could retaliate by shooting the Germans in the feet.

COLD CHEERLESS HOME

Igloos of Eskimos Crowded and Unsanitary

The igloos used by the Eskimos of the bleak north are small in size necessarily overcrowded, and every crevice is carefully sealed during the long winter months in order to maintain a comfortable temperature with in. The different forms of dwellings on the Arctic coast are the sod igloos which are the standard and are constructed of two different plans.

The first type of igloo, with windows and doors in the walls, is a frame structure of logs or lumber. The walls and roof are covered thickly with sod, and one or two windows are set into the walls. The home contains two separate compartments which are connected by a small door, the living-room proper and the entry or shed. The shed is somewhat smaller in size than the living quarters and is used as a storeroom for provisions, clothing, sleds, and other articles too numerous to mention. The entrance into the igloo is also constructed of timber, and covered with sod, but the plan of construction differs somewhat from the one just described. This igloo also has two compartments, a living-room and a storeroom, connected by a low passageway. The entrance into the home is through an open hatch in the roof of the entry by means of a ladder. Then by passing through the tunnel one enters the living-room.

The living-room of some of the igloos are curtained off to separate the sleeping quarters from other parts of the household, but the majority have no such arrangements, all the household duties being conducted in the single room. The furniture equipment usually consists of a small stove, a few dishes, and improvised beds. The board floor, which is usually fairly clean, serves the purpose of chairs and tables. A few of the families own sewing machines and occasionally a phonograph.

THE BEGUM OF BHOPAL

The Begum of Bhopal is the only woman ruler in India. She rules over a territory 6,874 square miles in extent, with a population of 900,000.

Javanese Marriages

A marriage among the Javanese is quite a lengthy ordeal. Such a thing as courtship is practically unknown. The parents choose partners for their children, although the latter are consulted and their consent obtained. The parents discuss among themselves the terms of the marriage, and then the girl's parents give a betrothal pledge to those of the bridegroom, who soon after offer the purchase price for the bride in silver, jewels, stucco, food, and so on. Each of the girl's parents also receives some special personal gift. On the day when the presents are delivered all the relatives and friends on both sides are invited to a series of festivities and banquets, which last several days, being furnished first by one side and then by the other. The eve of the actual wedding, which usually takes place a week later, is spent by the future husband and wife in a vigil, without which it is thought that great ill-fortune would follow. Next day the happy couple, with their parents and friends, appear before the priest, who duly unites them.

A healthy person must eat healthy food. Do you know how to distinguish healthy from unhealthy food? For instance, a good egg will sink in water. Boiled eggs which adhere to the shell are fresh. The shell of a fresh egg has a lime-like surface.

Locomotor ataxia is a chronic, progressive disease of the nervous system. It affects the spinal cord particularly. On this account it interferes with muscular co-ordination. It causes the gait of the patient to be irregular and uncertain.

The British coast is so well protected with lighthouses that if a ship sailed right round England, Scotland, and Ireland by night, only on six occasions would it be where it could not see the flash of a lighthouse lantern.

GOING MAD FROM THE TERRIFIC PAIN

Prominent Merchant Thinks His Life Was Saved By "Fruit-a-tives".

DRYSDALE, ONT., JUNE 15th, 1913.

"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using 'Fruit-a-tives', I recommend them to my customers. They were a great boon to me, I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to inflammation of the brain, but I took 'Fruit-a-tives' steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking 'Fruit-a-tives', and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness."

THE WALLS OF JELICO

(Being reflections of an A.T., somewhere in the region of the Arctic Circle.)

By Harold Begbie.

From The London Chronicle.

When you yawn your way upstairs, shake your duds off, bolt your prayers, and blinking on the pillow lay your head—lucky brute!

Are you shut your eyes and snore, have a thought of this here war, —and consider how you get your daily bread—cheese and all!

For no Prussian bullets rain on your pretty window pane; no Uhlans rush your room to draw your teeth;

You're not screaming full of dread for the kiddies overhead or the kitten in the kitchen underneath—pretty puss!

And for why? Because you know, though no gratitude you show, that a lot of lumps of steel with works inside—tic-a-tac!

Are forever on the feel round the funk-hole out of Kiel where the little bluecoat boys of William hide; But you ought to lie awake, yerse you did and no mistake, just to fancy how we beggars rub along.

On a nippy T.B.D. rolling nasty in the sea on a moonless night with breakers going strong—hold my hand!

When we're stealing through the dark showing not a blink or spark, and watching for a mine or puff of smoke,

And hoping that the nose of the German when it shows may be punched into a blooming kind of toke—falling flat!

On the flagship's bridge a man takes a long and quiet scan of a certain bit of coastline lying east—Vaterland!

And it's him what has to think how to get your meat and drink and like wise how to save you from the Beast;

It is him, too, has to know how and where to smash the doe as soon as e'er that foe is on the crawl, He must make his mind up slick and let at 'em awful quick and spoil old Tirpitz's mug for good and all—full inside!

There is no one by to say, Can I lend a hand, J. J.? There is no one near to treat him like a friend, He's the loneliest bloke at sea, and, thank God, it isn't fine, but you're safe while he is keeping up his end; He is Admiral Issimo, which is Johnnie Jellicoe, and I hope you'll breathe his name in all your prayers—don't forget!

For he's You and Me and All, and if his old walls should fall earth would close for alterations and repairs—Burn the map!

Now I'll leave you to your sleep with the hope that food is cheap, and wishing that the news may quickly run—

How the German fleet that was isn't any more because the ocean hadn't room for more than one—Schlafen wohl!

Now I'll leave you to your sleep with the hope that food is cheap, and wishing that the news may quickly run—
