MOTION FOR FREE POTATOES

Mr. Carvell declined to admit that the potatoes of New Brunswick are diseased. He gave the minister of agriculture credit for having made a sincere attempt in the matter. He thought that the House was entitled to a statement from Hon. Mr. Burrell as to what had been done.

A. A. McLean of Queens, P.E.I., said that two officials of the department of agriculture had been in Prince Edward Island since 1912 investigating the matter of disease in potatoes and they had done good work. He believed that something should have been done in regard to this matter years ago.

Mr. McLean quoted Mr. Carvell as saying that the United States was justified in putting on the embargo.

Mr. Carvell said that he had not made such a statement.

Mr. McLean—But the member for Frontenac, Dr. Edwards, who has just spoken, made the same remark and the member for Carleton did not deny it.

Mr. Carvell—I wish to state that I make it a practice never to pay any attention to anything said by the member for Frontenac. The member for Queens, I put in a different category. I insist that he withdraw the statement.

After some wrangling Mr. McLean said that under the rules he would have to withdraw what he had said, but he believed that Hansard would show him to be right.

Proceeding, Mr. McLean said the government should get at the bottom of the potato embargo business. He declared himself as opposed to Mr. Loggie's motion. Were it to go into effect the American producers would be able to undersell the Canadian farmers in their own markets.

Hon. Mr. Burrell considered the proposal of Mr. Loggie an extraordinary one. He considered it a declaration that the United States was insincere when it placed an embargo on Canadian potatoes. On behalf of himself and the government he objected to this proposal to take off the duty of twenty per cent. on an article produced so largely in Canada. The ten per cent. duty which has to be paid on potatoes entering the United States amounts to only five cents per bushel and it would be better for Canadian exporters to pay this and keep on our own protective duties.

Mr. Burrell went on to sketch the negotiations between the Canadian and American governments in regard to the embargo. He pointed out that the Americans had not at first placed any embargo on Maine potatoes, although they were diseased. They had placed an embargo on these potatoes only after strong representations from Canada, and then they had not subjected Maine potatoes to the same restrictions as placed on those from Canada.

Hon. W. T. White said that while the resolution was in its terms limited to United States potatoes, it would not in fact be so limited. It would include potatoes from the British empire and from favored nations as well.

F. B. Carvell declared that the Maine farmers were not afraid of New Brunswick potatoes, but of European competition.

Hon. Martin Burrell said that European potatoes were already barred by an embargo on account of canker.

Mr. Carvell retorted that shiploads of European potatoes were coming in from countries which had no cankers. This was disputed by the minister of agriculture.

There was a lively tilt between Mr. White and Mr. Carvell over the home market, which Mr. Carvell described as "nonsense," as far as potatoes were concerned.

Mr. White retorted that if he would visit Ontario or Quebec he would find the home market was no nonsense. It was the appreciation by the Ontario farmer of the home market that defeated reciprocity.

"No, the election was won on money and the Ne Temere decree," retorted Mr. Carvell.

Mr. White said he did not propose to bandy words but he would like to point out that Sir Wilfrid Laurier came out for a moment for free food, but backed up on account of the fact that Liberals representing rural constituencies were opposed to it.

Mr. Loggie's motion was rejected at a late hour on a vote of 60 to 33.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

THE MEETING.

Mayor Mitchell was in the chair. The committee of the City Council, composed of Ald. Walker, Ald. Osborne and Ald. Lemont, appointed to consider the matter, was present. The Local Improvement Association was represented by Lt.-Col. T. G. J. Loggie, Judge Wilson and C. F. Chestnut. Mrs. Harvey and Miss Beverley represented the Women's Institute. The Roads and Streets Department was represented by Road Commissioner H. C. Jewett. Prof. Miller of the Forestry School at U.N.B., was also present.

The matter of greater care of the trees was discussed generally. Prof. Miller made a very interesting address in which he pointed out various methods of tree-protection and care. On the suggestion that a plan of the city's streets and public grounds be prepared there was some discussion. Col. Loggie placed the cost of its preparation at $250. Prof. Miller put it lower. It was suggested that Prof. Miller should supervise the care of the trees. The professor stated that for the amount mentioned he would prepare a plan and act as superintendent for a year. During the meeting the damage done the trees by various corporations was mentioned and it was stated by some that the same difficulty would be met.

It is the intention that the Roads and Streets Department will be at the disposal of the committee of association under whose care the trees may be placed.

MEDIATORS WORKING

tain a military status.

The United States government in its formal reply to the armistice proposal will expressly stipulate that any untoward act toward Americans will be regarded as an infraction of the armistice.

London, April 29—The relief caused by Mexico City by the proffered mediation of the South American republics was only transitory, according to a despatch dated April 28 from the Mexican capital to The Daily Telegraph. The correspondent adds that after having believed it had to face a war with the United States the Mexican government again finds itself confronted by revolution under more unfavorable circumstances. It fears that mediation has come too late to effect the struggle and that it will only prove to be a vain attempt to settle by pacific means a situation which apparently is approaching a violent solution.

Francisco Villa, according to the correspondent, has united under his command the most important nucleus of the combatant forces and appears to have resumed hostilities with greater vehemence and success.

President Huerta's government expresses confidence in its ability to master the situation, but there exists a feeling of suspense and anxiety and even of revolt.

General Huerta declared on Monday that he would fight to the end and that his life and Mexican independence would end together.
