submarines, according to an announcement given out by the official bureau this afternoon.

Continuing, the announcement says a considerable number of the crews of these vessels were saved by H.M. S. Lowestoft and by a division of torpedo boat destroyers. Trawlers and their boats also aided in the work of rescue. The Aboukir was torpedoed first, the Hogue and Cressy drew in close to her and were standing by to save her crew, when they also were torpedoed.

The warships Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy are cruisers of the same type. Their tonnage and armament are identical. These vessels had a displacement of 12,000 tons, were 440 feet long, 33.5 feet wide, and drew twenty-six feet of water. Each one had a complement of seven-hundred and fifty-five men, including officers and crew.

These three cruisers had armaments consisting of two 9.2 inch guns, 12 six-inch guns, 12 pounders and five three pounders.

The Aboukir and the Cressy were built at Govan in 1900, and the Hogue was built at Barrow in the same year. They cost more than $3,900,000 each.

SEVEN HUNDRED SAFE

Harwich, Eng., Sept. 23.—It is computed here that seven hundred men from the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue were saved.

Thirty uninjured officers, survivors of the three sunken warships, arrived here tonight. They had been rescued from the water and wore improvised clothes.

Eighty other survivors were landed at Perinton Quay, three miles west of Harwich.

287 SURVIVORS ON ONE VESSEL

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 22.—The steamer Freres arrived at Amsterdam tonight with two-hundred and eighty-seven survivors from the British cruisers sunk by the German submarines. One dead and a few wounded were also aboard.

London, Sept. 22.—A despatch received here from The Hook of Holland says the Dutch steamer Tien has arrived there, bringing twenty British wounded, and some dead, killed in France, September 15.

NEW BRITISH CASUALTY LIST.

London, Sept. 22.—The official bureau tonight issued a casualty list under date of September 17 which shows 28 officers killed, 46 wounded and 14 missing. Three officers previously reported missing have returned to their commands.

Of other ranks 150 wounded and 200 missing are reported.

ALLIES GAIN.

At the Battlefront, Sept. 22, via Paris. —Not a moment's respite was given last night to the German forces entrenched along the ninety mile front running along the Rivers Aisne and Oise, and extending into the Woivreidistrict.

The batteries of the allied forces never ceased firing entirely all night, although their activity diminished after sundown.

The Germans occupying the trenches kept constantly on the alert, but until 2 o'clock this morning no aggressive move was started from the allies: lines facing them. Then all the allied batteries seemed to open fire together and every point along the front became very active.

At the western end of the line the allied infantry gathered in the trenches and simultaneously at various points crept out and advanced cautiously in wide open lines toward the German positions. The French and British on several occasions succeeded in surprising and driving back the occupants of the German trenches but only after the most stubborn fighting and after heavy losses both to the attacking and to the defending forces. In every instance the allied troops regained the ground captured, and immediately dug themselves in.

Further east the Germans themselves developed a strong attack, but were beaten back with the bayonet, only to return again and again, to be finally driven off to their original positions. The allied commanders were able to give the troops who had been occupying the advance line a welcome rest, pushing to the front fresh brigades of batteries, hitherto held in reserve, and which were only too anxious to come into actual contact.

Military experts estimate that nearly two million or more men are now in the zone where the battle has been in progress ten days.

BACK TO PARIS

London, Sept. 23.—An unconfirmed news agency report says that the French government has returned from Bordeaux to Paris.

DIMINUTION IN

TALK OF PEACE

Washington, Sept. 20.—President Wilson feels that the opportune moment for the United States Government effectively to exert its influences for peace in Europe has not arrived. This was stated today on the highest authority.

For the present, it is said, unofficial and informal efforts to persuade the Government to press for peace in Europe will be unavailing. The President has learned that Great Britain, Russia and France, particularly, are in no mood to talk peace, notwithstanding rumors and informal hints which have come from Berlin as to the alleged wishes of Germany for a discussion of terms.

There is a steady diminution here of peace talk. Instead the possibilities of an extension of the European conflict to Italy and Rumania are widely discussed among well-informed officials.

"Rumania will follow Italy," said the representative of an American diplomatic officer recently. Since then there have been added evidences of an entente between Rome and Bucharest. In both countries popular demonstrations in favor of the Allies have been frequent.

Press despatches have recorded the uneasiness of Austria over Italy's mobilization along the northern frontier and the concentration of Austrian forces along the Italian border. Indications from official dispatches point to the probable junction of Rumanian forces with Serbia in the offensive attack on Austria. In addition, Rumania's army would relieve the Russian forces somewhat and perhaps increase Russian activity in East Prussia. These are among the speculations heard in diplomatic circles.

YOUNG COUPLES UNITED

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR

A very pretty wedding took place at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. F. McMurray, Waterloo Row, when their daughter, Miss Mary Edith McMurray, was united in marriage to Mr. Lloyd M. Vanwart. Rev. W. H. Smith, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride looked charming in white charmuse with rose cut lace trimming and veil and orange blossoms. Miss McMurray, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, and Miss Sadie Waycot played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Vanwart will leave this evening for Boston, New York and Philadelphia, returning via Niagara Falls and Toronto.

A QUIET WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Rhoda Fox, of this city, and Mr. Arthur Grant of Woodstock, was solemnized at the George Street Baptist Parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Wilson. Miss Lulu Phillips of Woodstock, was the maid of honor and Mr. Murray Farrell of this city, supported the groom. After the ceremony the happy couple left on an extended honeymoon trip to St. John Boston and New York.
