SPINNING ASBESTOS

A Very Fine Thread Can be Made of This Material

The spinning of asbestos is a delicate and interesting operation. When it leaves the cobbing sheds the product is sent to the spinning mills in bags containing about 100 pounds. The asbestos is then carded by a machine resembling the saw-tooth gin used in cotton mills.

This machine separates the tangled fibres, upon the completion of which operation there occurs a final carding on a regular carding machine. Leaving this carding machine, the asbestos is combed smoothly and the fibres are laid parallel in a uniform mass.

The next step is to treat this mass in a rotary spinning machine. First, the mass is spun into a coarse yarn. Then it is drawn and spun until it becomes fine and quite strong. In case a hard, strong thread is required for certain fabrics, the asbestos yarn is placed in a doubling and twisting machine, where two or more of the yarn threads are combined. If the asbestos is to be impregnated with rubber, a smooth, hard finished thread is not desirable.

For a long time the problem of spinning asbestos presented many difficulties by reason of the manner in which the threads persisted in slipping past one another. Eventually it was found that, under the microscope, a thread of asbestos displayed a notched surface, and that by means of special twisting the spinning could be successfully accomplished.

The result is that, after many years of experiment, manufacturers now days are able to turn out a single asbestos thread 100 yards in length and not exceeding an ounce in weight.

Sawdust Bread

There is a bakery in Germany that turns out 20,000 loaves of sawdust bread daily and finds a ready market for this output. Although this "wooden bread" is intended for consumption for horses only, it is claimed by the manufacturer that in case of famine it would furnish a nutritious and highly satisfactory food for human beings. The sawdust is first subjected to a process of fermentation and various chemical manipulation and is mixed with one-third part of rye flour. It is then formed into loaves and baked in an oven like any other bread.

Two Doctors Said He Had Consumption.

DR. WOOD'S
NORWAY PINE SYRUP
CURED HIM.

Mrs. John Elliff, St. John's West, Ont., writes:—"My little boy was very bad with whooping cough and severe cold. I went to two doctors with him, and they said he had Consumption. I could get no relief for him, he would cough all night long, with a dry hacking cough."

I was persuaded to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and was surprised to see the first bottle did him good. I have had five bottles, and they cured him. He rests well at night now, and is well and hearty. If he gets a cold we always give him Pine Syrup and he is soon better. I did not think I could raise him, but I am thankful to say Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup saved him from being a consumptive."

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the admonition to all persons affected by the earlier stages of throat and lung trouble, as failure to take hold at once will cause many years of suffering, and in the end that terrible scourge "Consumption."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is without an equal for all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

FISHERMAN WANT

THE U. S. MARKET

(St. John Standard.)

Lobster fishermen of St. John and Charlotte counties will offer vigorous opposition to the effort made by the packers to induce the government to prohibit the export of medium lobsters to the United States. The movement among the packers originated in Nova Scotia, where the packers have had difficulty getting supplies owing to the export of live lobsters to the American markets. What is known as medium lobsters are those measuring from nine to ten and a quarter inches in length. If the government would prohibit the export of lobsters under ten and a quarter inches the packers would be able to buy the medium sized lobsters for canning purposes.

In St. John and Charlotte counties the canning of lobsters has practically ceased. Nearly all the catch this season has been shipped fresh to the markets in Canada or the States and the fishermen get much better prices for their lobsters than they did under the conditions prevailing years ago. The move being made by the Nova Scotia packers has naturally alarmed the lobster fishermen in this district, as the government would have to apply the same rule here that it might do in Nova Scotia and the fishermen would again have to sell a portion of their catch to the packers at low prices.

While the bulk of the lobsters sold in the American market are above medium size, M. H. Nickerson, who is an authority on the fisheries' estimates that the fishermen of Western Nova Scotia sell at least half a million dollars' worth of medium lobsters in the Boston market each season.

Broken lots of medium lobsters have been selling in Boston this winter for eighteen and nineteen cents a pound, while the Nova Scotia packers in the western section of the province have only been paying eight cents a pound and in sections where the fishermen can not reach the live lobster market, only four cents.

The ostensible object of the move to prohibit the export of medium lobsters is to protect the packers but the fishermen claim such a regulation would be in restraint of trade and would greatly decrease their earnings in order to swell the dividends of the packing companies. It was stated by a local fisherman yesterday that petitions would be circulated in St. John and Charlotte counties protesting against the proposed prohibition.

Where no Money is Used

The Island of Ascension, in the Atlantic Ocean, is of volcanic formation, and has a population of only 450. It was uninhabited until the confinement of Napoleon at St. Helena, when it was occupied by a small British force.

Ascension is governed by a captain appointed by the British Admiralty. There is no private property in land or rents, no taxes, and no use for money. The flocks and herds are public property and the meat is issued as rations. So are the vegetables grown on the farms. When an island fisherman makes a catch he brings it to the guard-room, where it is issued by the sergeant-major. Practically the entire population are sailors and they work at most of the common trades. The muleteer is a Jack Tar; so is the gardener; so are the shepherds, the stockmen, the grocers, masons, carpenters and plumbers. The climate is almost perfect and anything can be grown.

First Hospital in 370

Hospitals were originally hospitals for the reception of travelers. Among the earliest hospitals were the one founded by Valens in Caesarea in 370 and that built at Rome in the time of St. Jerome. The earliest date of a hospital in England is 1080, when Lanfranc, Archbishop of Canterbury founded two, one for leprosy and one for ordinary diseases.

One at Jerusalem, built by the Knights of St. John in 1112, had accommodations for 2,000 inmates, with an infirmary. Of the first or English hospital was St. Bartholomew's, which was built as a priory in 1103; handed over to the citizens of London in 1547, and rebuilt in 1729.

Bethlehem, of Padua, a priory built in 1247, was given to King Henry VIII. for the reception of the insane. This is the oldest hospital for the insane in Europe, with the exception of the one in Granada.

Arctic Fur Harvest

Captain Bernier, the Arctic explorer, stated, after a trip to Baffin Land that he was absolutely convinced that Canada has an inexhaustible harvest of furs and other commercial commodities along her northern boundaries. "I brought back with me," he said, "a full cargo of furs, ivory, fish and oil. There is a harvest up there that Canada of the future will be glad to for it is boundless. Of the furs I brought back, the foxes, blue and white, are the best, but there are some very fine bearskins and seal."

Nerves Were So Bad

THOUGHT SHE WOULD GO OUT OF HER MIND.

Diseases of the nervous system are very common. All the organs of the body may be sound while the nerve centres may be affected.

Many women become run down and worn out by household cares and duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with the nerves shattered, and the heart action weakened.

On the first sign of any weakness of either the heart or nerves, flagging energy, or physical breakdown, do not wait until your case becomes hopeless.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will at once quieten the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

Mrs. Archie Goodine, Tilley, N.B., writes:—"When I was troubled with my heart two years ago, I was very bad. My nerves were so unstrung that sometimes I would almost go out of my mind. I doctored myself with everything I could get, until at last I got four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they have cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful remedy, and will recommend it to all sufferers."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
