ODD THINGS ON TRAINS

Royal Autographs Are to be Seen on a Danish Car Window

On a mountain railway near Salzburg a railway carriage is actually fitted with a balloon. At the mountain top a tank below the car is filled with water, sufficient to counteract the upward pull of the gas bag, which the vehicle thus drags down with it upon the return journey.

Trains are frequently put to odd uses. The window of a railway saloon in Denmark forms a royal autograph album. Royal visitors scratch their names on one of the panes, which now shows, among other Royal autographs, those of King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

The vestibule to the train belonging to the German Emperor holds several fine statues, the car belonging to the Viceroy of India is roofed with water tanks, which contribute towards coolness, and furnish water for domestic purposes on the train. Russia's important trains carry a car, above which rises a little belfry containing a chime of bells.

PECULIAR NAMES

In the Somerset House Registers I evidence that Mineral Waters, Frosty Winter and Alfred Day Weeks once walked on English soil. A father in Hampshire County of the United States named his sons Primus, Secundus, Tertius and Quartus, but it was a Canadian, one Cumber, that was named Quintus, and newspapers in good faith often printed his name Q. Cumber.

There are fathers who, at their wife's end, give the name of a place to a child. Was Batten the real name of the nickname of the man that shot Lincoln's assassin? Was not Rudyard Kipling named after a place? An drew Lang in one of his books named the children of a scurrier, who named them after places where he happened to be when he heard of their births. The names were St. Petersburg, Naples, Kattagat and Skagerrak (twins), and the only daughter was named Vienna.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.

Dr. Wood's
Norway Pine Syrup
CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle. Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and manufactured by The T. Millum Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

USE OR ORNAMENT

In these days of up-to-date methods it is surprising how much of the past still remains, more especially in regard to the clothes we wear. On the backs of most gloves will be found three thin strips. These marks correspond to the fourchette pieces between the fingers. In earlier times gloves were not made so neatly as they are to-day, and the stitching of the fingers was carried down past of the way on to the back of the glove, being used to conceal the seams. In later days, with the help of the improved means of manufacture, the stitching did not go beyond the fingers, but the embroidery was considered as an ornament, and remains so.

To a practically similar reason does the "clock" on a sock owe its origin. In the days when stockings were made of cloth the seams occurred where the "clock" are now displayed, the decoration being utilized to hide the seams. Now that stockings are woven or knitted, there is no such need for ornamentation, but far from being allowed to die out, modern stockings often have "clocks" as an improvement to their appearance.

The little bow which will invariably be found in the leather band inside a man's hat is a survival of the time when a hat was made by taking a piece of leather, boring two holes through it, and drawing it together with a piece of string. Sometimes attached to the bow is a piece of ribbon, which is laced in and out of the lining for a short distance on either side of the bow, but generally speaking the ribbon is missing.

Greater than Panama's Bridge of Water

The Panama Canal is the logical outcome of the trend of modern commerce—it is monumental evidence of the present-day need for shortening distance—for lessening time and for reducing cost of distribution between maker and consumer.

In point of distance, the Panama will bring the Pacific nearer to the Atlantic by 1,000 miles. In point of time, the sea voyage between Halifax and Vancouver will be shortened by 24 days. In point of cost, the canal will very materially lessen the expense of carrying freight between these places. But there is a stronger factor than even the Panama in shortening distances, lessening cost and saving time between manufacturer and user.

It is Advertising—

It is the quickest—

It is the most direct—

And it is the cheapest—means of communication between the maker and user of goods.

For instance, Advertising enabled a manufacturer in Nova Scotia to carry a demand for his product from his factory to the Pacific Coast

—in a few days

—at an insignificant cost compared with slower and more laborious selling methods.

In one week, thousands learned of his product where it would have taken years for the news to get around without advertising.

To the Manufacturers of Canada:

You will be alert to take advantage of the Panama route for the physical transportation of your goods. Have you considered how quickly, how far, and at what small cost the Advertising Trade Route will carry demand for those goods?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
