CALLING FOR VOLUNTEERS FOR OVERSEAS DRAFT

The 55th Battalion has been called upon for an overseas contingent of a captain, four subalterns, eight sergeants, eight corporals two buglers and 232 men. The officers selected to go are Capt. H. J. Smith, 62nd St. John Fusiliers; Lieut. C. L. Graves, 67th Carleton Light Infantry; Lieut. A. W. Gregory, 71st York Regt.; Lieut. C. Martin, 82nd Abegweit Light Infantry. It is probable that the local detachment of the 55th will be called on to furnish men. Privates J. B. Rainsford and George Rowe have stated their intention to volunteer.

The detachment is to go to England to take the place of troops drafted with the battalions at the front.

RALPH NEILL ENLISTS.

Mr. J. S. Neill of this city, has received word that his youngest son, Mr. Ralph Neill, construction engineer for the Cedar Rapids Power Company at Cedar Rapids, P.Q., has enlisted as a gunner in the 27th Battery of Canadian Field Artillery being organized for overseas service. Mr. Neill is a graduate in electrical engineering of the U.N.B. and previous to entering the employ of the Cedar Rapids Company, worked in Mexico and also in British Columbia. He has been granted leave of absence by his employers until the close of the war. Gunner Neill is a six-footer, strong and active, knows how to shoot straight and has had a lot of experience at camping out and roughing it. The battery which he has joined is commanded by Col. Paine and will go into training camp at Valcartier or Petewawa.

One of the recent recruits for the 55th Battalion is Jack H. Brooks, only son of Mr. J. H. Brooks, manager of the Bank of British North America. He has for several years been on the staff of the Bank of Montreal and came here from Montreal to enlist. He is a young man of good physique and will have no difficulty in holding up his end with the rest of the boys.

G. W. ROSS, REAPPOINTED

George W. Ross, who has held the office of Building Inspector for some years, was reappointed last night at the same salary of $150 per year and is to be under the direction of the Fire Committee. This appointment will probably be confirmed at tonight's meeting of the City Council.

Ald. Wilkinson, in bringing the matter up at last night's committee meeting, said that Inspector Ross himself had asked that somebody be selected to whom he should report. Everyone realized that the salary was inadequate if all the regulations were lived up to, but the present arrangement was as good as could be made at the present time.

Ald. Baxter suggested that the Building Inspector be made responsible to the chairman of the Fire Committee.

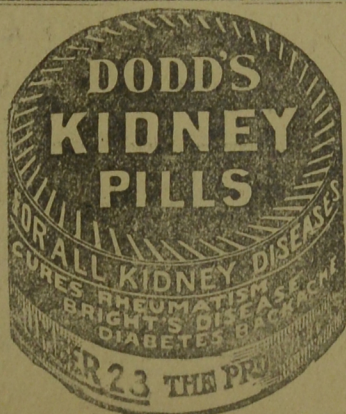

Ald. McKnight agreed with Ald. Baxter and suggested that the inspector report monthly.

It was finally decided that Inspector Ross be reappointed and be under the direction of the Fire Committee.

AFTER DELINQUENTS.

Ald. Wilkinson last night introduced a resolution of the Finance Committee that executions issue at once for taxes in arrears. The resolution was passed.

It is probable that H. C. Rutter will be reappointed collector of taxes at tonight's meeting of the City Council. The appointment will be by the month instead of the year.

CANADIANS MADE A GALLANT STAND

General Turner extended his force for about 2,500 yards, at right angles to his original front, to prevent as far as possible, the German divisions, which were pouring in overwhelming numbers, from completely cutting the Canadians off by enveloping them from the rear. Thus the Highlanders had to cover a rectangular of about five thousand yards, the latter part of which was in the open.

FIGHT LASTED ALL NIGHT.

"It appears this fight lasted through the afternoon and night. On Friday morning the Tenth Battalion, under command of the gallant Col. Boyle and Major McLaren, both of whom fell, and the Sixteenth Canadian Highlanders, made a desperate attack on the German position and recaptured the four guns. They were supported by the Second Eastern Battalion under Colonel David Watson, and the Queen's Own, under Colonel Rennie.

"This was the position up to the forenoon of Friday, the 23rd. With the Canadian Highlanders extended to double their normal trench front, one-half of it in the open, and assisted by the Tenth Battalion, from Southern Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, they not only held ten times their own number in check, but they actually re-took the guns from the enemy and maintained their position, but the loss, as must have been expected, was appalling.

"However, the Germans had advanced six miles to the rear of the French position and there seemed nothing to prevent their getting in behind the Canadian line, greatly extended as it was and terribly diminished. Accordingly, another brilliant charge was carried out at some German trenches to the rear of the former French positions, under General Mercer, with the First and Fourth Battalions of the First Brigade, supported by the Second and Third, and the German trenches, temporarily erected, were recaptured. In this movement two British brigades also took part, as well as the remainder of the Canadians.

"Meantime the enemy concentrated able to hold firm against great odds, several divisions on the rectangle in the Highlander Brigade, that is, the extreme left of their original position.

"The troops in the trenches were but the scattered fragments holding the line, in the open, at right angles to the trenches, they were obliged to gradually fall back before vastly superior numbers.

"This large masses amounting, it is estimated, to three divisions, or about sixty thousand Germans, got in the rear of the Highlanders, thus cutting them off, but they refused to surrender, and the firing was heard far into the night, the Germans being in front, on the left flank, and on the rear.

"Whether the gallant Highlanders were annihilated or taken prisoners, is not known, but so long as a cartridge remained they fought.

"Thus, the fighting which began on Friday afternoon, raged throughout that evening and night, until daylight on Saturday, when the First Canadian Brigade arrived and reinforced.

"Early in that forenoon three British brigades came up also and did valiant service in reinforcing and prolonging the lines to the left. During Saturday and Sunday the fighting continued by the Canadians and British and ably assisted by the French and Belgians, the line of defence was reformed.

"The Canadians have suffered severely, but their heroism is unquestioned. Many of them were without food or water for upwards of twenty-four hours, and some for much longer but they unflinchingly held their positions."
