PRINCETON UNIVERSITY HAS NEW PRESIDENT

Princeton, N.J., May 11—The president of the United States, the chief justice of the Supreme Court and a host of other distinguished public men, scholars, scientists and theologians today paid tribute to John Grier Hibben as he pledged himself before a great concourse of people that filled the campus in front of historic Nassau Hall of Princeton University to be the president of America's fourth oldest educational institution. The new president, who has been a member of the Princeton faculty for more than twenty years, succeeds Woodrow Wilson, who resigned the presidency of the university in October, 1910, after his nomination as the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey.

The inauguration ceremony this morning was held out of doors, with the principal actors on a temporary platform built on the steps of Nassau Hall, the oldest and most famous of the college buildings. Over the platform waved the yellow and black banners of the university, while the great seal resplendent in colors was also in evidence. The colors and seals of the oldest American colleges, Harvard, William and Mary, Yale, Pennsylvania, Washington and Lee, Columbia, Brown and Dartmouth were also used in the decorations.

The preliminary interest in the day's ceremonies centered wholly in the inaugural procession. The chief marshal of the day headed the line, followed by the president of the alumni association and the president of the corporation, the fellows of the corporation, the official representatives of the State of New Jersey, and the dignitaries, civil, educational and military. Very conspicuous were the delegates and guests from a hundred institutions of learning, garbed in the academic gowns of their colleges, and their degrees indicated by their gorgeous hoods. While the procession wended its way through the college grounds the spectators were taking their places in the great rows of seats that spread out over the campus in front of Nassau Hall.

The following was the order of the principal exercises of the day: Choral-Vocal Creator Spiritus (Palestrina), the alumni chorus.

Prayer—Dr. Henry Van Dyke, professor of English literature.

Oath of office administered by Justice Pitney of the United States.

Charter and keys delivered by John Aikman Stewart, senior trustee.

Inaugural address by the new president.

One Hundredth Psalm by the alumni chorus.

Benediction—Rev. Edwin S. Lines, bishop of Newark.

At the conclusion of the inauguration exercises the principal participants and guests attended a luncheon in the university gymnasium. President Taft, Chief Justice White, President Lowell of Harvard, President Hadley of Yale, President Butler of Columbia, and Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of the Princeton Theological Seminary, delivered addresses at the luncheon.

Princeton's new president was born fifty-one years ago in Peoria, Ill., and was graduated in 1882 from the institution of which he has now become the head. He went into the ministry, but in 1891 entered the faculty of Princeton as instructor in logic. The versatility of his scholarship was early demonstrated on his return to his alma mater, for in addition to his work in logic and psychology he conducted classes in mathematics, Biblical literature and ethics. He was advanced to an assistant professorship of logic in 1894, and in 1897 to the Stuart professorship of logic, which he held until his election to the presidency. He is widely known as an author, having published numerous volumes on logic, philosophy and belles lettres. In 1896 he published his "Inductive Logic," which is extensively used as a textbook in schools and colleges.

Princeton University dates from 1746, in which year a royal charter was granted for the founding of the institution. In its earlier career it was known as the College of New Jersey. Many men of wide fame have served as president of the institution. Among the most distinguished of them were Rev. Aaron Burr, father of the famous Aaron Burr; Jonathan Edwards, the famous Connecticut Calvinist; and John Witherspoon, who was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

DR. G. W. PEARSON TO RUN IN KINGS

Sussex, N. B., May 10—A strong delegation of Liberals from Sussex and vicinity, accompanied by A. B. Copp, M. P., leader of the opposition, waited on Dr. G. W. Pearson tonight and requested him to allow his name to be presented as a candidate for the local legislature to the Liberal convention at Hampton next Thursday.

Dr. Pearson replied favorably and there was great satisfaction expressed by the delegation. Dr. Pearson is very popular throughout the country and there is little doubt he will be nominated and elected, too.

WHAT YOU HEAR IN OLD QUEBEC

"I am well, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills"

Mrs. Gagnor, Riviere au Dore, one of those who raise the glad shout of good health

Riviere au Dore, Chicoutimi Co., Quebec, May 10—(Special)—"Yes I am well and I give all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills." These words have been uttered again and again in almost every corner of the Province of Quebec. This time they come from Mrs. Joseph Gagnor, a well known young married woman of this place.

"My back and head ached and my limbs would swell," Mrs. Gagnor continues. "I always had a bitter taste in my mouth, and especially in the morning. Twelve boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Mrs. Gagnor's symptoms showed beyond a doubt that her trouble was from the kidneys. Naturally she turned to the old reliable Kidney cure that had proved its worth in thousands of other cases. She took Dodd's Kidney Pills and she is well. Kidney Disease is the greatest enemy the women of today have to fight. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it. That's why they have earned the name "suffering woman's best friend."

LAW ENFORCEMENT IN FREDERICTON

To the Editor of The Mail:

Dear Sir:—In a communication to yesterday's Daily Mail, Mr. M. F. Reid of Marysville, dealing with a complaint against the police of Fredericton, says, "I would like for some body in authority to tell me what kind of law you have in the City of Fredericton."

Mr. Reid's query asks for information that is being very generally sought by Fredericton citizens, who regard the present administration of the law as supremely farcical and unequal.

A restaurant keeper, who sells a meal to a hungry visitor to the city is fined fifteen dollars and costs for his supposed offence against the Lord's Day Act, after the Justice Committee has seriously deliberated upon the complaint and approved of the prosecution. Suppose he had sold the customer a bottle of whiskey, would the offence have been the same? and if so, why do we not hear of prosecutions against the Bar Room Keepers of "Government House" hotel and all other Bars that are known to the police force—according to their own frank admissions—to continually violate the law on Sundays and every day? Are they restrained by the members of the so-called Administration of Justice Committee? and if so how and why? Bicyclists and automobile drivers are complained against and fined, while these slick vendors of liquid refreshments and their politically potent masters are allowed to defiantly violate the law.

And yet, with all this so notorious, the pulpits are silent, so-called temperance reformers are dumb, and respectable law-abiding citizens with bowed heads, ask "how long?"
