A TRIUMPHANT TOUR

The series of magnificent ovations which have been tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his tour of Ontario, have delighted and inspired his supporters in all parts of Canada and have confounded his opponents. It is more than a personal tribute of respect to the great Liberal chieftain, who in defeat or victory is easily the first Canadian; it is an indication that the people of Ontario have repented of their verdict of a year ago and are anxious to make amends for it. At first the subsidized Tory press sought to make light of Sir Wilfrid's Ontario tour but of late they have changed their tune. For instance, we find The Toronto News telling its readers that there were "great crowds at Woodstock to greet Sir Wilfrid," and that "the occasion was a gala day for the city." In its account of the great demonstration it says:

"Crowds poured in all day from the territory immediately surrounding, while large contingents were brought in from St. Thomas, Brantford, Ingersoll, Hamilton and other points. The streets as well as the pedestrians and vehicles were bedecked in holiday attire. Magnificent capacity audiences greeted the visitors at all four public meetings, and the speakers were in fine fettle. Never in its history has Woodstock seen a greater throng and probably will not see such again for many moons. It would have done credit to a Borden engagement even in Toronto or an Ulster anti-Home Rule demonstration. The estimate of visitors in the city is placed at no less than 2,000. During the monster torchlight procession in the evening the streets were almost impassable."

The News is one of the most rabid of Tory journals and therefore cannot very well be accused of over-drawing its picture of the great Liberal demonstration. It must not be forgotten that this remarkable demonstration in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier took place in Ontario, which province at the last election, just one year ago, returned only thirteen Liberals to seventy-three Conservatives. What does it all mean? Sir Wilfrid is the leader of a party vanquished at the polls a few months ago; he has no patronage or offices to bestow, yet we find the people of old Ontario acclaiming him as they would a conquering hero. It goes to show that there is plenty of fight yet in the old party; that Liberalism instead of being discouraged is ready, anxious and determined to retrieve the unfortunate disaster of a year ago.

The truth is that the late election was not won by the Tories on the issue of reciprocity. Their sweep in Ontario, as Hon. Mr. Graham pointed out in his speech at Peterboro' a few nights ago, was the result of the basest and most despicable methods which ever disgraced a political party in any country. The No Popery cry and the Ne Temere decree were used against Sir Wilfrid Laurier by unprincipled hirelings of the Tory party with deadly effect. This damnable canvass was not used on the public platforms but was whispered in the homes where no opportunity was given to expose its falsity. This was the case in Ontario and it was the case right here in the County of York. The most absurd falsehoods were industriously circulated; Sir Wilfrid was held up as the puppet of the Pope; it was claimed that he was responsible for the Ne Temere decree and it was also claimed that if he were returned to power the Pope would take up his residence in Montreal. It was by these base and treacherous appeals to passion and prejudice that Mr. Borden and his party won the day at the last election. Since then there has been an awakening. The highest courts in the land have vindicated the Laurier government in regard to the Ne Temere decree and have endorsed the stand taken by Sir Allen Aylesworth that parliament had no power to enact a marriage law. The question stands today precisely where it stood before the advent of Mr. Borden to office. A political party which sows the wind must reap the whirlwind. There is a sense of fair play among the people of this country which will assert itself sooner or later and a political party which attains power by such base deception and trickery will surely get its deserts. There are indications that the eyes of the people of Ontario have already been opened and sooner or later the electors of Canada will see to it that full justice is done the great Canadian who has given his life to his country and has used the great ability with which God has endowed him in an earnest effort to conciliate and reconcile the two great races which inhabit the northern half of this continent.

An Ottawa despatch to the Standard says that Mr. Harry Corby, ex-M.P., is likely to be appointed to the Senate vacancy caused by the death of Sir Richard Cartwright. Mr. Corby is well known throughout the country as the manufacturer of a popular brand of rye whiskey. If a Liberal government were to make such an appointment what a howl of indignation would go up from our old friend Rev. Dr. McLeod, editor of the Maritime Baptist.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was for the space of five minutes principal of a Baptist college at Woodstock, Ont., one day last week. He paid a visit to the institution and was appointed principal for the time being. He addressed the students briefly and then gave them a holiday.

SOUTHAMPTON BOY SHOT MONSTER MOOSE

After Wounding the Animal He ran to the Settlement and Procured Help

Southampton, Oct. 6.—The sixteen year old son of Mr. Albert Miller of Lower Southampton took his rifle, birch-bark horn last Thursday and went out hunting moose with the air of a well seasoned nimrod of the old school. He tramped boldly into the woods, at intervals pausing to toot on his horn and listen for the expectant moose; but the sun crept westward, till at last a little disheartened, he began to retrace his steps. When he regained his father's field he climbed over the high cedar pole fence and walked to the middle of the field where there was a log lying that his father had thrown down and having his rifle against the log, began to play with the horn, tooting it and trying how many different noises he could make. Suddenly he heard a noise in the edge of the woods. He turned quickly, and to his surprise and consternation he saw a large Bull moose leap over the fence and rush down upon him. He snatched up his rifle, and quick as thought, took aim, and fired at the wildly plunging brute, which with hair standing straight up on the back of its neck was coming towards him at a furious rate. The moment he fired he dropped his rifle and ran. He jumped so quick his hat fell where he was standing. He made for the fence towards home with all the speed he could command. He jumped the high pole fence and made for his home, now distant about one hundred and fifty rods. Rushing to the store, immediately across the road, he breathlessly told the proprietor, Mr. Wilnot Moore, what had occurred. Mr. Moore ran back to the field with the boy, and there up at the side where he had come in was the moose. Mr. Moore ran to the log, picked up the rifle, and as the moose turned from the fence which he was vainly trying to jump, Mr. Moore took deliberate aim, and at the crack of the rifle the great brute fell with a bullet behind the right ear. They then went up to him. He was quite dead. They then saw what the boy's shot had done. His left hip was broken and that leg useless. This made him stop in his mad rush for the boy, and prevented him from getting back over the pole fence, till the boy returned with his friend.

He was a monster—one of the largest ever shot here. His huge antlers measured from tip to tip exactly, seventy inches. Help was procured and by midnight by the aid of lanterns the huge brute was skinned and the meat cut up.

A Note—H. Four Correspondent's statement in regard to the antler spread of this moose is correct. It establishes a record for New Brunswick. The largest moose previously shot in this province was taken by Dr. W. L. Munro of Providence, R. I. on the Nepisquit River a few years ago. It had an antler spread of 68½ inches.

THE STOCK MARKET FAIRLY ACTIVE

New York, N.Y., Oct. 8.—The stock market opening was fairly active, with the price changes unimportant, although they were as a rule declines. There was some bear pressure but comparatively little other selling and interest in the bull game was much greater than in the course of events in the market. U. S. Steel opened at 78½ and 78½, the latter being the equivalent of Monday's closing price. Stock was subjected to considerable selling pressure which it successfully resisted. Heaviness of the copper metal market in London was reflected in an initial decline of ½ in Amalgamated Copper and of ½ in others. There appears to have been rather good selling of these stocks o. late.
