STAGE CALLS FOR REAL COUNTRY GIRLS

New York, Aug. 10—The "new type" of chorus girl has arrived and she is the pick of the land, if the theatrical press agent is to be believed. There have been attempts in the past to change chorus "types" but usually "she was the same old girl with a different curl and a new, big, wide-brimmed hat," as the song runs or, as the Broadway verse-maker wrote:

Her hair at first was lovely brown;
She yellowed it next year,
And then she changed it to a red,
And now it's black, I hear!

But this "newest" type is not made up of the same old girls who have faded their dainty toes at the glistening domes in the front row year after year. Honest! She isn't even a New York girl! What!

No; she is the attempt of Charles Frohman to give Broadway realism in the chorus as well as in the action and in the dialogue and in the scenery in his coming musical production "The Girl From Montmartre," with which Richard Carle and Hattie Williams will open the Criterion Theatre.

Mr. Frohman returned from London recently and saw a rehearsal of the chorus selected.

OLD CHORUS WON'T DO.

"It won't do," he declared. "It's just the same kind of a chorus that people have been seeing year after year. We've got to have something new. If our scenes call for simple little country girls and bridesmaids and the like, we've got to have the real thing."

So telegrams were sent all over the country to local managers to scour the towns for the best-looking, most ingenious types available, experience not necessary.

COMES FROM PHILIPPINES.

Now the girls are beginning to flock into New York. They have come from every state in the union except Nevada, Arizona, Florida, New Hampshire and Hawaii—only Hawaii isn't a state.

The south has sent its full quota, and the far west is not far behind. There is one girl from England and one from the Philippines. Some of them are high school and academy girls; some are students of dramatic art; some are just simple little country maidens thirsting for Broadway.

Among them is dark-eyed little Dorothy Filley from Luzon, P. I., whose mother was a Japanese lady and her father an American sugar planter. Lillian Rice, from Chabtanooaga, has been told that she looks like Leslie Carter and has been practicing a Du Barry act. Audrey Burton, a school girl at Bradford Academy, across the river from Haverhill, Mass., was so frequently told by her friends that she ought to go on the stage that finally she began to believe them; but now that she has a job she says it's purely a lark and she'd rather have a husband.

Cassie Sewell ran away from her home in England to become an actress in America. Her father is an Episcopal rector.

Helen Lucas wears a peculiar signet ring, bearing a harp and a crescent. Her mother is Irish and her father Turkish. Her mother, a not-

THREATENS THE LIFE OF TEMPERANCE WORKER

Montreal, Aug. 14—John H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, received a plainly typewritten letter this morning from Sherbrooke signed "One of the Gang," informing him that a fate similar to that of Herman Rosenthal, the New York gambler, awaited him. Roberts, who is an active temperance campaigner has been conducting a campaign against alleged violations of the license law in Sherbrooke and a number of cases are down for hearing on Friday. Roberts declares he will take his witnesses to Sherbrooke despite the threats made.

AUSTRALIAS SHARES IN NAVAL DEFENCE

(Canadian Press.)

London, Aug. 14.—For several weeks a large board has stood at the eastern end of the site upon which the new Australian offices are being erected in the Strand, with the pointed notification, "Australia's Daily Message." The blank space below this was filled in with the following message:

"Australia's share. Defence of the empire 1912-13, amounts to about $5,500,000. This will make a total of about $13,000,000 expended in defence in three years by the King's four and a half million subjects in Australia."

TWO TRAGEDIES IN EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

(Canadian Press.)

Coaticook, Q., Aug. 14—A young man named Chas. O'Donnell was killed by a freight train here during the night. He attempted to board the moving cars and fell beneath the wheels.

Sherbrooke, Q., Aug. 14—The body of Evariste Cheny was found floating in the dam on the Magog River last evening. He was overcome when bathing.

WESTERN HANDICAP TOURNEY

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 14—The seventh annual Western handicap tournament, under the auspices of the Interstate Shooting Association, has brought together nearly 300 of the best shots in the United States. The tournament is being held at the grounds of the Kansas City Gun Club and will continue over Thursday and Friday. Some scores were made in the initial events today.

ed Irish singer, was married to a wealthy rug merchant in Constantinople. They later lived in Porto Rico whence Helen came.

The industrious press agent has done just as interesting about all the others, but a sample will have to suffice here.

The question is, How long will it take the ingenue type to melt into the typical Broadway world-wise type? And then what will be the next type demanded?

NO INTERFERENCE FROM GREAT BRITAIN

(Toronto Globe.)

The government and parliament and people of Canada must decide what is and what is not to be Canada's policy on the question of naval defence. Nothing but harm will result if, directly or indirectly, pressure from Britain is made a determining factor. The prospect of united action on Canada's part would be seriously imperilled by the suspicion of interference from Britain with Canada's democratic freedom of action. That suspicion would not be without warrant were the proposed spectacular demonstration of "a squadron of battleships" in Canadian waters carried out, accompanied or followed by "a tour of Canada by Right Hon. Winston Churchill and Mr. Hamar Greenwood, speaking in the principal cities on the subject of naval defence."

Such a tour for such a purpose at the present time would be to the last degree improper and injurious. The making or the directing of political opinion in Canada on any question of Canadian policy is the duty and responsibility not of British ministers and politicians, but of the ministers and political leaders of Canada. If Canadians will not follow the lead of the responsible government, and parliament, and press, and public teachers of Canada, no ability or eloquence of Mr. Churchill and Mr. Greenwood will avail. Indeed, such interference might be resented and resisted, as we trust similar interference by Canadians ministers in British political controversy would be resented and resisted by the people of Britain.

Premier Asquith exhibits the good sense and the sound statesmanship which gave him pre-eminence in his decisive refusal to interfere in any way in Canadian politics, and in his dignified unwillingness to come to Canada under circumstances which would give him coming a significance, both in Canada and in foreign countries, detrimental to the very interests his visit was intended to promote. He knows that no secrets of the government and admiralty of Britain can be cried from the house-tops in Canada. He knows, too, that all necessary confidential official information has already been given to Right Hon. Mr. Borden, as it was given a year ago and on previous occasions to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He has confidence in both those trusted leaders of Canadian political thought and action. He has the fullest assurance from both that Canada will do her whole duty. And what is of infinitely greater moment, he knows that the impressiveness of Canada's action, its impressiveness on Germany and on the world, will depend absolutely on that action being taken by a united Canadian people, calmly, deliberately and without either restraint or compulsion from the admiralty, or cabinet, or King of Britain. A hundred million dollars! A whole fleet of battleships! These would be insignificant compared with the unquestioned fact that for today, and tomorrow, and the long day after, the free, self-governing people of all Canada are ready and willing, as their parliament has unhesitatingly declared, "to give to the imperial authorities the most loyal and hearty co-operation in every movement for the maintenance of the integrity and the honor of the empire."
