Chauffeurs' Horn Code

Some chauffeurs think that they need only to blow their horns and the pedestrian will leap out of the way. The chauffeurs, in their arrogance, will be getting up a horn code for the pedestrian to learn and obey something like this:

"One toot—Throw a quick back handspring for the sidewalk. Two toots—Dive over the car. Three toots—Lie down calmly; it is too late to escape, but we will go over as easily as possible if you keep very still. One long and two short toots—Throw yourself forward and we will save both your arms. One short and two long toots—Throw yourself backwards and one leg will be saved. Four toots—It's all up with you, but we promise to notify your family."

A LIFETIME OF SICKNESS

Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

PALMESTON, ONT., June 20th, 1914.

"Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives," your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, "I am taking Fruit-a-tives." He said, "If Fruit-a-tives make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can."

MRS. H. S. WILLIAMS.

Ireland Again!

He had heard and read a lot about Ireland, but had never been in the country before.

As he passed through an almost uninhabited district he came upon a cottage. He drew near, and, to his horror, beheld a poor old woman seated on a stone outside the hut, with all her humble belongings gathered round her.

An eviction! Then what he had read was true, after all. He looked at the resigned face of the old dame seated, with her household goods around her, alone in that desolate land.

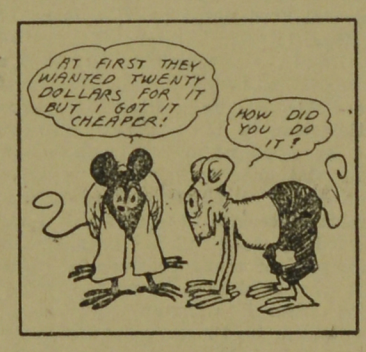

He must do something. Walking up to her, he tenderly placed a five-found note in her thin hand. He noted, with some pleasure, the look of amazement that grew in her eyes as she realized this generosity.

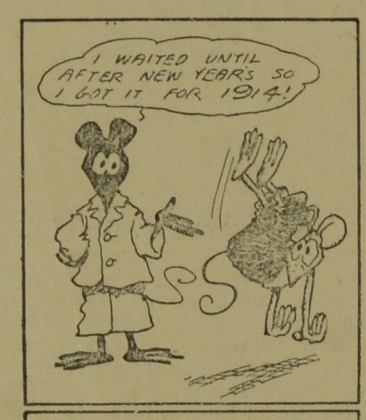

"Tell me, what is the trouble, mother?" he asked gently.

"Thank, ye kindly, sir! It's me old man inside whitewashin' the place from top to bottom!"

The Difference

"my charge for taking out a front tooth, madam, is $1.25."

"But, doctor, isn't that rather dear? Other dentists only ask one."

"Ah, but you must remember, ma'am, they hurry over their work, while sometimes I spend an hour or so drawing a tooth."

TORONTO TORY ORGAN SENDS OUT A FEELER

(Montreal Herald.)

That Tory organ, the Toronto News, is becoming desperately anxious over the political outlook in Canada. It now concedes that "undoubtedly there is a feeling in Canada against a general election under existng circumstances." Indeed, it even goes so far as to say that it "has always maintained that nothing would be more unfortunate than to divide the country over any war issue or to impugn the patriotism of the masses of the Liberal party." This magnanimous concession to public opinion, however, is only a preliminary to the amazing argument that if the Borden Government resists the temptatian to flout public opinion by plunging the country into a general election in the midst of the war it ought to be handsomely rewarded! And here is the reward the News coolly suggests:

It is surely fair to ask that the life of Parliament shall be extended for two or three years after peace is proclaimed if the Government is to forego the right of dissolution.

Fair! Why, the whole proposition is reeking with fairness. It is about the fairest and most shining example of political impertinence we have yet seen. In return for refraining from an election, the Borden Government is to be entitled to consider that an election has been held, and that the Conservatives have been overwhelmingly victorious. Therefore they are to be rewarded with another term of office without as much as "by your leave" to the electors! It is to be done by "an agreement between the parties." The News goes on to say that:

Such an agreement would enable the two parties to co-operate in the conduct of the war as they cannot co-operate if an election is imminent.

But why should an election be "imminent?" We know perfectly well that there is in the Borden Cabinet an element that has been trying to make an election "imminent" ever since the war began just with the object which the News is now trying to attain by another method, namely the capture of a lease of power from the present time until several years after peace is proclaimed. Sir Robert Borden has the power to silence these election-mongers at any moment, and to remove all possibility of the "menace," of an election. If the Toronto News has been able to discover any signs that the Liberal party is not co-operating loyally and to the full extent of its power in the conduct of the war we should like it to name them. We confess we know of none. That the continuous talk of a general election by members of a Cabinet who ought to be concentrating their attention on matters of more immediate concern, had caused uneasiness, restlessness and suspicion, we will freely admit, but these feelings are just as apparent among Conservatives as among Liberals. This all would disappear if the Premier would say the word.

By way of a "clincher" to its argument, the Toronto News says that "under the constitutional practice of a generation, the Government are now free to dissolve Parliament." Perfectly true. They were free to do so a month after the last election. They were free to do so on the question of the Navy. In fact, they would have performed a most useful service to Canada and the Empire if they had at that time sought an expression of public opinion on the relative merits of the Laurier and Borden naval programmes. What our contemporary conveniently overlooks is that a Government is constitutionally correct in allowing Parliament a life of five years from the day when the writs were, returnable. Now the house was dissolved on the last occasion on August 8, 1911, and the writs were returnable on October 7, 1911. Therefore the present Parliament has legally the right to run until October 7, 1916, or more than thirteen months. Why not let it run its normal course?

AN APPRECIATION . . FROM . .

A SATISFIED USER

Parker's Ridge, York Co.
June 30-1915.

TO: PALMER-McLELLAN CO.
Fredericton, N. B.

Gentlemen:-

I bought a pair of your Driving Boots from W. R. McCloskey Limited of Boiestown before the driving season of 1915, and about the middle of April last. I wore them all through river driving, and afterwards I removed the caulks and have worn them every day since with every satisfaction. I find the boots comfortable and waterproof, and they are still in good enough condition for me to wear them this Fall and do my next Spring driving in.

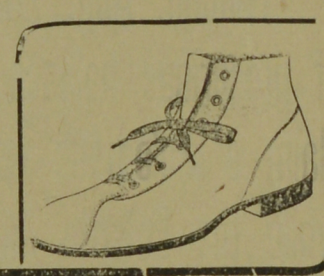

These Boots have had hard wear not only on the drive, but in connection with my farming and woods operation ever since, and I have no hesitation in recommending same to any person requiring a boot for long wear and hard service.

Yours very truly,
Clarence Boies.
