EXTRA SENTRIES NEEDED

The presence of Treasurer Teed of the Timber Land fund in the city yesterday has given rise to the report that he will be found Thursday by Mr. J. Kidd Fleming, ex-premier, and Mr. Willard H. Berry, ex-superintendent of sealers. If this report is well founded the Attorney General with his wealth of military experience, should lose no time in doubling the guard on the Legislative building.

AN OLD TIMER.

Major Harrison, the commandant of the Divisional Ammunition Column, should make a strenuous effort to obtain a new Union Jack to replace the remnant of one now flying from the staff on the Officers' Square. This old-timer, while not exactly a tattered flag of victory, has become so badly tattered by wind and weather, that it is a disgrace to the government. All of us have respect for the old flag but it looks as if the time had arrived when this old one should be superannuated. It should at least be kept out of sight tomorrow when many strangers will be in the city.

MOOSEHEAD BRAND.

An Ottawa despatch a few days ago gave a report of statements made to an enquiry by Sargt. Ripley and Gunner Vavasour in regard to footwear. They stated that they had been wearing oil-banned harrigans and had found them very satisfactory. One had worn a pair a year and a half and the other had worn his five months. The Mail is informed that these gentlemen are customers of the John Palmer Company of this city, and the footwear referred to was the famous Moosehead Brand sporting boots, which enjoy a deservedly high reputation.

A CASE OF SLOP OVER

It is said that Attorney General Baxter is none too well pleased at the reference to his "wealth of military experience" in the St. John Standard on Monday. It is true the Colonel was at one time connected with the service, but at the present time he is not travelling on his shape as a military man. It was a case of the Standard trying to say something nice about the Attorney General and slopping over. The incident has naturally caused the Attorney General to come in for a good many jibes from both friends and opponents.

ASSAULT CASE

AGAINST POLICEMAN MARSHALL DISMISSED

Police Magistrate Says Complainant is Fortunate that He is not Charged with Interfering with Constable

The assault case in which O. Emery Scott was complainant and Policeman Charles Marshall defendant was dismissed by Police Magistrate Limerick this morning. His Honor in dismissing the case said that the complainant should consider himself fortunate that he was not charged with interfering with a constable in the discharge of his duty.

MANY PRESENT

There was a large audience present in the police court this morning when His Honor gave judgment. The publicity given the arrest of John Craige out of which this case arose having attracted much attention. The magistrate reviewed the audience as follows:

"This action was for assault. The defendant is a police officer and constable and acting in that capacity made an arrest in a civil suit. In my opinion it is always right for a constable to give a defendant an opportunity to procure bail and assist him in what way he can.

"It was through doing that that the constable and Craige arrived at Scott's restaurant. Marshall then asked Scott to pay Craige's debt and he refused. Marshall then attempted to take Craige out. Craige said he would not go and the policeman could not take him.

"It is not clear what Scott did but Marshall and Scott both say

GERMAN PRISONER

IN HOLLAND THANKS FREDERICTON MAN

James H. Hawthorn Receives Surprising Letter from Detention Camp--- Suit of Clothes Now Worn By German

James H. Hawthorn, tobacconist, of this city, yesterday received a letter from a German prisoner now in Holland, thanking him for a suit of clothes and package of tobacco, pipe and pocket-knife which were in the pockets. Mr. Hawthorn was much surprised to receive the letter as the clothing and other articles were a donation to the Belgian Fund made last autumn. It is uncertain how the gift fell into German hands. The distribution committee may be at fault or the German may have exchanged with a Belgian refugee as the letter contains a reference to the fact that "the suit did not fit."

The German states in his letter that he was in two battles near Antwerp but after crossing the Dutch frontier was interned and probably will not fight again during the war. The letter states further that the recipient of the gifts was a tobacconist himself before the war began. The address of the letter was written partly in German script and was difficult to decipher. The German obtained the name and address from the pocket-knife, which was for advertising purposes, having "James H. Hawthorn, Fredericton, N.B." stamped upon the handle.

The letter was written in German and was translated by Prof. A. J. Uppvaal of the U.N.B.

Ex-Coun. George F. Knox of Hainesville, was among the visitors to the city today.
