CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS

The Campbellton Graphic, in commenting on the verdict in the Doherty murder case, says:

"Now, who is to blame for this state of affairs? What has the local government to say in the matter? How was it that a strange lawyer was sent to look after this case—a man who knew nothing whatever about it until he arrived in Dalhousie on Monday, to conduct the trial? Was it of so little importance that the attorney general had not the inclination to bother, or were they afraid that some political trouble might ensue their getting up against a shining light of their own party? How can lawyers stand up and rave about the glorious privilege of Canadian justice when they know that political jobbery is responsible for tying up that same justice in a cordian knot."

"The travesty of what is called justice is laid at the door of the government. Their conduct of the case has been most reprehensible and will no doubt become an important factor in the coming local elections. The disgust and wonder of the people will not die down very quickly and we shall look forward with interest to the explanations which will be made in the House when some trenchant questions are asked."

The attorney general was prevented by his legislative duties from attending the Doherty murder trial and there being no local lawyers of the right political stripe to undertake the prosecution he delegated Mr. J. Chipman Hartley, editor of The Woodstock Press, for the job. The accused had the foresight to retain as his counsel Mr. H. A. Powell, K.C., one of the masters of the local administration, and as a result of this piece of good judgment on his part, he secured his acquittal. By retaining Mr. Hartley to conduct the prosecution the government simply played into the hands of Mr. Powell.

If the opposition in the local legislature could induce the government to appoint a royal commission to investigate the administration of criminal justice in this province during the past few years, they would bring to light a state of affairs that would shock the law-abiding citizens of the province and disgrace the government.

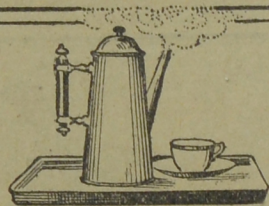

WITHHOLDING INFORMATION

The policy of the Flemming government is to withhold all the information they can from the public and then fume and rage over the criticisms of the opposition in the Legislature. Several years ago the government promised to send copies of all bills to the press of the province. How has the promise been kept? Here is what The Chatham World (Tory) says about it:

"The bills have not been sent to the papers this session, and editors have not been in a position to enlighten their readers respecting the legislation that is passing. The official report gives no intelligible and definite information respecting the contents of the measure before the House. To understand the report it is necessary to have the bills for reference. It is an outrage that the people are kept in the dark in this way. Surely the government ought to be able to enforce the regulation for sending bills to newspapers without an annual reminder from the Press Association."

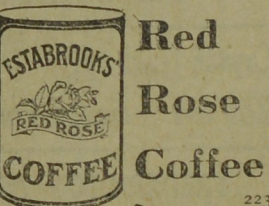

Commodore Stewart is right. To withhold information from the people is an outrage, which should not be tolerated. But what else can the people expect from the misfit combination led by Hon. J. K. Flemming?

Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P., of this city is to address the Canadian Club of Toronto on Monday. His subject is to be "The Resources of New Brunswick."

The New Process

By our new crushing process, RED ROSE COFFEE is broken into uniform small grains and freed from bitter chaff and dust. Thus it brews readily and gives the true rich flavor of fine coffee, and—without any "settling"—it pours out bright, clear, a coffee to delight the epicure. Being packed fresh-roasted in sealed tins, its quality is retained until it reaches you. Coffee at its very best is

Hon. Dr. Landry, the medical commissioner of agriculture while engaged last evening in reading the speech prepared for him by Secretary Hubbard, made the statement that Mr. S. B. Hatheway of Kingsclear, who was president of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association in 1910, had delivered an address to that body which had been prepared for him by another person. We would not like to call the Medical Commissioner a liar, but we can tell him that he handles the truth very carelessly. Mr. Hatheway prepared his own speech and it was one which did him credit. He is a man who knows his business and that is more than can be said of the Medical Commissioner.

In the House last night Premier Flemming sought to make it appear that Mr. Bentley in a speech on the address has stated that the Bay Shore Lumber Company were cutting too much lumber from crown lands and should be watched. It was the official reporter who made the statement, and not Mr. Bentley, and when the latter's attention was called to the error he promptly made the correction from his place in the House. Premier Flemming was aware of this yet he deliberately attempted to misrepresent Mr. Bentley's position. Pretty small politics, we would say.

The speech which Hon. Dr. Landry, the medical commissioner of agriculture, delivered in the Legislature last evening was prepared for him by Secretary Hubbard. To make sure that there should be no hitch he saw to it that his secretary had a seat on the floor of the House while the speech was being delivered. A lot of money and time might have been saved had the speech been published in the agricultural report and withheld from the Legislature.

Hon. Dr. Landry, in the course of his diatribe in the House last evening, made the statement that the political affiliations of the city clerk of Fredericton were a matter of doubt. This is rather rough on the city clerk, who probably never cast a Liberal vote in his life, while the man who made the statement has achieved notoriety as a wobbler.

The Hon. John Morrissey says that if he had his way he would expend a million dollars in the construction of a highway road from Maine to the Quebec boundary. He also stated that if a permanent highway were built numerous hotels and road houses would be called into existence. The Hon. John certainly has progressive ideas.

All efforts to persuade Mr. O. S. Crockett to bury the hatchet and attend the Hazen banquet proved fruitless. Mr. Crockett will never forgive Hazen for knocking him out of a portfolio in the Dominion Cabinet.

Whom the gods destroy they first make mad. Premier Flemming is by long odds the maddest man to be found in this section of the province.

Premier Flemming is busily engaged in the delightful task of piling up wrath for the day of wrath.

J. M. ROBINSON & SONS WEEKLY
STOCK MARKET REVIEW

St. John, April 12—A renewal of active trading after the holiday season found prices at a level slightly higher than last week but as was to be expected after such a long upward tendency, prices have shown a disposition toward a slight reaction. The most conspicuous exception has been C.P.R., which reached the highest point it has ever touched in its history.

Many theories are advanced for the spectacular rise in this stock and it can no doubt be traced to a discounting of the future by the foreign markets in which C.P.R. is a strong favorite.

Although the present dividend of 10 per cent. does not yield a very large return to the investor there is no doubt but that from time to time the extensions being made by the company will entail issues of new stock to the present shareholders at a price which will show them a considerable profit.

The market at the present time is in the most peculiar situation. It ignores political uncertainties and the laboring classes. For some reason not yet fully explained there is a considerable feeling of optimism around the present level. It would seem that the small public has not yet been attracted to the market to any great extent. Stocks are well held; in fact, certain specialties seem to be absolutely scarce so that prices advance sharply on comparatively small buying.

MONTREAL.

The market this week showed a

Chief Commissioner Morrissey has made a discovery; he has discovered that a Liberal newspaper man who does some reporting in the House was engaged by the old government in 1907 to superintend the construction of some ferry floats in Kings County and was allowed ten per cent commission on the cost of the work. If the chief were to pursue his investigations a little further he would find that a Tory newspaper man now employed about the House also figured in the public accounts previous to 1907. He did printing for the old government and sang its praises and is doing the same thing for the present administration.

It is believed that the Quebec local elections will be held the latter part of May or early in June. Mr. Henri Bourassa has given up the fight and gone to Europe. The government of Sir Lomer Guion is strong in the elections of the people and will have a walk over.

The Washademoak bridge which was repaired by the local government last fall at a cost of thousands of dollars collapsed recently and forty lives were endangered.

The toll bridge scheme in connection with the St. John Valley Railway is a fine piece of twentieth century statesmanship.

great deal of activity with the exception of a few stocks. Canadian Pacific made a new high record and Soo common showed great strength, no doubt due to their excellent earnings. Some of the low priced stocks have also made gains as in the case of Textile common and Canada Cement common.

Those closely in touch with the market however, are watching the political outlook very carefully and are impressed by the strong showing made by Roosevelt throughout the west. It is quite evident that we are facing a very complicated political situation and one that may result in surprises at any time.

General business is showing a steady progress all along the line. While there is no big boom in trade, production and consumption are on the increase and in consequence the sentiment is more cheerful than it has been for some time.

Money is quiet and shows practically no change, there being an abundance of funds throughout the country so that no uneasiness exists in this connection.

SOO.

This stock has been more active this week and has continued its advance, no doubt due to the excellent earnings it has been showing and also the expectation of it being on a quarterly dividend basis this year, which no doubt will make it more popular with the speculative public and consider the stock an excellent purchase on all reactions, from present prices.

Premier Flemming denies that he has any connection with the firm of Price and Nevers, which supplies lumber for Carleton County bridges. The next thing we know Mr. Pinder will be denying that he is the father of Mr. George T. Pinder, who sells lumber and cordwood to the government.

It is reported that one Fredericton shipper forwarded no less than eight thousand barrels of turnips to the American market during March. The defeat of reciprocity certainly cost the farmers of York a good many dollars.

Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P., has been invited to Toronto to address the Canadian Club on "The resources of New Brunswick." We feel pretty certain that on a subject of that kind he will do himself credit.

Things are warming up around the Legislature. Mr. Copp and his sturdy band of followers are carrying the war into Africa.

Don't forget Williams, St. Mary's when in need.
