BARBAISM RUN MAD

Commenting on the sinking of the British steamships Falaba and Aquila by German submarines, The New York Herald says:

"Germany's apologists have been profuse with explanations that 'kultur' does not mean culture. Events have proven their case. There is no place in 'kultur' for culture, for humanity or for civilization—if civilization is what the Christian world has believed it to be.

"Germany's submarine warfare is a reversion to barbarism. Piracy in its worst days never indulged itself in such inhuman methods as those resorted to by the German navy, acting under the instructions of the Kaiser. The ruthless sinking of the merchant steamship Dalaba with its load of innocent and peaceful non-combatants, the deliberate effort to sink the lifeboats of the Aquila after this steamship had been sunk, the cold indifference of the 'gallant' seamen of the German navy to the fate of passengers and crew of these and other vessels similarly attacked—all these things reveal the boasted 'kultur' in its proper garb. It is barbarism, barbarism run mad!

"It is inconceivable that the great mass of the German people can approve such methods of warfare. It is inconceivable that there is in this country a single German sympathizer who does not hang his head in shame!"

The Tory government of Manitoba, which is holding on to power by a majority of five seems to be in serious trouble. The twenty-one Liberal members of the House have presented a memorial to the Lieutenant Governor praying him not to prorogue the Legislature until provision is made for a Royal Commission to inquire into matters pertaining to the construction of the new parliament buildings. It is charged that in connection with the erection of these buildings the province was defrauded of $800,000.

Premier Clarke instead of going to his home in St. Stephen to spend Good Friday remained in Fredericton to have a quiet day. The chief crackman of the Tory party in this city learned of the premier's plans and succeeded in getting an audience with him. They were closeted together for nearly two hours.

The Tory patriots in charge of affairs at Ottawa have borrowed the money in England to defray the expenses incurred on account of the war. The interest on the loan is to be paid by an extra war tax of five per cent on British goods.

"Alibabi and the forty thieves" was the remark made by a gentleman who dropped into the House of Assembly on Wednesday evening when our old friend Mr. Pinder was holding down the speakers chair.

The Tory tax on railway tickets goes into effect on April 10th. The tax is no respecter of persons. The man who travels second class pays just as much as the man who travels in a parlor car. Great is Toryism.

Mr. Harry Woods, chief government whip in the Legislature, who led the applause which followed Mr. Pinder's bitter attack on Col. McLeod, M.P., claims that it was he who applied the muzzle to the local graft organ.

Twenty-nine wild cats were trapped or shot in the county of St. John last year. As far as can be learned the celebrated Fourshoris Bill was not included in the list.

IF ITALY IS continuously accumulating war enthusiasm during all these weeks, during which she is being held in leash by her government, we expect to see a considerable rumpus when she starts in. The pull to war is strong in Italy.

DELEGATION SATISFIED

WITH GUTELIUS INTERVIEW

His Worship Mayor Mitchell and Ald. George McKnight, representing the City Council; J. D. Palmer, J. T. Jennings and J. S. Neill, representing the Fredericton Board of Trade, and W. E. Farrell, representing Agricultural Society No. 34 and the Fredericton Exhibition, returned last night from Moncton, where they interviewed General Manager F. P. Gutelius of the Intercolonial Railway and General Traffic Manager C. A. Hayes of the same railway. The delegates state that they are very much pleased with the reception with which they met but are not yet in a position to make a definite announcement concerning the train-service on the Canada Eastern. Delegations from Newcastle and Chatham are waiting upon Mr. Gutelius today in connection with the same matter.

The visit of the delegation is expected to result in several improvements in connection with the I.R.C. in Fredericton. At York street a platform is to be located for the convenience of passengers on locomotive trains on the St. John & Quebec Railway, who may desire to alight there. Passengers will not be taken up there however, nor will either outgoing or incoming baggage be handled there. West of Smythe street a siding will be put in on the St. John & Quebec line for the handling of live-stock and other exhibits for the biennial fair held here. If the siding is not permanent, it will at least be sufficient to handle the exhibition traffic every two years and make unnecessary the leading of live-stock for upwards of a mile through the city.

The Fredericton delegation strongly urged that the proposed suburban train to leave Fredericton at 9 a.m. for Boiestown be made a through train between this city and Newcastle and the present express be continued. General Manager Gutelius stated he would consider the proposition. He also asked for information concerning traffic possibilities on the Fredericton-Gagetown section of the St. John & Quebec line.

DUTCH AUTHORITIES ARE VERY CAUTIOUS

Rotterdam, March 29—(Central News Correspondence)—The Royal West-Indian Mail service will only accept goods of Dutch origin for shipping and certificates of origin must accompany the goods. Other lines are also taking the same measure but they will have to suffer to a great extent as a large percentage of all shipments are of German origin.

Passports which have been used for a passage to England by citizens of Holland must be renewed when wanted for Germany. Recently this was not required but now the Germans do not trust anybody who has been in England, and the best course is to comply with the request as in many instances serious difficulties have resulted through not having taken a new pass. Residents of Holland have been kept in custody in German cities for days without being allowed to acquaint their friends with their whereabouts and without being interrogated, but were finally allowed to go. Queer circumstances are ruling with our neighbors and the best advice I can give is; don't go to Germany.

Dutch custom House officials continue to look sharply at all merchandise reported, especially to Germany. At the frontier the seals attached to the door of each railway "rigger" are carefully examined. Every car is being unloaded and reloaded to ascertain whether it contains any forbidden stuff. This, of course, takes some time and perishable goods is not advisable, but it is the only way to make assurance doubly sure.

During February about 51,000 bales of wheat were imported from America, all destined for inland consumption. Any one can calculate that such a quantity, distributed over a population of more than four millions, besides many refugees and interned soldiers, is not satisfactory and that fresh supplies in large quantities are needed.

The price of the so-called rye bread has gone up from thirty two to fifty two cents per four kilos and as it is impossible for the poorer class of people to pay such an exorbitant price the Commissioner of Health, at Veendam, has been trying to make a mixture of rye and boiled unpeeled potatoes. The bread thus made is of good taste and not to be distinguished from ordinary bread. Samples have been sent to the sanitary office to investigate whether it can be consumed. The price, however, will be for less than fifty-two cents, and this is a great item.
