Commercial Travellers' Banquet

An Appreciation of

PALMER-McLELLAN

The Knights of the Grip at a recent banquet honoured a patriotic member who was leaving to join his Regiment. During the evening a prominent Boot and Shoe Traveller, Who Understands Footwear, proposed the Toast "TO OUR MANUFACTURERS."

He said:- "I have been interested to read that "Mr. John Palmer of the Palmer-McLellan Co. "is now in England, and going to Paris for the "purposes of meeting with representatives of the "purchasing Departments of the Allied Armies. "I believe the excellence of This Company's "Product which Mr. Palmer has to offer for the "use of the Armies in the field, will be recog- "nized by the experts with whom he comes in "contact, and I would not be surprised if he "would return with orders which would bring "about the expansion of the output of the foot- "wear industries in this City." NEW REGULATIONS FOR POTATO CARS

(Bangor News.)

In the view of a number of destructive fires originating in "lined" potato cars, and as the result of a conference held in this city recently at which the Bangor & Aroostook, the Maine Central and the Boston & Maine railroads, the two large insurance companies were represented the railroad managements are about to issue to potato shippers along the line a new set of rules governing the heating and handling of "lined" cars, which are designed to remove much of the present danger to property.

These rules were outlined at the conference held in Bangor between the officials representing the railroad companies.

Before being put into effect they were laid before prominent Aroostook county potato shippers, where they met with general approval.

An endeavor is being made to have manufacturers experiment on a new and safer type of stove for the heater cars. There seems to be a demand for such a stove at a low cost, that would sell at about ten for one dollar.

THE NEW REGULATIONS

The following are the new regulations which have been accepted by the Bangor & Aroostook, the Maine Central, the Boston & Maine, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads.

The stove and its attachments, the lining and bulkheads, must be substantially constructed of sound material and securely fastened to the body of the car.

There must be a sheet of sound metal under the stove which shall project beyond the stove at least twelve inches on all sides. This metal sheet both under and above the stove shall be covered with earth or sand to a depth of at least one inch. Around the edges of the metal sheet, wooden strips shall be nailed to the floor, of thickness sufficient to retain the earth in place. The stove must be placed in the center of this sheet of metal, securely fastened to the car floor. There must also be at least four inches of ashes or earth in the bottom of the stove.

All woodwork less than twenty-four inches from the stove must be protected by sheets of metal. No woodwork even if protected by metal shall be less than twelve inches from the stove.

The stove pipe must pass through a metallic collar in the car door, or in a fire board, that allows of at least three inch space between the funnel and the woodwork. The stove pipe hole must be at least thirty inches below the roof of the car and the pipe must be securely fastened to stove and at each point

Outside the car the stove pipe must be turned and must project up at least six inches and over twelve inches above the eaves, and must be exactly one inch distant from the eaves. Stove pipe not to be over six inches in diameter.

No holes shall be cut in car doors where holes have not already been been cut and proper protection furnished by the railroad company owning the car.

Rules and regulations in regard to return boards are modified, and station agents and car inspectors are charged with seeing that these rules are strictly complied with.

WHAT HAPPENED TO RHEIMS.

"Wasn't it fearful about the Reems Cathedral?"

"Don't say Reems; it sounds horribly ignorant."

"Well, how do you pronounce it?"

"Why, Hranss."

"How?"

"Hn—Hranss! Just as if you were clearing your throat. See? Hranss!"

"Well, you sound as if you had a dreadful influenza, threatened with grip!"

"Well, that's right, anyhow. H-hnhnh-Hranss!"

"You'd better go to Arizona! You'll never get well here! I don't believe you, anyway. Everybody says Reems."

"They don't either!"

"They do so!"

"Oh well, it depends on the sort of people you associate with—"

"Well, I don't go with a lot of fake highbrows, anxious to show off the French they learned in a course of lessons by mail—"

"Better than a lot of country junks who don't know how to pronounce—"

"Oh well, the church wasn't hurt much, anyhow."

"No, they say it can be repaired. How do you like my hat?"

"Heavenly! What do you think of mine?"

"Adorable! Let's go in and have a soda."

"Let's."—Carolyn Wells in The Woman's Home Companion.

FARMERS CONDEMN COV'T METHODS

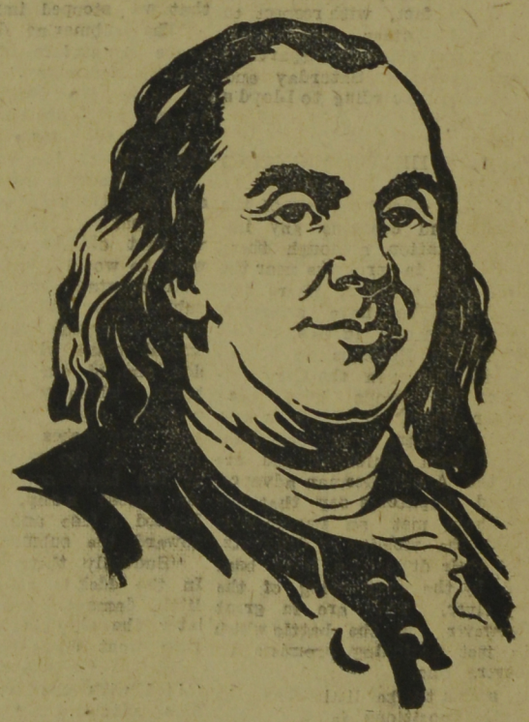

Harriston, Ont., Feb. 19—At a large convenetion of North Wellington Liberals here yesterday, many local farmers and business men expressed themselves upon the policies of the Government, and it was evident much dissatisfaction is felt at the attitude and measures of both Provincial and Federal Governments. It was shown the grants to farmers institutes, fall fairs and rural schools were cut, but there was no retrenchments where the same cuts could have been made without injury to anyone. The tariff was to be raised for the benefit of the manufacturer, to increase his profits, not to increase his output, and the farmer was being asked by the Government to produce more, and so reduce the price and make his profits less.
