CANADAS' TRADE LESS THAN IN 1913

Ottawa, Feb. 21—Final figures of Canadian trade for she calendar year 1914, as just issued by the trade and commerce department, show a falling off of approximately $210,000,000, as compared wish 1913 in the imports and exports of merchandise.

The total imports of merchandise for last year were $481,519,109 as compared with $659,263,871 in 1913. Total exports of merchandise last year were $428,315,512, as compared with $460,519,146 in 1913.

Exports of manufactures and animal produce alone showed an increase. Canadian manufacturers increased their exports last year $69,051,924, as compared with $54,010,873 in 1913.

Exports of animal produce last year totalled $68,316,972 as compared with $51,612,569 in 1913. Of living animals Canada sent over $13,000,000 worth to the United States last year following the removal of the duty, as compared with less than $8,000,000 during the preceding year.

With Great Britain, exports decreased by a little over $40,000,000 and imports by a little over $41,000,000.

As compared with this total decrease of over $80,000,000 in the total trade with Great Britain, there was an increase of about $19,000,000 in the total trade with the United States.

Imports from the United States last year totalled $440,857,540, a decrease of about $50,000 as compared with 1913. Exports to the United States last year totalled $203,703,580, an increase of nearly $10,500,000.

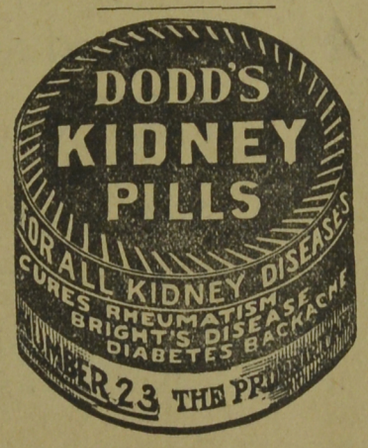

The effects of the war are shown in the total of imports from Germany, which amounted to only $7,917,490 last year, as compared with $14,373,597 in 1913. Exports to Germany during 1914 totalled $3,321,102, as compared with $3,996,120 in 1913.

CITY VOTERS' LIST

amounted to $8,600 and for February urday night was the last night for 1914 they amounted to $14,000. Satqualification by the payment of taxes and during that time about $3,700 was paid in.

Lack of interest in the civic election is assigned as the cause of nonpayment of taxes in many instances. There is no indication of a contest for the mayoralty and aldermanic candidates are conspicuous by their absence.

P. E. ISLAND MAN MEETS TRAGIC END

Charlottetown, Feb. 21—Frank White, aged seventy-six, of Souris was burned to death by a fire which destroyed his dwelling. About six o'clock a neighbor noticed flames arising from the building. He rushed in reached White's side and attempted to rescue him but he was overcome ny the heat and smoke and was carried out in an unconscious condition. White was a tinsmith and an invalid.

It is thought that the fire started from the explosion of a lamp when he was alone in the house, his assistant having gone home to twa. His charred remains were found in the ruins.
