FIRST AID FOR WEAK DIGESTION

Like Nearly Every Trouble Afflicting
Mankind Indigestion is Due to Poor Blood.

Almost everybody experiences times when the organs of digestion show painful signs of weakness. Some slight disturbance of the health starts the trouble; then the patient takes a dislike to food, and dull heavy pains in the abdomen give warning that the stomach is unable to do its proper work. Sometimes a false craving for food arises; if this is satisfied the result is additional torture—flatulence, a drowsy depression, sick headache and nausea are common signs of indigestion. The foolish practice of taking drastic, weakening purgatives at such times should be avoided. Indigestion arises from stomach weakness and the only effectual method of curing the trouble is to strengthen the feeble organs of digestion by supplying them with richer, purer blood. This is the true tonic treatment, by which natural method, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills achieve great results. These Pills make the rich, red blood needed to strengthen the stomach, thus imparting a healthy appetite and curing indigestion and other stomach disorders. Mr. Thos. Johnson, Hemford, N. S., says: "For five years I was a great sufferer from indigestion which wrecked me physically. I suffered so much that for days at a time I could not attend to my business. I had smothering spells so bad at times that I was afraid to lie down. I doctored and tried many medicines but with no benefit. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised to cure this trouble and decided to try them. I had not been taking them long before I found that I had at last hit upon the right medicine. The improvement in my health was constant, and after I had used ten or twelve boxes I could eat and digest all kinds of food, and I felt physically better than I had done for years. I shall never cease to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they provided a real blessing to me." You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., Ill.

CLOSING SESSIONS OF POTATO GROWERS CONFERENCE

(Bangor News.)

Wednesday, the closing day of the conference of Maine potato growers, was notable for the increased attendance and interest shown in the work of the Farmers' Union in its work of marketing the potato crop of Maine. Two sessions were held, one in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon and at both, able and interesting speakers discussed phases of the potato question which proved to be of interest to the delegates.

President Gardner called the forenoon session to order at 9.15 and after a few brief remarks introduced the first speaker of the session, H. V. Branch of Washington, D.C., who gave a very interesting address on "Possible Improvements in the Marketing of Maine Potatoes." Mr. Branch is an agent of the U.S. Bureau of Marketing and his talk was very pointed as he placed the blame for the present conditions in the business upon the growers instead of upon the middleman, the railroads or the retailers. He spoke as follows:

"Your industry is flying the signals of distress," he began, "and you are now in a receptive mood to listen to a discussion of the means of ameliorating marketing conditions. That there is a great need for a change in this respect is shown by the petition of the Maine potato growers presented to our bureau asking for a federal investigation of marketing conditions, alleging that retailers sell potatoes at thirty cents a peck for which the producers receive only seven cents."

"I contend that the growers are responsible for three-quarters of the trouble that has arisen in marketing potatoes. In the first place, they are responsible for the existence of the middleman or speculator, by not considering the needs of the market."

"Consider the statement of this petition. In the first place, growers are wrong in stating that they get seven cents a peck for their potatoes. They don't sell them at the carload in most cases and only one delivery is necessary for that amount, whereas a conservative estimate of the number of deliveries to be made by a retailer for that amount would be 165."

"The retailer has heavy overhead expense, including rent, labor, credit and other expenditures. The railroads I do not consider to be at fault; it is estimated that they make a comparatively small return for the large amount of money invested. The speculative middlemen risks dollars where you risk cents; he works longer hours than you do and faces intense competition."

"It is up to the growers to improve their methods of marketing. They must abandon the practise of using potatoes as if they were pig iron, shovelling and dumping and dumping and shovelling them like iron. I have actually seen hay bales used on 165 pound bags of potatoes. Every bruise of the potato means that it is so much more susceptible to disease. Maine potato men have lost enough money in shipping potatoes during the past season to pay for an efficient marketing organization several times over.

Pure, rich blood can flow only in a clean body. Now, a clean body is one in which the waste matter is regularly and naturally eliminated from the system. The blood cannot be pure when the skin action is weak, when the stomach does not digest the food properly, when the bowels do not move regularly, when the kidneys are strained or overworked.

Pure blood is the result of perfect health and harmony of stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives", by their wonderful action on all these organs, keeps the whole system as clean as Nature intended our bodies to be clean.

The so-called independence of a grower not connected with co-operative organization is no independence at all. This farmer is really dependent upon marketing factors far more than the man in the organization. What have you growers to show after your independence? Many cannot buy their fertilizer after a poor year.

"It is up to the Maine growers to conduct their shipping and marketing on a business like basis; to carefully grade their product and supply exactly what the consumer wants. Co-operative organization in the solution of the problem confronting the potato growers in Maine today."

E. A. Rogers of Brunswick, a potato expert, who has been selling seed potatoes in Delaware, Pennsylvania, and states in the south, stated that Maine growers should grade their seed potatoes and know which of the individual potatoes are good yielders. Photographs of the yields of different potatoes were shown. Some potatoes will yield a large pile of tubers and others will make a very poor showing indeed. The grower should grade his potatoes in three grades according

EVENING SMILES

NOT WHAT HE MEANT

The Scotch minister rose and cleared his throat, but remained silent, while the congregation awaited the sermon in puzzled expectancy. At last he spoke:—

"There's a laddie awa' there in the gallery a-kissin' a lassie," he said. "When he's done, ah'll begin."

FAULTY THERMOMETER

"An ignorant fellow has been persuaded to buy a thermometer by a glib-tongued salesman, and a few days later he came back with it complaining that it didn't give satisfaction."

"What's the matter with it?" asked the clerk.

"Ah dunno, but it ain't made no difference round mah place. Some days de house am too cold an odder days it's too cold."

KEEPING A GOOD MEAL DOWN

At a Scottish watering place one summer day, Macpherson was found stretched on the sands, puffing his old pipe. "Come on, Mac," said his companion who had just come from town, "let's go for a sail."

"Na, na," replied Macpherson, slowly shaking his head. "I ha' had a guid dinner at the cost o' three and saxpence, an' I'm takin' no risks."

REMINDER OF HOME

"Ever since you've been in town," said the city relation, "you've been going to a soda fountain two and three times a day and ordering lemonade."

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstassel, "A habit's a habit."

"And you don't drink the lemonade."

"I don't want it. I'm willing to pay the nickel so as to get a straw to chew."

HAD A PERSONAL SOUND.

In a town in the west there is a church that has a bright young pastor, but the attendance is unfortunately small. Among the parishioners there is a beautiful young widow. One evening, just as the little widow was about to leave the office, she was addressed by the deacon.

"Good evening, sister," he cordially remarked, with the usual handshake. "How did you like the sermon this evening?"

"I think that it was just too perfectly lovely for anything," was the enthusiastic reply of the widow.

"It was indeed," heartily returned the deacon. "I only wish that larger congregations would come to hear him."

"So do I," declared the pretty little widow. "The congregation was so small tonight that every time the parson said 'dearly beloved' I positively blushed."
