FEDERATED CANADIAN CLUBS

urged to exert their influence to see that the power of the schools in this respect is fully and wisely exercised.

In the foregoing resolution are embodied three closely allied resolutions proposed by the Women's Canadian Club of Vancouver and Winnipeg Canadian Club. The matter was fully discussed before the resolution was placed on the table.

A proposal that English be the sole language in primary schools was received with some opposition on the ground that culture demanded the teaching of some other language.

Rev. Father Carney, speaking to the resolution, stated that it was necessary that Canada should have no language and that should be English. The United States, with much more diverse foreign elements, had but one language and that was English. He could not agree, however, with those that advocated but one language to be taught in the public schools. French was taught as a secondary language, as one of polish. It would be folly to hinder the means of education.

Mr. Smith stated that he referred particularly to the primary schools and not the high schools. There were districts where many foreign languages were spoken. It was there that English should be taught exclusively. Such conditions obtained particularly in the west.

Mr. McCullough said that in view of the explanation there was no difference between the opinions of Rev. Father Carney and Mr. Smith. (Applause.)

Mr. Drummond of Montreal, stated that it should be understood that no opposition to the language of the French-Canadians was intended. (Applause.)

The resolution was passed unanimously.

MATTER OF TEXT BOOKS.

Mrs. E. A. Smith dealt with the matter of supplying books to the pupils of the schools for the purpose of making them acquainted with the stories of Canadian history. Discussion upon the question of the proper text-books ensued.

Prof. Kyle drew attention to the fact that the conference was going too much into detail. More general discussion should take place. The selection of text-books could not be undertaken.

Dr. W. S. Carter agreed with Prof. Kyle in this matter. However there was no branch in which more attractive works were being published than in history. Free text-books for supplementary reading were what was necessary. The rate-payer everywhere objected to the increased cost of text-books for schools. (Applause.)

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session Mr. Dobbie of Montreal, moved a resolution to the effect that Canadian Clubs direct their efforts toward encouraging the construction of trunk roads throughout the country. He also read a most interesting paper.

CANADIAN CLUB CONFERENCE

mation was already on foot.

The resolution was passed unanimously.

CLUB REPORTS

Mr. Roger Ewing reported on behalf of the Montreal Canadian Club. He mentioned the fact that the Club had adopted a book-system for the sale of luncheon tickets which had proved very successful. Twenty-four luncheons during the season were given.

Mr. R. H. Smith of Winnipeg reported that his club had a membership of 1400. During the year a branch club had been formed in Manitoba University. The club had also taken up the matter of erecting a memorial to mark the centenary of Lord Selkirk's Settlement.

Mr. Chas. R. McCullough reported on behalf of the Hamilton Club. The organization had placed a flag pole in the central part of the city and on it a flag was displayed to mark important anniversaries. The book-ticket system had worked out successfully and the club was flourishing.

Mr. Cleland reported for the Toronto Canadian Club. Considerable difficulty in holding luncheons had been encountered on account of the numbers which attend them. A combined movement by several Toronto organizations, including the Canadian Club, was on foot to provide a permanent place for the holding of luncheons. During the year there had been a series of provincial addresses by prominent men from each province of the Dominion. For the ensuing season another program had been arranged.

Mr. Barber reported on behalf of the Niagara Falls Club. The organization was not more than a year old but had a membership of upwards of two hundred. Americans were permitted to be associated members.

Mr. J. S. Armstrong of Fredericton, spoke to the resolution, saying that New Brunswick contained whole farming districts which were absolutely cut off by wretched highways. Proper location of highways was an important matter. Conditions were changing so that highways had to be built in entirely different manner from that of the past in order to meet traffic conditions.

Mr. C. R. McCullough thought that if the subject had reached the sphere of practical politics, a resolution by the Federated Canadian Clubs would be of value in bringing the matter before the attention of the public.

Mr. Munn of Victoria, thought the matter should be dealt with very gingerly as road-making was closely allied with vote-making.

Mr. E. A. McKay of Fredericton, stated that good roads were due to good citizenship, bad roads to bad citizenship.

Mr. Doble said he could think of nothing more unfortunate than that the movement for improved roads should be considered a matter of politics.

Mr. McCullough thought the resolution general enough to avoid politics. An amendment to the effect that the matter of improved highways be made a subject of discussion by Canadian Clubs was passed.

EXTENSION OF MOVEMENT.

Mr. R. H. Smith of Winnipeg, spoke to the subject of the extension of the Canadian Club movement by the organization of clubs in Universities and Colleges and in industrial centres. He said that the working man as a class was not touched by the Canadian Club and the same was true to a less extent of the college man. It was thought something should be done to remedy this state of affairs.

Mr. McCullough strongly supported the proposal to found Canadian Clubs in colleges. In some such institutions successful clubs already had been organized.

Mr. Munn of Victoria, said that the matter was one of prime importance to the west where the incoming population had to be directed into the proper national channels.

Mr. J. J. McCaskill of St. John, expressed the opinion that the suggestion for the extension of the Canadian Club movement to include the working man must necessarily come slowly.

Mr. Smith stated that the object of the introduction of the subject had been attained in the discussion which had taken it.

Prof. Kyle introduced a resolution calling for some permanent organization of the Canadian Club as a means toward extending the movement.

The resolution was withdrawn however.

A resolution for the extension of the Canadian Club movement in universities and industrial centres was passed.

The meeting then adjourned until this morning.
