CITY OF TOKIO EN FETE OVER THE MIKADO'S CORONATION

Tokio, Nov. 6.—Yohaito, Emperor of Japan and 122nd head of the Japanese Imperial house after the first emperor Jimmu, whose reign began 2575 years ago, left Tokio today for Kioto to make his state entry into the capital of his forefathers and there formally accede to the throne of the Empire of the Rising Sun. The monarch was to have been accompanied by Empress Sadako, but the nearness of the period when her majesty is expected to give birth to another heir prevented her from participating in the ceremonies.

The imperial carriage was preceded to the railroad station by the "Kashikodokoro" or Divine Mirror, which represents the spirit of the grand imperial ancestress or Sun Goddess, Amaterasu Omikami, and was accompanied by the two other sacred treasures which symbolize the sovereignty and power of the throne of Nippon, the sacred sword and the sacred jewel, sometimes known as the necklace of pearl-like gems with the magnificent curve, which have been handed down from emperor to emperor through untold generations.

The whole city of Tokio is in joyous fete unexampled in Japanese history since the triumphant entry of Emperor Meiji nearly fifty years ago. Hundreds of thousands of people are here from the provinces, most of them to remain until the great celebration in Tokio at the end of the month when the emperor returns from Kioto. Special flags and paper lanterns are suspended over every door to mark the inauguration of the happy coronation period. Streets, parks and public buildings are decorated with festal flag and banner. The tram cars wear garlands. From the noble to the richest man the dominating note is joy and gladness.

Prior to the departure of the imperial cortege a solemn religious ceremony was performed at the imperial sanctuary in the palace.

At the appointed time in the early morning the hall wherein is enshrined the imperial sanctuary was decorated by court ritualists in a manner appropriate to the occasion. This being finished, His Imperial Highness Prince Higashi Fushimi, chief commissioner, and other members of the coronation board, all in ceremonious Japanese dress, took their seats.

The ceremony having closed with solemn chords of music, the holy of holies, which is the sacred mirror, was slowly borne outside the palace to be taken to Kioto, together with the sacred sword and gem. The sacred treasures, which are the emblem of the throne, being held in the deepest veneration and respect, their departure from the capital was celebrated in a most august and dignified manner.

The emperor rode to the railway station in a coach of regal magnificence through lines of picked troops from the Household Guard.
