SIR WILFRID'S STAND

"I affirm it with all my power that it is the duty of Canada to give to Great Britain in this war all the assistance that is in the power of Canada. My confidence in the present Government at Ottawa does not come from the soles of my boots, but at the outbreak of the war I considered it my duty to support it in its war policy. I have supported it in that policy ever since and I will support it again. The reason is that this war is a contest between German institutions and British institutions. British institutions mean freedom. German institutions mean despotism. That is why we as Canadians have such a vital interest in this war."—Sir Wilfred Laurier at Sherbrooke.

A STIRRING APPEAL

Senator Dandurand, a stalwart Liberal, in an address before the L. O. David Club in Maisonneuve on Thursday last, appealed with moving and inspiring eloquence for the rallying of men in the cause of the Allies. These are the words of a statesman and patriot:

"Let us bring to bear the full measure of our strength on this work of liberty. Happy are the young Canadians who can offer themselves for the defence of such a cause. My most ardent desire is to see each parish, each village of the old French Province of Quebec represented in the army of the Allies on the soil of France, contributing to the liberation of French territory. Montcalm died, confiding the French population of Quebec to the generosity of his conqueror. He was not given the supreme joy of seeing, a century and a half after the abdication by France, the descendants of the French colonists all responding to the appeal of Britain to carry aid and succor to their old mother country. This is a beautiful spectacle; let us give it freely to the world."

Another Liberal who has done splendid work in the interests of recruiting in the Province of Quebec is Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, who was postmaster general in the Laurier cabinet. He has addressed twenty-five meetings and has strongly appealed to his compatriots to rally to the call of the old Motherland. Hon. T. Chase Casgrain the postmaster general in the Borden cabinet, has also done effective work thus setting a good example to his Nationalist colleagues, Blondin and Patenaude. Recently Mr. Casgrain referred to the Nationalists as "a petty clique of irresponsibles."

It was Senator Lougheed, a member of the Borden government without portfolio, who requested the people to provide machine guns for the overseas contingent. Now we have the statement from Sir Robert Borden that "he has made careful enquiry and cannot ascertain that any such request was ever put forward." The premier should make some effort to keep himself posted on what is going on. It will be remembered that he stated in parliament last spring that he was not aware that Mr. A. Dewitt Foster Tory M.P. for his native county of Kings, N.S., has been commissioned to purchase war horses for the government of Nova Scotia. After he found it out the mischief had been done. It seems to have been the same in the case of the machine gun fund. Yet Sir Robert Borden is the head of the government.

The Board of Education of Tory Toronto has refused to award a contract for plumbing work in one of the city schools, to a man named McGuire, the lowest tender, because he is a Roman Catholic. The Toronto Saturday night, an independent paper, says the board with two notable exceptions, "is composed of a lot of cheap, narrow politicians, utterly unfit, both intellectually and morally, to occupy the important positions they do." At a time like this when Irishmen and Roman Catholics are giving up their lives in thousands on the battlefields of Europe. It is to be regretted that in one of Canada's chief cities one of their number should be refused a contract solely on sectarian grounds.

I'm really glad,"

Special Auditor Dunlop who designed the famous audit act for the Local government, has gone on a trip to his home in Ottawa. After patching up the audit act, which had become somewhat battered, Mr. Dunlop was appointed a commissioner to settle Valley Railway claims. He has worked hard on this job, with results so far invisible to the naked eye. When he returns from his vacation the government should provide him with funds so he can settle some of the claims.

Premier Clarke has not yet filled the vacant fore-castle berth in the Local government caused by the resignation of Hon. John E. Wilson. This is certainly not very complimentary to the gentleman who is now in charge of the Dominion Savings Bank at St. John. There is said to be safety in numbers but this rule does not apply to the present provincial government. The whole outfit could be very easily spared.

The Fredericton and York County people who generously subscribed money to the machine gun fund, should lose no time in demanding a refund. Then if they see fit to hand it over to the patriotic fund well and good. This money was subscribed for a specific purpose and there should be no monkey-shine business.

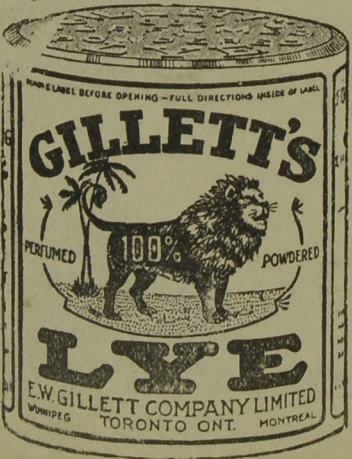

What has become of the gent who was to have charge of the reclassification of the crown lands of the province. His appointment, it will be remembered, was announced by the government press some weeks ago. Has the kick put up by the lumber men proved effective?

After people in all parts of Canada had subscribed the sum of two million dollars for purpose of buying machine guns for overseas troops, we have the announcement of Sir Robert Borden that the money will not be required. When it comes down to a question of fooling and humbugging the people Tory governments are in a class by themselves.

The provincial government has appointed Mr. John L. Feeney of this city permanent road engineer and announces that a million dollars or so will be spent in the construction of permanent roads. If this policy is carried out the martyrs of the celebrated election note should be able to get square with the game.

It is said that some of the new directors of the St. John & Quebec Railway Company are getting tired of the job already. This is to say, they are getting tired of coming to Fredericton on wild goose errands.

SIR SAM DENIES TORONTO REPORT

Ottawa, Nov. 12—"I didn't say I was planning to lead the Canadian troops on the final victorious march to Berlin. I merely expressed a natural desire, which any Canadian would have, to personally participate in the fighting at the front and be in at the finish."

Major General Sir Sam Hughes thus referred today to the press reports of his Toronto speech of last night which made him appear to be planning to leave his post here and take personal command of the Canadians at the front.

As has been well known here ever since the outbreak of the war, General Sir Sam would personally prefer to be right in the thick of the fighting rather than remain in Ottawa, but he recognizes the responsibilities of his duties as minister of militia and for the present, at least, he has no plans other than sticking to his post here until the job of organizing the Canadian forces for overseas service. He will visit the front again next year and, if the work at home is then well in hand, Sir Sam may then gratify his personal wish to see a little more of the fighting at close range and put into practice his theories as to how the Germans should be crushed.
