PATENAUE CASE

STARTS IN COURT

(Montreal Star.)

Action to nullify the action of the Hon. E. L. Patenaude, as member for Hochelaga, was taken in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon by Leon Garneau, K. C., with L.
A. David, K. C., as counsel, acting on behalf of Tancredi Marsil, who attempted to be a candidate in opposition to Mr. Patenaude.

A writ was issued yesterday, and copies of it mailed by registered letter to the Hon. E. L. Patenaude, 7 Place d'Armes, and to the returning officer, N. Gougeon, two hundred and eight Sir George Etienne Cartier square. The respondent has fifteen days in which to reply to the writ, and the matter will then be argued in the Superior Court, Practice Division.

In his writ Mr. Marsil asks that the election of Mr. Patenaude be declared null and void, and gives his reasons for the request substantially as follows:

GIVES HIS REASONS

The petitioner states that his nomination papers were in perfect order, and they were rejected by the returning officer, N. Gougeon, who acted under pressure brought to bear on him by friends and partisans of Mr. Patenaude.

Among those who exercised the alleged pressure the petitioner names Charles P. Beaudoin, Rodolphe Monty, Armand Grenier, J. Emile Leonard, Alfred Durand, and C. En-ard, all lawyers, friends and partisans and Mr. Patenaude.

It is further alleged and with emphasis that Mr. Patenaude himself increased this pressure by saying to the returning officer, "Do not forget that I am a Minister," this at the moment when Mr. Gougeon was hesitating about throwing out Mr.
Marsil's nomination papers, which he had declared regular a few minutes before.

The petitioner claims further that when the respondent was notified on the day of the election that injunction proceedings were under way, the returning officer at once forwarded the report of Mr. Patenaude's election to the Clerk in Chancery.

BANK WINS CASE

IN APPEAL COURT

(Montreal Gazette.)

Their Lordships of the Court of Appeals, by a majority ruling, yesterday, decided to confirm the finding of Mr. Justice Monet, in the case of Paul J. Valentine and the Bank of British North America, Justices Pelletier and Laverne, however, dissenting from the finding of their colleagues, Chief Justice Arch-ambeault, and Justices Tremblay and Carrol.

The case, which is an intricate one, arose from the failure of Moses Menenberg, et al. Valentine was named curator to the insolvent estate and the Bank of British North America was one of the creditors, to the extent of $29,000.
It claimed that, under the Bank Act, it had a right to be treated as a privileged creditor and it submitted that it had a lien on all the stock in trade of the insolvents. The bank, accordingly, asked that the curator be ordered to hand the stock in trade over to it instead of putting up such stock in trade for the benefit of the mass of the creditors. The remaining creditors, however, objected to this course; hence the litigation.

Mr. Justice Monet, after hearing the case pro and con in the court of first instance, found in favor of the bank. His Lordship has been upheld by the majority of the judges in King's Bench.

In dissenting from the finding of his colleagues, Mr. Justice Pelletier held to the view that the amount involved should go to the benefit of the creditors. In acting as it had acted, the bank, according to Mr.
Justice Pelletier, had taken advantage of the Bank Act, to cover itself with a mantle. Whilst, on the other hand, it pretended to be making payments, it was, on the other hand, receiving more than the equivalent. The notes of Their Lordships have not as yet been completed, but as soon as they are ready, they will be outlined in these columns.
