SASKATCHEWAN'S VERDICT

Details of the voting in Saskatchewan show how sweeping was the victory of the Scott government and how decisive was the vote in favor of the policy of free trade and larger markets, which was the chief issue in the contest. The vote in favor of reciprocity was as large as, if not larger than, the vote at the federal election in September last. Liberal majorities of 300, 400 and 500 were not uncommon, and in numerous instances they were considerably larger. Here are a few of the majorities received by the successful liberal candidates in the following constituencies:

Arm River .....	650
Cannington .....	500
Estevan .....	517
Francis .....	400
Hanley .....	434
Humboldt .....	721
Kerrobert .....	500
Last Mountain .....	500
Phoenix Hills .....	302
Redberry .....	500
Saltcoats .....	800
Wadena .....	375
Weyburn .....	500

On the other hand there are few Conservative majorities of any size and it is striking testimony to the reciprocity sentiment in the west that Mr. Haultain, the Conservative leader, who is personally popular, and admittedly a very able man, only squeezed through with a majority of 20, whereas at the general election of 1908 he had a majority of 808.

Not only are the Liberal majorities large, says The Halifax Chronicle, in commenting on the above, but according to the returns so far available no less than eleven Conservative candidates lost their deposits. In Arm River both the Conservative and the Independent, who ran at the instigation of the Conservatives in the hope of gaining some Liberal support, lost their deposits. The same result happened in Canora, where an independent candidate was also put into the field with the expectation that he would capture the Ruthenian vote and thus weaken the Liberals. Wadena was another case where both the Conservative and the Independent lost their deposits, while in Estevan, Humboldt, Moosejaw City, Saltcoats, the straight opposition candidates suffered a similar fate.

Seldom, if ever, in the history of Canada, has a political party suffered a more crushing defeat than the Conservative party in Saskatchewan under the leadership of Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of the interior. The Liberal victory in Saskatchewan presages a solid west for Laurier and the policy of larger markets at the next general elections.

It is good to know that the Chief Commissioner of Public Works and Hon. H. F. McLeod are interesting themselves in the Springhill road. All admit that the road is a very important one and that its condition at the present time is disgraceful, but there is a difference of opinion as to where the responsibility rests. Some people blame the government, some blame the Kingsclear highway board, and some blame the local members for the county, but all agree that it is about time that something was done. Hon. Mr. McLeod's suggestion that a special commissioner be appointed to repair the road seems to meet with general approval.

The Committee of the Board of Trade have worked hard, in the face of many discouragements to make Old Home Week a success and the indications are that they will have no reason to be dissatisfied with the result of their labors. There will be a lot of strangers visit the city next week, and citizens should see that they have a good time and go away favorably impressed.

Moncton Transcript—The Federal Sheep Commissioner evidently under the Borden government, believes it has to work seven days in the week instead of six. According to The Fredericton Gleaner it took a motor boat on Sunday, went down to Oromocto, and visited the Sunbury Farm and Fruit Land Co.'s property, made an inspection of the work being carried on there, and so forth. It was not an ordinary restful outing which anybody might take, but according to the report in the Tory paper quoted, it was government business done on Sunday. Probably the Federal Commission had like the I. C. R. authorities, received numerous petitions from Boards of Trade and other public bodies to work on Sundays. That was the excuse put up for the Ocean Limited.

Ex-Coun. Patrick Graham of Southampton in a letter to The Mail takes exception to the manner in which municipal affairs are conducted. Mr. Graham was a member of the Council for four years and a habit which he cultivated of calling a spade a spade made him rather unpopular with a certain rather influential element at the board. The result was that when he appealed for re-election the influence of the "Machine" was thrown against him and he was defeated. He has already started in to make votes for the next election and seems to be making considerable headway.

The Imperial Privy Council had decided that the Parliament of Canada has no power under the British North America Act to legislate on the question of marriage. It would seem to be up to the Borden government to act on the advice of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and appeal the Hebert case to the privy council.

In the matter of natural beauty, fine residences, up-to-date stores, handsome edifices, educational facilities and high grade hotels, Fredericton can hold its end up with any other city or town in the Maritime Provinces.

The stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway sold in New York today at $275 per share, establishing a new high record. The splendid statement of earnings for the last fiscal year is said to be responsible for the boost.

Windsor Record—If the Conservatives at Ottawa are well advised they will refrain from poking their noses into any more provincial elections, especially in the west.

Stratford Beacon—It may be a platitude, but it is a truth that the prosperity of the country depends more on the crops than on the politicians.

Meanwhile says the Toronto Star, Mr. George Eulas Foster is speaking so profusely in London that he has been mistaken several times for the Gulf stream.

THE HAYING SEASON

To the Editor of The Mail: Dear Sir—Passing through the streets today and yesterday I thought if the men with the reapers were around what a good thing it would be.

The grass, weeds and burdock growing in the streets are not in keeping with the profusion of bunting displayed for Old Home Week and certainly will not impress visitors very favorably.

We hope the chairman of the Road Committee will send men out at once and have the streets and gutters cleaned up and also some attention paid to the Old Graveyard which certainly has a neglected look. The walks want grubbing and the grass cut in about what should always be one of the attractive places in the city. Doubtless many of the home comers have friends buried there.

Yours, etc., CITIZEN.

INFORMATION WANTED

To the Editor of The Mail,
Dear Sir—Can you through your columns inform me and the public also what the "Herald Co." represents as I have received a communication from them; You would oblige me very much by so doing. My reasons for asking or making this public are sincere. For some months past I have been annoyed by certain business and professional men who act as though they thought their very names ought to strike terror to the hearts of all to whom they have the temerity to send them.

Yours Respt.
