AGAINST THE WEED

The London Lancet has been conducting an investigation into the tobacco question and arrives at some interesting conclusions. It has discovered that the pipe smoker absorbs the most nicotine, the cigarette smoker the least and the cigar smoker, somewhat less than the pipe smoker. It says that Havana cigars contain remarkably little nicotine and that Turkish cigarettes have more than the American cigarettes.

The Lancet finds however, that in some tobaccos there is a worse poison than nicotine. This is furfural, a chemical that is credited with giving cheap whiskey its deadly character. Furfural was found in considerable quantities in Virginia cigarettes. There is little of it in Turkish cigarettes and in pipe and cigar smoke it is rarely detected.

It is inferred from the Lancet's investigation that the cheaper the cigarettes, the more dangerous they are to the smoker, and it follows that there are two reasons why boys should not smoke. One is that the practice has the effect of stunting the growth and impairing their general health and the other is that since they usually smoke only the cheapest kind of cigarette they are exposing themselves to the action of a drug that their elders for the most part can avoid.

Toronto Globe.—This province, which voted so emphatically against having "truck or trade" with the Yankees last September, cannot be buying as it votes. Official returns show that Canada in the last fiscal year bought over three hundred and fifty-six million dollars' worth of goods from the United States and only a hundred and sixteen million worth from Britain, despite the fact that by Liberal legislation there is a lower rate of duty collected on British goods than on similar goods from the United States. What is Mr. Foster going to do about it? What he ought to do is admit that the "no truck or trade" cry was a humbug.

High class beef steers have sold at Chicago at a price of eleven cents a pound on the hoof, and some venture the opinion that by Christmas the rate for specially fine animals will go up to fifteen cents a pound. This is fine for the stock raiser, but is not pleasant for the consumer of beef to think over. It looks as if the vegetarian might have the advantage in marketing for some time to come. The price of leather is also soaring skyward and the price of boots and shoes will also be advanced. It is satisfactory, however, to note that there has been a drop in the prices of some foodstuffs.

Premier Fleming has been boasting in the west of the wonderful home market which the farmers of New Brunswick enjoy. It is to be hoped that the men who are now going about the country offering seventy-five cents a barrel for potatoes will get in touch with the premier upon his return and ascertain the whereabouts of that wonderful home market.

The state chemist of North Dakota analyzed fifty-one samples of mince-meat made by different manufacturers and found that nineteen of them contained either no meat at all or less than one per cent. of meat. It is no wonder that the mince-meat makers are objecting to the rule that there must be ten per cent. of meat in the mince-meat.

Ottawa has an 8.30 limit on its farmers' market, which keeps dealers off the market until that hour, and the farmers are now threatening that if the limit is not lifted they will desert the market altogether. They want open buying for everybody.

Atchison Globe.—Outside of his immediate relatives there isn't a great deal of mourning at a speed maniac's funeral.

Despatches today announce the death of Baron Von Bismarck German ambassador to London. He was one of the world's greatest diplomats and since the death of Bismarck was regarded as Germany's strong man. His appointment to London in May last was regarded as a move on the part of Germany to improve Anglo-German relations.

Keir Hardie may be an agitator, a Socialist or what not, but no one can find fault with his efforts to maintain the peace of the world. In this respect he is an example to many who look down upon him as a disturber of the industrial peace.

A Toronto newspaper has struck upon the bright idea of offering prizes for the bright sayings of little children in an effort to brighten up its columns.

EXPIATES CRIME IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Boston, Sept. 24.—Chester S. Jordan was electrocuted at 12.14 o'clock this morning.

A suspicious cabman was responsible for the discovery of the murder of Mrs. Chester S. Jordan, for which Jordan was executed this morning.

The murder was committed at their apartments in Somerville on Sept. 1st, 1908. During a quarrel with his young wife, an actress, Jordan struck her and knocked her down a stairway. The next day he dismembered her body, placed the head and some other parts in a stove in an unsuccessful attempt to burn them, and jacked the remainder of the body in a trunk.

His actions in driving about Boston with the trunk aroused the suspicions of his cab driver, who reported to the police that he believed his passenger had stolen the trunk. While the police were investigating Jordan attempted to jump from the window of his room. Later he admitted that body was that of his wife, whom he had killed during a quarrel two days before.

Jordan was born thirty-three years ago in Indianapolis, Ind., and while on the stage married Honora O'Reilly, known in vaudeville as Irene Shannon. Jordan was brought to trial on April 20, 1909, and found guilty of murder May 4, 1909. Four days later one of the jurymen became insane and was committed to an asylum. The state supreme court refused to grant an appeal for a new trial and Jordan was sentenced to die during the week of March 12, 1911. A writ of error being granted, an appeal from the decision of the state court was taken to the United States Supreme Court, but the appeal was denied on May 27, 1912, nearly four years after the commission of the crime and Jordan was sentenced to die a second time.

POTATOES WILL SELL AT SIXTY CENTS

(St. John Standard)
That potato crop in New Brunswick this year will be large, but that prices will run low, is the opinion of Frank Clements, of Clements Company, wholesale produce dealers, of St. John.

"The early potato crop has all been dug, and it has turned out about 70 bushels to the acre, an average yield," said Clement when interviewed by The Standard yesterday. "So far our reports from different sections of the Province indicate that the yield of potatoes per acre will be about as usual, and as there is a much larger acreage planted in potatoes this year than last, the crop should be large. There are reports that rust has developed among potatoes planted in low ground, and there may be some lesson this account. With good weather, however, the bulk of the crop should be harvested in very good condition."

Asked about the prices Mr. Clements said that whereas $1.50 was being paid last year, the price this season was only 60 cents a barrel. The decline in price, was, he said, due to the fact that the farmers in Ontario, Quebec and the western provinces had large crops of potatoes this year. He added that the shippers here were looking to the Cuban market to take a large quantity at New Brunswick potatoes this year, but at the present time it would only be guess work to make any forecasts about the probable quantity which could be disposed of in the Cuban market.

The turnip crop in New Brunswick this year is below the average, Mr. Clements said. As for the hay crop, he said there had been a good yield this year in spite of the unfavorable weather.

In the year 1910 there were more than thirty-five thousand deaths from industrial accidents while more than five hundred thousand were injured during the same time.
