Europe, except the throne of the British realm, trembled in the balance and many of them were threatened with an eternal overthrow, but England, like the rock in the ocean, remained unmoved. Jehovah grant that it may be so now.

As the matter now stands it seems to us that France has no just cause for declaring war against Prussia. She bases her declaration of war on the following reasons: First, the insult offered at Ems to Count Benedette, the French Minister, and its approval by the Prussian Government; 2nd, the refusal of the King of Prussia to compel the withdrawal of Prince Leopold's name as a candidate for the Spanish Throne; 3rd, the fact that the King persisted in giving the Prince liberty to accept the Crown. The declaration continues as follows: The Extra Constitutional changes in Prussia awaken the slumbering recollections of 1814, "Let us cross the Rhine and avenge the insults of Prussia! The victors of Jena survive."

All this seems more like mere pretext than justifiable motives. How tremendous the responsibilities of the man or the men who on such selfish grounds as these can wrap the vast waters of continental Europe in the flames of savage war.

Our beloved Queen Victoria has sent forth her appeals for peace both to France and Prussia, pleading with all the eloquence of love and good will that harmony may be preserved; but as yet she entreats in vain. The great armies of these mighty nations are hastening to the battle field, and while we write may be engaged in active hostilities. Jehovah only can roll back this rushing tide of death and save the continental nations from the most disastrous war that ever cursed humanity.

Prince Leopold seeing the threatening attitude of France in case of his acceptance of the Throne of Spain, manfully declined the proffered honor; but this does not assuage the rage of France, or check her war fever.

On the 15th the cable news reported that France explicitly demanded that Prussia must withdraw not only her sanction of Leopold's candidacy, but her name from all connection with the Spanish throne. Bismark refuses to do this.

First, disclaiming all participation in the candidature of the Prince of Hohenzollern. Second that the Prince of Hohenzollern is not even a relation of the royal family of Prussia; and, third, that General Prim negotiated with the Prince of Hohenzollern, and he must be responsible not Prussia.

The truth is France seems highly indignant at the conduct of Prussia. The Toronto Leader very justly remarks, that since the battle of Sadowa, the North-German Confederation has been an eyesore to NAPOLEON and his subjects, who have watched with a fierce spirit of jealousy the crafty policy of BISMARCK and the rapid aggrandizement of his country on the Rhenish frontier. Prussia, from all appearances is quite ready, willing and able to cope with France. Her military resources have not decreased, nor has the glory of her arms become tarnished, since she prostrated Austria four years ago; nor has the right hand of Bismarck forgot its cunning. She possesses a gigantic army, thoroughly disciplined, well equipped and generalled; her finances are prosperous, her people contented, her newly annexed provincss are obedient, and the cruelties of the first Napoleon are not forgotten. A war with France will be a war of the people, trained to arms from their youth and covered with the prestige of 1866. Napoleon, also, has every inducement to go to war. His subjects will support him to the last, and success would do more to strengthen his throne and perpetuate his dynasty than a hundred plebiscites. Both powers wield armies in the highest state of efficiency; both hate each other with a hatred that seems unquenchable; and the struggle, if it comes, will be a struggle of Titans that shall rock the world.

PRUSSIA'S NAVAL FORCE

was never equal to its present dimensions. The New York Sun describes its increase and power thus:—

Prussia's steam fleet is being increased as rapidly as human efforts will admit of. The latest additions to the iron clads are the King William of 5,838 tons, Renown, of 7,500 tons. The former, which is considered the most formidable vessel afloat, was built in England for the Sultan of Turkey, but as he could not pay, it was snapped up by the Prussians. The armament consists os 23 guns of the heaviest calibre known, manufactured at the famous Krupp steel works in Westphalia. The steam power is 1,150 horse, the crew 600 men. The Rnown is less heavily armored, and has only 1,200 horse power, with an armament of four 11 inch guns, six 96 pounders, 12-72 pounders, and 15-28 pounders on the upper deck. This vessel was built in Kiel. On the stocks at the navy yard in Wilhelmshafen is the heavy iron clad frigate, the Grosser Kurfurst (Great Elector) and the Frederick the Great of the same class, is building at Kiel. The Hansa, another iron clad, is nearly completed at Dantzic, where the steam frigate Ariadne has been commenced, and the steam Albatross and Nautilus. Completed and in commission are four more heavy iron-clads—the Frederick Carl, now in London, of 16 guns, and 4,000 tons; the Crown Prince, of same force; the Arminius of four heavy guns and 1,200 tons, and the Prince Albert, of three, with a tonnage of 700. Of frigates, there are the Elizabeth, 28 guns, and 1,718 tons, the Kallame, same force as the Arkona. Of corvettes, there are the Augusta, 14 guns, and 1,500 tons; the Victoria, same force; the Medusa, at the island of Kalamme, East Indies, Prussia's new possession, 17 guns, and 1,000 tons; and the Nymphe of same force. All these are powerful steam vessels. There are two steam sloops, the Prussian Eagle and the Grasshopper, and 22 steam gunboats, bearing altogether 58 guns of the heaviest calibre.

PARIS, July 15.—The French Declaration of War is based on the following causes: First. The insult offered at Ems to Count Benedetti, the French Minister, and its approval by the Prussian Government.

Second. The refusal of the King of Prussia to compel the withdrawal of Prince Leopold's name as a candidate for the Spanish Throne.

Third. The fact that the King persisted in giving the Prince liberty to accept the Crown.

The declaration continues as follows: —"The extra Constitutional changes in Prussia awaken the slumbering recollections of 1814. Let us cross the Rhine and avenge the insults of Prussia! The victors of Sena survive!

The Emperor received a despatch from Queen Victoria this morning, a last appeal for peace and a similar despatch was also sent from London to the King of Prussia.

The French and Prussian armies are advancing and battle expected in a few days.

LONDON, July 16.—The extra official expression of Ministers leads to the belief that England peremptorily forbids the occupation of Belgium by France.

The neutrality of England will be difficult, perhaps impossible and dishonorable should Holland and Belgium become involved in the war.

BERLIN, July 16.—The Government receives each hour from all parts of Germany, offers of men, arms and money, in support of the national cause. The volunteering is extraordinary, and entire male population demand arms.

ROME, July 16.—There is a Liberal uprising here, and an attack on the city is feared.

LONDON, July 17.—Latest Paris advices report the army and people singing the Marseillaise, and show the most intense excitement.

The French army is massing at Strasbourg, Metz, and Meziers.

The Emperor will command in person, and will go to the front on Wednesday, with the Prince Imperial.

The army is increasing by every possible means.

The Prussian army is concentrating at Treves, Cour, and Mayence.

The King was received at Berlin with the utmost enthusiasm, and men and money are freely offered.

Diplomatic relations have entirely ceased, and a messenger has gone to Prussia with the French declaration of war, of which England has as yet received no notice.

PARIS, July 17th.—La Opinion Nationale, Prince Napoleon's organ says: "We learn from good authority that Italy has tendered to France at the latter's option either friendly neutrality or unconditional aid," and adds that "Prussia has offered a province to Austria in exchange for an alliance."

STUTTGARD, July 17.—The army of Wurtemburg has been ordered to take the field, and the Chambers have been convoked.

LONDON, July 18.—In the House of Commons to-night, Mr. Harcourt made an enquiry, touching measures for the preservation of English neutrality.

Mr. Gladstone said that the inquiry was premature, coming before a Declaration of War had been made.

While the premier was then speaking a despatch from Lord Lyons was handed to him, announcing that the formal Declaration of War had been sent by the French Government, to Berlin. Mr. Gladstone then replied that all the papers would be submitted as soon as possible, and that a measure looking to the preservation of neutrality was in preparation. Particular attention would be paid in the measure to the status of belligerent ships in British ports.

After a discussion on the strength of the army, during which Mr. Osborne asserted that the Government was unable to put 50,000 men in the field, the House adjourned.

The city of Strasburg has been placed under martial law.

Eloquent addresses to the Crown are received at Berlin from the municipalities of the Kingdom.

The Bavarian Chambers have granted the Government a credit of twenty-seven million florins.

PARIS, July 18.—News direct from the seat of war up to one o'clock this afternoon announces that there had been no bloodshed yet.

The prefect of police has issued a proclamation requesting the citizens of Paris to make no more war demonstrations.

LONDON, July 19.—Prices of stocks in London and Liverpool are purely nominal. There are no genuine transactions. The panic arises from the rumor that the Emperor of Russia pronounces in favor of Prussia and mobilizes the Russian army. This rumor paralyses everything.

France demands a decision forthwith from the South German States on the question of neutrality.

The neuarality of Sweden has just been effectually announced. The government previously communicated with France.

Marshal Canrobert commands the first army corps, Duke of Palikao the second, Gen. Frossard the third, Marshal McMahon the fourth, Gen. Foilly the fifth, and Marshal Bazaine the Imperial Guard of reserve.

At noon to-day the Prussian forces occupied the following points—Saarbruck, in Rhenish Prussia, and Newberg, in Rhenish Bavaria. Both of these towns are directly on the frontier. They also had forces concentrated at Linden in Hesse Darmstadt.

It is generally believed that Russia sustains Prussia.

LONDON, July 19th.—The Times this morning abandons all hope of mediation, and says that the sword must now decide.

The feeling in London against France is intense and universal.

It is believed that the troops called home from the English Colonies have been concentrated in anticipation of the present war.

Great Britain has now at the home depots 95,000 troops, and can muster about 300,000. There is great activity in the navy.

French iron clads are cruising on Dogger Bank in the North Sea, to pick up German vessels.

King William, of Prussia, addressed a public meeting last evening, at Berlin, in which he used the following language—"God knows I am not answerable for this war. The demands sent by France are such as the honor of the country forced me to reject."

PARIS, July 13.—The Ecumenical Council took a final vote yesterday on the question of Infallibility. The dogma was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, 450; noes, 88.

UNITED STATES.

A FEARFUL ORANGE RIOT

occurred in New York on the 12th inst. The Orangemen turned out in great force to celebrate the battle of the Boyne. The Irish Catholics mustered in large numbers and made a murderous attack upon the Orangemen. Deadly weapons were used, several on both sides wounded, and three or four killed.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Gold closed at 122¼. Exchange 110⅛ to 110⅝.

FOUND AT LAST!—A remedy that not only relieves but cures that enemy of mankind, Consumption, as well as the numerous satellites which revolve around in the shape of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Influenza, &c. The remedy we allude to is DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, prepared by Seth W. Fowle & Son, Boston.

Not the least important feature in FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, is the Comfort, Buoyancy and Vigor which inspired by its use, and which is developed as the patient recovers from sickness.

A fact worth remembering—Five cents worth of "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders," given to a horse twice a week, will save double that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker, and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find "Parsons' Purgative Pills" safe; and, in small doses a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

In all disorders of the pulmonary organs, so prevalent in our ever-changing climate, the action of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam is perfectly irresistible. It is not of essential consequence how long these disorders may have lasted, provided the last stage of consumption has not set in, the daily use of this preparation will most certainly effect a cure, not temporary or superficial, but permanent and lasting. A trial of many years has proved to the world that it is efficacious in curing such complaints beyond any remedy hitherto known to mankind.

Bowel complaints should receive prompt attention. In the incipient stages of Diarrhœa and Dysentery, cure is easy; but when the symptoms are neglected, and those diseases allowed to make headway, they often prove fatal. Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-Bilious Pills, cleanse the bowels, give healthy action, and remove obstructions, making all the machinery work well.

The sale of that remarkable and very valuable preparation, Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, is constantly and rapidly increasing. It has been but a few years since the doctor first introduced it to the public, yet such are its virtues that some thousands of bottles have already been sold.

A dose of Clark's Derby Condition Powers administered occasionally will improve the appearance of your horse, and cause him to assume a smooth and glossy coat.

PRICE & SON'S STANDARD MEDICINES.—Paincuremata," "Compound Elder and Alder Slave." Vegetable Pills, Columbia Bitters, are on sale by all dealers in Medicines as also is PRICE & SON'S MAGIC CEMENT.
