

HOUSE OF COMMONS.—JULY 24.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Lord JOHN RUSSEL said—I rise to give notice that I will, at the sitting of the House at 12 o'clock to-morrow, move for leave to introduce a bill to enable the Lord-Lieutenant until the first day of March, 1849, to apprehend and detain any person or persons suspected of conspiring against her Majesty's person and Government.

UNITED STATES POSTAGE.

Mr. HUME asked Lord Palmerston to produce the further correspondence between the authorities on this subject.

LORD PALMERSTON deferred answering the question until Monday.

Mr. M. GIBSON said, he hoped the Government would consider that the establishment of an American line of packets would be of great advantage to the trade of this country. He understood that the present cause of complaint was that a duty was levied upon all letters brought by American packets, and he could assure the Government that any such distinction made between letters brought by those packets and by English packets would have a prejudicial effect upon both countries.

In answer to a question Mr. HOME said, that the CHANCELLOR of the EXCHEQUER said, that negotiations were going on between America and the British Government, with respect to the Post Office.

IRELAND.

GOVERNMENT PROCLAMATIONS.—The Dublin Evening Mail of Wednesday says:—Since we last wrote on these subjects, "the rebels and felons" have been prosecuting their openly avowed objects with the utmost zeal and activity. Slievenamon has witnessed the congress of various clubs amounting to many thousand men. In Waterford we learn that the arrests have given an impetus to disaffection. Meagher heads two thousand rebels, and openly declares his intention of resisting the authorities by force. Throughout Tipperary generally, under the special auspices of Doheny, the clubs are active and augmenting. In Carrick-on-Suir, in Blarney, in Enniskillen, and elsewhere, the organization of clubs, the purchase of arms, and the drilling of rebels go on daily; while in Dublin, the centre and focus of the treason, the presidents of the various clubs meet, and dare to pass resolutions, one of which defines and declares the real object of club organization to be "the overthrow of British legislation in this island."

To meet these preparations of "the enemy," the Government have done something: they have issued, under the authority of the Privy Council, a proclamation, bringing this city and county within the provisions of the recent act (11th Vic. cap. 2, for the prevention of crime and outrage) from and after the 20th inst.—and the town of Drogheda, and cities of Cork and Waterford, together with portions of each county, from and after the 22d inst. No doubt this is a step in the right direction—but it does not touch club organization. It is highly desirable to prevent the recruitment of the people, who have not already "lawfully" armed themselves, from doing so, and to enable the authorities to search for and seize arms, for which licenses have not been granted. But all this, we repeat, will not put down the clubs; and, so far as they are concerned, we are in nearly as bad a position as before the proclamation.

A Privy Council was held at Dublin Castle on Tuesday, when proclamations were issued, placing the various districts in the City and County of Waterford under the Act for the Prevention of Crime and Outrage.

Similar Proclamations have been issued for—The county of the city of Dublin; to take effect from Thursday, the 20th inst.

The county of Dublin, the same day.

The baronies of Clilculihen, Middlethird, and Gaultiere, in the county of Waterford; from the 22nd inst.

The county of the city of Cork, from the 22nd inst.

The baronies of Cork, Fermoy, and Condons and Clongibbons, in the county of Cork, from the 22nd.

And the county of the town of Drogheda, from the 22nd.

THE CARRICK CLUBS.—The formidable front assumed by the clubs of Carrick-on-Suir has attracted the notice of the Government. Mr. Gore Jones, T. M., has been specially sent to Carrick-on-Suir, to take charge of that town and district. It is said that a large reinforcement of soldiery is ordered there. The procession of the clubs on Saturday manifested their great numbers.—Tipperary Vindicator.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN WATERFORD.—Waterford, July 19.—The political excitement which prevails here has considerably increased since yesterday, by the fact of the city having been proclaimed under the late coercion act, and copies of the proclamation stuck upon the walls this morning. The rumours, also, is that an accession of two regiments is daily expected to the garrison in its locality, and that some of the heights outside Waterford are already rented by government for the purpose of pitching a camp upon them, as well as some extensive stores in the city, in order to serve as fortifications.

FURTHER ARRESTS.—The Cork Constitution announces the arrest of Isaac S. Varian, J. W. Bourke, and John O'Brien, on a charge of "uttering certain scandalous and seditious words at Cross Barry, on the 2d of July." They have been admitted to bail, having respectively tendered their securities.

SIXTEEN ARRESTS IN CASHEL!—A letter dated Cashel, July 15, says:—I write to inform you of the fact that there have been sixteen arrests made here this morning, and more are being made as I write. The crime with which the arrested are charged regards the rescue of Mr. Doheny. They are all fine young fellows with their "hearts in the right place," as they humorously informed me when I had the honour of visiting their cell this morning. The attention of Mrs. Doheny and her sister towards the prisoners speaks much for their generosity and their patriotism.

ORGANIZATION OF REBEL CLUBS IN ENNISKILLEN.—A deputation from head-quarters has been busily engaged at organizing a number of branch clubs in this town for several days, and we hear they are confident of success in establishing a formidable auxiliary to the parent societies in this locality.

CASHEL, July 16.—Mr. Michael Doheny is just returned in triumph from the North Riding, and is now setting out, dressed in a most showy military costume, green and gold, mounted on a chestnut charger, at the head of his club, (quere regiment!) to the great rendezvous of the clubs, on the mountain of Slievenamon, where it is expected some thousands of the army of the League will assemble this day. Mr. Meagher, of Waterford is gone with Doheny. The opinion of most people here is that matters are hastening to a crisis. The League knows right well, non prodest est regredi, and are, therefore, doing what they can to excite the multitudes to action. In good truth, the government must either put down the clubs, or the clubs will put down the government, and that very speedily too.—Evening Mail.

OUTBREAK AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR.—On Thursday it was reported that a mob had rescued the Rev. Mr. Byrne from the authorities. The account stated that the news of the Rev. gentleman's arrest spread rapidly through the town, and immense crowds instantly collected, which being joined by the peasantry from the vicinity, soon assumed a very formidable aspect. They approached the Bridewell with cries and menaces, demanding the instant liberation of their priest. The police refused compliance, but the populace emboldened by their overwhelming numbers, insisted, and the prisoner was let out to them, on the undertaking of two respectable persons that he should be forthcoming when called upon. They did not proceed to any violence. There was no magistrate to act. The town of course, was completely in their own power.

Subsequent accounts, however, confirm the rescue so that, though they are in a very unsatisfactory state, no actual collision has yet taken place. The Government is strengthening the military force in the South especially in Waterford.

We copy the following account of the outbreak at Carrick-on-Suir, from the Tipperary Free Press:

"CARRICK-ON-SUIR, Monday, 2, p. m.—The arrest of Marks, secretary of one of the Repeal clubs, was effected this day, by Inspector Roche (accompanied by 30 of the police force), under a warrant from Mr. Gore Jones, and the stipendiary magistrate, but upon what charge is not known. This arrest was followed by that of two other secretaries, and a report was circulated that it was intended to arrest several other individuals.

"Immediately the alarm was given, the bells were set in motion, and the members of the various clubs having assembled, marched towards the bridewell, followed by thousands from the adjoining parts, most of whom were armed with guns, scythes, pikes, crow-bars, &c.

"Fatal consequences might have ensued had not the prisoners been admitted to bail, and liberated.

"One fact is particularly worth mentioning. There was a large funeral in the chapel-yard of Newtown, but directly the bells were heard from the clubs, the men rushed towards the town, leaving the corps to be interred by the women.

"The rapidity with which the men were armed is a matter of some surprise."

OBITUARY.

On the 3d inst. aged 12 months and 15 days, Charles Nicholas, only son of Mr. Samuel Dunlop, of this city.

On the 4th July, in the 20th year of his age, Mr. Robert Bradshaw, leaving a large family connection to mourn for one they tenderly loved. He had returned sick from sea but a few weeks previously. Every attention was paid to him, in the hope of recovery, but the severities of a seafaring life had made such inroads upon a slender constitution; that all means failed. I visited him during his sickness a number of times, read to him the word of God, conversed with him in regard to the interests of his precious soul, and prayed with him and for him that Christ's precious blood might cleanse him from all sin, and that the Lord would give him a preparation to meet Him; and I bless God for the comfortable hope which I have, that his spirit is in Heaven. He told his parents, who are both members of the church, that if he should be spared, he wanted to attend Conference Meetings, and that he thought that he could tell to the church the goodness of God to him, and unite in the fellowship of his people. His parents indulge the pleasing hope that he has united in the praises of the church triumphant in the Heavens. The following extracts of a letter to his father, bearing date, Dublin, March 28, 1848, show that whilst in health his mind was much occupied with religious things. After having written to his father upon business, and the disturbances in Ireland, and the revolution in France, he writes:—

"Dear Father—Though far away from you all, I do not forget you; you are all dear to me, and it is with the utmost pleasure that I communicate a few thoughts to you by letter. I see much around me to attract attention. Dublin is a little world of itself; but, oh! how insufficient is all this world to satisfy the desires of an immortal soul. God, who created us for the enjoyment of himself, has so ordered it that we cannot be truly happy in anything that this earth can afford. And oh! what a mercy that he has so ordered it, that we may seek happiness where it is to be found, in fellowship and communion with the father of spirits, through the name and mediation of our Lord Jesus Christ. I desire, dear father, to be a partaker with you, in the heavenly inheritance, as I clearly see, on account of sin, that this world is devoted to destruction. If I could gain a full evidence of an interest in Christ, I see enough of God's goodness and grace, to cause me to rejoice in His holy name. May he enable us all to consider our present life in its only true light, viz. as an opportunity put into our hands to glorify Him amongst men, by a conduct suited to His word and will. I am miserably defective in this holy and blessed art; but I hope there is at the bottom of all my sinful infirmities, a sincere desire to live just so long as I may be enabled in some measure to answer the end of my existence, and then yield to the summons of death, and join in the pure service of the Saints in light, to serve God without sorrow, and without sin. How pleasing the thought that our bark then will be safely moored, no more to be tossed upon the bosom of the great deep—for there is no sea there—and forever to love and praise God without any interruption from the world, from sin, or from Satan."

I have taken larger extracts from his letter than I at first intended; but the sentiments are so excellent that I could not dispense with any I have made. Such sentiments from a youth not twenty years of age, are certainly worthy of regard. I preached his funeral sermon on the 6th inst., to a large and attentive congregation.

St. Martins, July 22, 1848.

On the 28th ult., John Wallace, son of Mr. John W. Craig, aged six months.

On the 29th ult., at the residence of Mrs. Parker, Prince William street, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Mary Hatch, in the 92d year of her age.

At Fredericton, 12th ult., Isabella, widow of the late Col. Harris William Hales, and last survivor of the family of the late Rev. Samuel Cooke, D. D., first Rector of that parish.

At Musquash, on the 30th ult., in the 16th year of his age, George, third son of Mr. Edmund McInnis, formerly of P. E. Island.

In London (Eng.) on the 10th ult., after a few hours illness, aged 2 years and six months, Elizabeth Whitehouse, youngest and only surviving child of the Rev. J. C. Gallaway, A. M., late of St. John, New-Brunswick.
