THE DEAD CHILD.

Beautiful shadow of a spirit gone, Why should we mourn that thou art lost to earth? Life would have brought thee cares, had years passed on, And sighs and tears subdued thy stainless mirth. Thy beauty has not faded yet, sweet flower,

Unchanged thy features, as in dreamless sleep; Death has but touched, not crushed, thee with his power, Why for thine absence, loved one, should we weep?

Time to the living sorrow brings, and Age Stamps the fair features with deep lines of thought, Tears blot the leaves of youth's enchanted page, Harsh are the lessons by Experience taught; But thou hast scaped them all; eternal light Suns thy pure heart in realms of endless bliss; Grief cannot pain thee in those mansions bright; Oh! blessed change to heaven, from sphere like this.

Beautiful shadow, thou art passed away, No care have we for thee-thou'rt God's alone; We think not of thy robe of earth-its clay Could not with immortality have shone; We see thee in the morning hear thy voice, Prattling with love, and know that love will last; And, in the evening, in our prayers rejoice That safely through this vale of tears thou'st past.

Evil Companions.

Parents cannot be two careful in selecting society for their children, and young men cannot be too choice in their associates. The adage has lost nothing by age which says " a man is known by the company he keeps." To young men especially, it is of infinite importance that they be furnished with companions possessing generous hearts and honorable, virtuous sentiments. Says the distinguished Robert Hall, in his "Works," recently published by Harper & Brothers:

"Society is the atmosphere of souls; and we necessarily imbibe from it something which is either infectious or salubrious. The society of virtuous persons is enjoyed beyond their company, while vice carries a sting in solitude. The society of the company you keep is both the indication of your character and the former of it. In company, when the pores of the mind are opened, there requires more guard than usual, because the mind is then passive. Either vicious company will please you or it will not; if it does not please you, the end of going will be defeated. In such society you will feel your reverence for the dictates of conscious wear off, and that name at which angels bow and devils tremble you will hear contemned and abused. The Bible will supply materials for unmeaning jests, and impious buffoonery; the confences of conscience broken down; and when debauchery has corrupted the character, a total inversion will take place; they will glory in their shame."

HAVE YOU GOT A BABY?—Here is a delicious little paragraph from the Boston Post-

Our bachelor looked at her a and despatch. moment admiringly. She met his glance with a smile, and with an eager voice saluted him with, 'Have you got a baby?' He was struck aback by the question, and something like a regret stole over his mind as he looked upon the animated and beautiful little face before him. 'No,' he answered. 'Well,' she replied, drawing her tiny form proudly up, 'we have,' and passed on, still smiling, to tell the joyous news to the next one she might meet. What a world of happiness to her was concentrated in that one idea—the baby!
—And in her joy she felt as if all must have the same delight as herself; and it was a matter of affectionate pride to her that lifted her little heart above the reach of ordinary envy, for in the baby was her world, and what else had she to and he remembered it long enough to tell it to us yesterday in State street.

This Extract is the result of numerous experiments, and the Proprietors feel confident that they have arrived at that perfection in preparing it to which no other manufacturer hastyet attained. Every person has heard of Sarsaparilla. All have heard of its uses.—And many Physicians in this City are conscious of the fact that our Extract is far superior to those sold under the names of Townsend's, Sands Bristol's, Brown's, or Bull's Sarsaparilla, masmuch as it contains other prime remedies besides those used by the above named parties, is stronger contains nothing but Vegetable productions, and is prepared without soiling, which causes it to attain all the volatile and active properties.

Encourage home manufacture.

We pledge our reputation on the truth of what we here state, that we believe it better in every sense than any other Extract of Sarsaparilla ever introduced.

Scrosulous diseases, Cutaneous Eruptions, Rheumatic Affections, Syphiletic disorders. Liver Complaints, Dys-pepsia. Lung and Bronchial Affections, all diseases arising from the injudicious use of mercury, impure state of the Blood or habit of the system, are some of the many diseases which are cured by the use of this SARSAPARILLA.
