EVENING PRAYERS FOR CHILDREN.

It is the hour when babes with angels speak;
While we are rushing to our pleasures weak
And sinful, all young children with bent knees,
Eyes raised to Heav'n, and small hands folded fair,
Say, at the self same hour, the self same prayer
On our behalf, to Him who all things sees.
And then they sleep. Ah, peaceful cradle sleep!
Oh, childhood's hallowed prayer! religion deep
Of love, not fear, in happiness expressed!
So the young bird, when done its twilight lay
Of praise, folds peacefully at shut of day
Its head beneath its wing, and sinks to rest.

Youth.

A WORD TO BOYS AND GIRLS.

1. Never attempt to do anything that is not right. Just so sure as you do, you will get into trouble. Sin always brings sorrow sooner or later. If you even suspect that anything is wicked, do it not, until you are sure that your suspicions are groundless.

2. When you do attempt anything that is right, go through with it. Be not easily discouraged. Form habits of perseverance. Yield not to sloth, and sleep, and fickleness. To resist all these will not be easy; but you will feel that you have done right when you get through.

3. Do not waste your money. Perhaps you have very little. Then take the more care of it. And besides helping to spread the gospel, buy some good books and read them well. A good book is one of the best things in the world. If you cannot buy as many as you need, borrow from others, and return them safe and sound. Never let a book lie where it may be injured.

4. Ask questions about things you do not understand. Ask those who know. But ask modestly and seriously. And listen to the answer, and think well of it. A man who knows nothing can give you no light on any subject. But almost every one can tell you something that you do not know. Dr. Franklin said he had often gained important information from a blacksmith while shoeing his horse. Live and learn.

5. Beware of bad books and bad papers. There are many such. They are of no good use, but do great harm. Ask some one who knows, to tell you of some of the best books. Never buy a book simply because it is cheap. Some books are dear if they do not cost a cent. If you read them, they waste your time, and destroy your soul!

6. If you have not time to read in the day, read by night; and if lamps or candles are scarce, get pine knots or hickory bark, and read by torch-light. Let nothing hinder you from reading. A good book is worth reading more than once. The second reading will do you more good than the first.

7. Keep out of bad company. "The companion of fools shall be destroyed." If others waste their time in folly and sin, avoid them. They may be smart, but they will do you no good, and they may do you much harm. Bad company is the ruin of many, even of those who are older than you. Keep away from idlers, swearers, liars, and Sabbath breakers. Even "one sinner destroyeth much good." Keep away—"touch not the unclean thing."

8. Read your Bible much. I would urge you to get much of it by heart. Begin with the 23d Psalm. It is very fine. You can easily learn a verse or two every day. Read and think more of what you read. The Bible is the best book. It makes men wise unto salvation. It is full of wonderful things. No one ever read or loved it too much. I have heard many dying people say they were sorry about many things; but I never heard any dying man regret that he had read his Bible a great deal, or too much.

9. Pray heartily to God. Tell him all your sorrows and cares. Ask him to bless you. Ask him to give you a new heart, pardon all your sins. Ask him to help you to do all that is right, to save your soul. There is nothing troubles you but that you may bring it before God in prayer. If you are poor or sick, tell all to God, and ask him to help you for Christ's sake.

10. Cheerfully and promptly obey your parents, guardians, and teachers. Do not sin against God by not doing what you are told; and do it with a smiling face and a glad heart. Often think of the lines—

"Whatever I am told to do,
I'll cheerfully obey."

CHILSON'S

Patent Air Warming and Ventilating Furnace.

(FOUR SIZES.)

THE fame of this well known FURNACE has now become so extended, that it would become mere supererogation to enter into any elaborate detail of its construction. Since the period of its first appearance, it has attracted the attention, and gained the encomiums of many individuals, who hold high rank in the scientific world—and completed an entire revolution in the construction of "HOUSE WARMERS."

The antiquated and now exploded notion, of obtaining a sufficiency of pure warm Air from a small surface of Red Hot Metal, in contact with which, an inadequate supply of Cold Air disseminates into the apartments above a sluggish current of burnt deoxygenated HOT air, unfit for respiration, is rapidly being supplanted by the introduction of our new House Warmers, which, from its peculiar construction, can never become overheated, and by its extensive and well proportionate surface, is capable of warming a large volume of atmospheric air.

Another prominent peculiarity of our Furnace, is so complete adaptation for Wood or Bituminous Coal; the flues being so arranged that they cannot become closed by soot or ashes: this point has never before received the attention of Furnace Manufacturers, and is indeed the only article in which this description of fuel can be used to any advantage.

And when we take into consideration the fact, that this has become the standard on which all new Furnaces are founded, and the only Heater on which attempts at infringement are constantly being made; and add thereto, that it has received numerous Medals and first Prizes from various Scientific Institutions—not to make mention of the "World's Fair," (where, in competition with articles for similar purpose, from all parts of the world, it received the GREAT PRIZE MEDAL,)—it must convince every unprejudiced mind that this Furnace already held the highest rank for the purposes to which it is applied.

Any information respecting our Furnace, or the general subject of "Heating and Ventilation" together with our pamphlets containing Cut of Furnace &c., and an Appendix of over 1000 References, will be promptly forwarded to all who address the Subscribers by Post.

We are also the Agents for, and have constantly on hand, an assortment of the Patent Mirror Marble Chimney Pieces—a new, cheap and elegant substitute for Marble—at prices varying from $18 to $150 each, a sample of which is in possession of the Editor of this paper.

Besides the above, we have always in our Warehouse a large stock of Cooking, Office, Hall, and Parlor Stoves Ranges, Registers, Ventilators, &c., &c., which we are happy to present for inspection at 51 and 53 Blackstone Street, Boston.
