ACTION.

"There is a firefly in the southern clime
That shineth only when upon the wing;—
So is it with our minds; if once we rest,
We darken."

Up to action! Lo the morning
Dawneth in the eastern sky!
Let the first beams of the daylight
Serve a purpose pure and high.
All thy powers, inert while sleeping,
God anew to thee has given
Therefore let thy first aspirings
Rise on morning air to heaven.

Up to action! weak the spirit
That in idle dreaming lies!
Let thy soul be strong and earnest;
Let it seek its native skies;
Let the glory of the morning
Wake thy spirit's purest joy
In a deep and true devotion;
These thy waking hours employ.

On to action! Life is passing!
With a strong and fearless soul
Go to meet the day's first duties—
Seek thy spirit's unreach'd goal.
Strive to have the morning's beauty
All reflected in thy life;
Try to keep its holy calmness
Undisturbed by passion's strife.

On to action! Lo, unwearied
Still ascends the glowing sun?
Oh! like him, be thou untiring;
Cease not till thy task be done.
Let thy conscience bear thee witness,
When thou lookest back at night,
That thy motives have been noble,
And thine actions pure and bright.

On to action! for the spirit
Loseth lustre while at rest,
And in vigorous, dauntless doing
It fulfils its purpose best,
Every action leaves its record
Written on the deathless soul,
Never can its traces perish,
Though eternal ages roll.

On to action! still unwearied.
Calm of heart and strong of hand,
By thine acts of love and duty
Fitting for the heavenly land.
There, life's trials and its sorrows,
And its sad repentance o'er,
Acting with more noble powers,
Thou wilt need to rest no more.

Yes! in action, higher action,
Thou wilt spend that endless day,
And the joy of firm, right doing
Still will bless thy cloudless way.
All thy weary striving over,
All thine erring deeds forgiven,
Thou wilt find that sinless action
Is the noblest joy of heaven.

RECALL OF REAR ADMIRAL SIR FLEETWOOD PELLEW.—An attempt at mutiny has recently taken place at Hongkong, on board the flag-ship, Winchester. After being kept on board for 18 months, the men preferred a reasonable request for leave to go ashore, and Admiral Fleetwood answered it with ordering the ship to sea. The men hesitated, and he gave orders to put down mutiny with the sword, which the officers on board did as a matter of inevitable duty. Forty years ago, when Captain Pellew commanded the Resistance in the Mediterranean, the ship's company, which had been remarkable for discipline and conduct, was in some way so mismanaged as to break out into open revolt. The mutiny was quelled, and a court martial followed, sentence of death being passed on some of the poor wretches, who, however, were reprieved in consequence of a flaw in the minutes. The Resistance was ordered home and paid off at once, since which time we lost sight of Captain Pellew. On this subject the Times has made a proper outcry for the recall of a man, who never should have been appointed. The Admiralty has acted wisely in bowing to public opinion. The hero of two mutinies is ordered home, and Rear-Admiral Sir John Stirling is said to be appointed to command the East India squadron.

WHO WILL CUT THE TIGER'S NAILS?—THE QUESTION ANSWERED.—The tiger in the menagerie at Hull has had its nails paired at last, without any accident. Mr. Taylor, veterinary surgeon, was the operator; and several medical gentlemen were present to advise and assist in the operation. Sponges well saturated with chloroform, were fastened to the end of long staves, and held to the tiger's nose. He broke several of these, and seemed disposed, in this unceremonious way, to disappoint all expectations of success. For some time no opportunity was afforded of performing the operation; but when 2lbs. 8z. of chloroform had been used the animal was so far stupified as to induce Mr. Taylor to commence. Still it was a task very far from pleasant to commence the operation. Ropes were got round the animal's neck, and his head drawn close to the bars of the den, and the animal kept close down, so as to prevent the struggles which he was expected to make. By Mr. Taylor's exertions, also, smaller ropes were slipped over each of the tiger's paws, which not only rendered him helpless, but were of use in pulling each paw, as wanted, under the bars, to have the claws drawn, which was speedily done by the aid of a pair of forceps. Since the operation he has continued hearty.
