

Revision of the Scriptures.

Not long since we noticed very briefly the Revision of a portion of the Book of Job, by Dr. Conant, of Rochester. The following is from the pen of one whose attainments in biblical science are such as to give weight to his testimony.

SPECIMEN OF THE BOOK OF JOB.—In Three Parts.—New York: American Bible Union. 4 to.

The full title is—"Specimen of a Revision of the English Scriptures of the Old Testament, from the original Hebrew, in the basis of the common English version, compared with the earlier ones on which was founded. Prepared for the American Bible Union, by Thomas J. Conant, Professor in Rochester Theological Seminary.

There are three parts. The first part contains the first three chapters of the Book of Job, with part of the fourth. The common English Version, the Hebrew Text, and the Revised Version, are printed in parallel columns. At the bottom of the page are valuable critical and philological notes.

The second part contains four chapters of Job, in the Revised Version only, with explanatory notes for the English reader. These notes give information in geography, and "civil, religious, and domestic antiquities."

The third part contains the Revised Version, without notes, but with "margined translations and readings."

In each part the text is printed in paragraphs. The numbers of the chapters and verses being indicated in the margin. Speaking of the ordinary division into verses, Dr. Conant justly observes, that "a man would be considered beside himself, who would treat in this way any human production designed to be understood."

Dr. Conant stands deservedly so high as a scholar, that any production of his will be sure to meet with respectful reception. The "Specimen" now before us fully justifies the expectations which have been formed. It is earnestly to be desired that the work may be soon completed. It will quickly find a place in the libraries and the pulpits of our Ministers, and the members of our denomination generally, will hasten to enrich their collections with it.

We will give two extracts, one from the prose and one from the poetry. Chap. i. 20-22. "Then Job arose, and rent his garment, and shaved his head: and he fell to the earth and worshipped, and he said: 'Naked came I forth from my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither. Jehovah gave, and Jehovah hath taken away; blessed be the name of Jehovah!'"

Chap. iii. 2-6. "Perish the day, wherein I was born; and the night which said: 'A manchild is conceived!'"

"The day, let it be darkness; let not God from above seek for it, nor light shine forth upon it. Let darkness and death-shade reclaim it; let clouds rest upon it; let darkenings of the day afflict it. That night, thick darkness seize upon it! let it not rejoice among the days of the year, nor come into the number of the months."

Our readers will observe that the phraseology of the authorized version is retained as far as possible. Dr. Conant's object is not to modernize our translation, but to make it more correct and faithful. As he remarks in the "Advertisement," "a modern air should not be given to an ancient writing."

We wish the American Bible Union all success in its great undertaking. Judging from this "Specimen" the Revised Version will be a great blessing to our churches. J. M. C.

Times says: "Some of the private letters received from the camp of the allies yesterday are far more encouraging than for some weeks past, and to a certain degree the impression produced by the check of the 18th seems wearing off. The tone of despondency which marked so many previous communications is not now to be found in them, and they now speak hopefully of the moment not far distant for a glorious revenge. One letter of the 5th mentions that only one hundred metres, separate the French from the Malakoff Fort."

On the other hand, the European Times says: "The tone of the recent letters from the Crimea is cheerless, and some of them even desponding. The check of the 18th of June has lost General Polissier his popularity, and here is no doubt it was mainly instrumental in finishing poor Lord Raglan."

FROM THE BALTIC.

From the Baltic we hear that Fort Svart-holm has been destroyed—that 20,000 tons of Russian shipping have been burnt in the vicinity of Nystad—that the blockade of the White Sea has been officially announced—that an experiment with the long range of Conrads has been unexpectedly successful. Whether, or when any great operation is to be undertaken, we are not told, and it appears but too probable that it will be found after all, that Admiral Dundas will have to return, as Sir Charles Napier returned before him, without having accomplished anything really important.

A letter dated of Conrads, July 9, says: "In the evening of the 6th, the Commander-in-Chief tried the range of a thirty-two pounder gun, which had been swung in a peculiar manner, at an angle of forty-five degrees, in one of the wood boats captured a few days ago. The boat was moored across the stern of the flag-ship, and three or four shots fired; the fall of the first in the water was eagerly watched for, but it took so long a time before it fell that it was given up; but in a few seconds exclamations of astonishment put forth as a small column of spray rose in the air at a distance of more than five thousand yards, or over three miles; the shot took exactly thirty-one seconds for its flight. The boat was then towed a little nearer the shore, opposite one of the new earthen batteries, near the Governor's house, and a couple of shots fired, to ascertain if they were within range. Both shots went a long way over the battery, which immediately returned an ineffectual fire with mortars that would not carry the distance. These are, perhaps, the first shots from an enemy that ever alighted on the island of Conrads."

The Russians have evacuated Ardahan. Such is at this moment the exact state of things at the seat of war in Asia. There can be no doubt of the great importance the Russian government attaches to the capture of the Kars, nor will General Mouravieff spare any effort that may enable him to take the place. The strength of the Russian troops is great, and far surpasses what the Turks can oppose to it.

Nevertheless, thanks to the courage and skill of the generals who protect the city now being attacked, thanks also to the firmness of the inhabitants, who venture to hope that the besieged at Kars will show themselves worthy brethren in arms and the race of those who defended Silistria.

It is believed in Paris that the Turkish army in Asia will be able to hold out until reinforcements arrive. The journals of Vienna are circulating a false report of the English having demanded of the Porte the Castles of the Dardanelles, and the French the fortresses of the Bosphorus.

MISCELLANEOUS.

All the accounts which arrive from Belgium, Holland, Prussia, and Sweden, agree in giving the most favorable intelligence as to the state of the crops. In some parts of France, where the threshing of the rye has already commenced, the farmers are very well satisfied with their prospects.

The Independence of Brussels says that on the occasion of the Queen's visit to Paris there will be a fête of surpassing magnificence at Versailles. The entire park will be illuminated as it was in the time of Louis XIV.

The agent of an American house established at Odessa, was at Galatz making arrangements with the Vienna Steamboat Company for the conveyance to the Austrian capital of a large quantity of Russian wool, to be shipped at Rani, and it is appeared merely to be but the prelude to much more extensive operations.

A sort of whirlwind passed over Paris on the 16th, about 10 o'clock, lasting three or four minutes. A large tree in the Tuilleries was snapped in two, and several tiles and chimney pots were blown off. There are reports of serious accidents occurring to people in the streets.

The Rev. Theobald Mathew has remained in London since his return from Madeira, for the purpose of obtaining medical advice. His friends will be glad to hear that his health has improved.

Rossini has taken his departure for Trouville, sea bathing having been prescribed for him by his medical attendants.

There is a coffee making machine at the Paris Exhibition, which can make 500 cups of coffee in a quarter of an hour.

LATEST.—The following "latest intelligence" was placed on board the steamer just before she left Liverpool. London, Saturday, July 21.—The Ministry.—The Post, says—we believe we may state with certainty, that Sir William Molesworth will succeed Lord John Russell as Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The Herald announces, in large type, the virtual defeat of the government implied by a majority, last night, of only three on the Turkish loan question.

Besides the 1500 Germans collected near Sandgate, there are also about 1000 Swiss at Dover, so that the Foreign Legion now numbers a force of 25,000.

Funeral of Lord Raglan.—Up to five o'clock last night no intelligence of the "Caracod" had been received, but her arrival is hourly expected. Lord Raglan was at Bristol. The Ministerial Surprise Last Night.—Members believed the session at an end. They knew there was something about a bill to guarantee a loan to Turkey, but nobody apprehended any serious contest on the subject.

We can scarcely believe that within so short a time the alliance with France, the prospects of the very existence of Turkey should have been saved from the most serious risk by the narrow majority of 135 to 132.

It was believed in Galatz that the Russian authorities had given permission for the export of grain Rani and Pural, and it was said that some Greek vessels had commenced loading.

NOVA SCOTIA.

RAILWAY.—There are not less than five hundred men at work between the junction and Schultz's on the Eastern road, the surveys beyond that point, towards Pictou, are making rapid progress, and it will not be long before another section of the Eastern line will be put under contract.—Morning Chronicle.

Rumours were afloat and current yesterday in this city, of forgeries, to a very considerable amount, having been negotiated by parties, one or more of whom are now in custody. Until a formal investigation before the proper authorities be had, the ends of substantial justice, to all concerned, will be the better regarded by silence observed on the part of the Press.—Sun of Friday.

The paragraph credited to the "Presbyterian Witness" in our last issue should have been credited to the "Liverpool Transcript."

OBITUARY.

DAVID ROBINSON, son of the Rev. Samuel Robinson of this City, departed this life on Friday last. For some years this young man had been suffering by disease, but notwithstanding this, such was the energy of his character that he prosecuted his business with distinguished industry and success. His business had been of such an order as to ensure, with the Divine blessing, rapid progress in the accumulation of this world's wealth, but it has pleased God in his mysterious providence to summon him away in the very midst of earthly prosperity. He had not made a public profession of religion, but from childhood he was strictly moral in his habits and evinced an interest in the progress of God's cause. As his health failed, and eternity appeared in prospect, his mind became deeply impressed with the necessity of being in readiness to depart. These impressions seemed to ripen before his death, into a calm reliance upon the atonement of Christ, and a comfortable hope of blissful immortality.

His funeral was attended at his Father's residence in Carleton, by a numerous and highly respectable congregation on Monday last. The hymn commencing "Unveil thy bosom faithful soul," was given out, and a portion of the 15th Chapter of the 1st Epistle to the Corinthians read by E. Der Bill, an appropriate address by Elder Nutter of Portland, and an impressive prayer by Elder E. N. Harris. After which the Rev. Messrs. Nutter, Harris, Melvin, Purpee, Baker and Bill accompanied by Doctors Hunter, Fitch and Berryman took their place at the head of the procession, and the body was moved to its final resting place in the Carleton Cemetery. Prayer was offered at the grave by the Rev. Mr. Burpee, in the presence of a numerous concourse of people, who had assembled to express their sympathy with the worthy Pastor and his family in their afflictive bereavement. May God in his mercy grant the sustaining consolation of his gracious presence to the afflicted parents, brothers and sisters of the departed, and enable all to look forward with increasing interest to that world where sickness, and pain, and death can never, never come!

We are informed that the wife of our esteemed brother the Rev. B. De Mill, of Amherst, died at her Father's residence in Wolfville, on Friday last. She has for some time been the victim of that fatal disease consumption, and after many months of suffering, it has terminated in death. Mrs. De Mill loved the Saviour, and we have been pleased to learn that his grace sustained her to meet her protracted illness, and enabled her to meet death with a comfortable assurance of a seat amongst the redeemed millions who wait in blissful rest before the eternal throne. God grant that our stricken brother may find this sad bereavement amongst the all things working together for his good, and from the depths of his own sorrow may learn such lessons of religious faith as shall enable him to pour the balm of consolation into the wounded spirits of those who like him, may have their tender earthly hopes blighted by heavens stern decree.

Another of our best shipwrights, the name of Mr. Alexander Sims, of Indiantown, occupies an honorable place. The "Eastern City," "Bride of the Sea," "Sarah M." and the "Lilies" are noble specimens of his superior skill in naval architecture. It will be seen by a notice which has recently taken his eldest son, a worthy, energetic young man into co-partnership with him. We doubt not this arrangement will be mutually advantageous. Heartily do we wish the father and his son enlarged success.

The Morning Courier, true to its engagement, is in full operation, and appears three times a week as the bearer of the latest news, and of select reading for all classes. We regard it as a valuable accession to our periodical literature, and as such wish it prosperously.

THE WESTMORELAND TIMES.—Mr. James Robertson, the former Editor of the Times, has informed us that he intends to renew its publication upon his own responsibility.

Steam to Hampton village. The Messrs. Hatheway's have put one of their Steamers upon this route.

We are indebted to Col. Favor's express for late American papers.

We rejoice to hear that Mr. Wm. C. Beattie, whose right hand was seriously injured the other day in his steam mill, is likely soon to recover.

A melancholy accident occurred at Deer Island, July 14th. A young man in the 28th year of his age, named Leonard Cummings, while engaged with his brothers constructing fish works, when endeavouring to raise a piece of timber it fell back. He called to his brothers to clear themselves from it, but before he could effect his escape it fell upon him, bruising him badly. His friends immediately took him in a boat over to Eastport to a doctor, who ascertained some bones were broken, but they being replaced, he seemed to feel quite comfortable. It was shortly apparent however, that he was bleeding inwardly; he survived only a short time, leaving a wife and two small children, with a numerous circle of friends. The sermon was preached by the writer from Isaiah 40 chap. 95, 7, 8, verses. "All flesh is grass and all the goodliness thereof, is as the flower of the field; the grass withereth, the flower fadeth because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it. Surely the people grass is, and they flourish like the green grass; but the word of our God shall stand forever."—Con. by A. Thorp.

Letters and Monies Received.—Rev. Mr. Rowe, Aug. 4, Mr. I. Wallace, the order and money for books handed to Mr. J. F. Marsters as directed. The money mentioned as having been enclosed for the "Visitor," was not in the letter. Can Bro. W. account for this? Rev. J. E. Balcon, Aug. 1, rem. pleased to learn that the "Visitor" is giving general satisfaction.

By Rev. E. Scott, E. Whitney 10s. All right. Mr. Peter Reid, Mr. McMonagle, July 20, rem. bro. M's "Visitor" not stopped, cannot account for the irregularity. If it is behind time in future, please drop us a line. J. C. Hanson, Esq. July 31, paid the $5 to Mr. J. F. Masters, who promised to forward the S. S. Books as directed. J. Goucton, Esq. July 21, rem. for M. J. Doten, credited on the book. Rev. E. Kierstead, July 12, rem. Rev. T. Magee shall appear in our next. J. M. Hartt, Esq. July 31, rem.

LUNGS! LUNGS!

We refer our readers to an advertisement in another column, for full particulars concerning the HYGEANA of Dr. Curtis. It is said to be one of the most remarkable cures for all descriptions of diseases of the lungs, ever discovered. Its virtues have been testified to by hundreds, who have obtained their knowledge by the best of all teachers—experience.

CAUTION.—Dr. CURTIS'S HYGEANA is the original and only genuine article. Persons suffering from diseases of the lungs are in a great majority of cases, completely restored to health by a faithful trial of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaled Vapor. By the Doctor's new method of treatment, the medical agent is brought to direct contact with the diseased parts, and cannot fail of having a beneficial effect. Druggists sell it. See advertisement in this paper.

VERY IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

Dr. JOHNS, one of the most celebrated physicians in New York, writes as follows: "I have recently had occasion to examine the effects of your Hygeana or Inhaled Vapor, and Cherry Syrup, in a case of chronic Bronchitis, and being such in favor of counter-irritation in affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. I am convinced that your Hygeana, or Inhaled Vapor, is the most convenient and effectual mode of applying any thing of the kind I have ever seen. No doubt thousands of persons may be relieved, and many cured, by using your remedies."

You are at liberty to use, in any way you may think proper, the following, in any way you may think proper. Respectfully, yours, &c. C. JOHNS, M. D. No. 639 Houston St., New York.

Prof. S. G. OSTER writes as follows: "I had occasion to test your Cherry Syrup and Hygeana Vapor in a case of chronic sore throat, that had refused to yield to other forms of treatment, and the result has satisfied me, that whatever may be the composition of your preparation, it is no imposition, but an excellent remedy. I wish, for the sake of the afflicted, that it might be brought within the reach of all."

Dear Sir.—I think highly of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, as a remedy to diseases of the throat and lungs. Having had some opportunity to test its efficacy, I am convinced that it is a most excellent medicine, both the Syrup and the Inhaled application to the chest. The Hygeana is for sale at St. John by FELLOWS & Co., wholesale and retail. See Advertisement in another column. Jan. 5.—lyr.

Saint John Daguerreotype Rooms.

BARLOW'S CORNER, KING STREET. New and Valuable Improvement in PHOTOGRAPHIC PICTURES. Licenses taken on Glass.

THE Proprietor of the St. John DAGUERREOTYPE Rooms, would respectfully intimate to the Public, that being desirous of availing himself with the latest improvements in the Art, he has at a great expense procured the services of an Artist from Boston, who has been in the employ of the inventor of the Photographic system; and is now prepared to make these beautiful and never changing Pictures at his Rooms, Barlow's Corner, King Street.

The Daguerreotype or Amnotype is taken upon plate glass, over which is placed a corresponding glass, the two being united by an indistinctuous gum, enabling the likeness to retain its brilliancy for ages, it will not corrode at sea, or change in any climate; is beautiful in any light, and clear in effect, and can be seen in any light. Pictures can be taken by this process of any size, and are well adapted to set in frames, thus combining the useful and ornamental.

The Public are respectfully advised by all who see it, and is rapidly taking the place of the Daguerreotypes wherever they are made. The Amnotypes is patented in the United States, England and France. The Public are requested to call and see specimens, and judge for themselves. THOS. H. ELLISON, Daguerreotypist Artist. Aug. 8.

It is not necessary for it to touch to kill, like other articles, for both the least and the best bedstead and room where it is used. It is perfectly clean, and will not injure the finest fabric, and can be used with impunity upon Beds, Bedsteads, Paper, Carpets, Woolens, &c. For Moths this is a sure preventative, driving them from articles where they have made their haunts, and keeping them at a safe distance from articles on which it is used. Sold by THOMAS REED, Head of North Wharf. June 27.
