THE UNRECORDED GRAVE.

Manhood-that gloried in its pride and might! Beauty-with cheek of love and eye of light? Age - with its furrews and its look of care? Youth-with its open smile and sunny hair? Genius-with fiery glance and haughty brow, Compel ed before a mightier one to bow?

Who resteth he :? Is manhood stricken in its hour of pride? Hath manho d fallen in the battle tide-When banners streamed along the golden sky-When rushed the war-horse in his majesty-When arm met arm-when life was waged with

When foe sought foe, and qualled not at the strife, Re-ts manhood here?

Who resteth here? Beauty- with pleasa t glance and ip of bloom With voice of music, breath of sweet perfume? Some gentle heart that beamed from eyes of mirth And shed its r-diance round the happy hearth? Some youthful form that may no longer stand. To greet with smiles of love her fellow-band! Rest beauty here?

Who resteth here?

Genius-with saddened ace and laurel crown, Withered before the wor d's ton haughty frown Some child o song whose name shall vet be stirred. Where music's tones and beauty's lay ar heard Resteth he here? Oh! let him still sleep on, Happier than though a world's applause were won

Who resteth here ? Whose race run? whose pilgrimage is o'er i Whose voice is gone, that may be heard no more I know not - yet methinks some mark should be, To tell the world whose res ing-place we see; That, passing by, we may rejoice or fear, Smile in bright hope, or shed the sorrowing tear

Family Circle.

A SOLEMN WARNING TO DANCERS. " We unto them who chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of music, like David," Amos vi. 5.

You believe you have an immortal soulthat you are accountable to God for your time -that there is a day of judgment approaching-that happiness or misery awaits you in the world to come -and that this depends under he blessing of God, on the manner in which you improve your time in this world: -all this you solemn'y believe. By what rule then do you profess to regulate your conduct? In professing your faith in the above truths, you have professed your faith in the Holy Scriptures. If, therefore, the Scriptures condemn the practice of dancing, you must either abandon it, or acknowledge yourself guilty in the sight of God, and of course no Christian.

The Apostle Paul saith, " Be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed, by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God," Roman xii. 2. And is it not conforming to the world, in the most important sense of the word, to frequent dancing as-semblies? The same inspired apostle commands us to pray withou ceasing. And will any that their minds can be in a devothe violin in the ball room? Stop! and think a little. Would you be willing to go from the ball chamber to the judgment seat of Christ? But you are commanded to be always ready.

Do you, who are parents, notwithstanding these serious considerations, say there can be no harm in teaching your children to dance. by bringing dancing masters into your houses. or by sending them to dancing schools? But do you not know that the whole spirit of the religion of Christ is opposed to the maxims examined its nature and tendency, you must certainly knew that its object, and native tendency, is to lead the mind away from the world, and to set the affections on things above where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God : but dancing is not only a notorious conformity to the world, but is directly calculated to divert the mind from every thing of a serious nature. and, by the manner in which it is conducted. tends to awaken in the breast of youth every unhallowed passion, and to set on fire of hell the whole course of nature.

Moreover, St. Paul says, "Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him," Col. iii, 17. Can any person, can any Christian. dance in the name of the Lord Jesus? Or, through him, give thanks to God the Father for such an employment? No one, it is presumed, is sufficiently hardy to say he can. And if they cannot say they can dance in the name of the Lord Jesus, and with a special eye to God's glory, they cannot set up any legal plea in its favour.

What a pity that youth, who possess immortal souls, capable of such noble attainments in sound wisdom, and useful knowledge, even that knowledge of God which is eternal life, should spend the flower of their age in being taught such petty trifles! Will females who have been thus educated, be likely to be better wives, mothers, or more useful members of either civil or religious society? We are commanded to train up a child in the way he should go when arrived to mature age. Would you have your child, when grown to manhood, go in the way of dancing? And suppose he was to step from the dancing room into eternity, would you have the consolation of reflecting that he had gone to he .ven? What would he do there? He has not learned the employment of that society.

You who diligently read your Bible, cannot surely be ignorant of the important matters it teaches you respecting your present and future happiness; and also respecting your awful responsibility to God for the manner in which you have educated your children. Your calling is a holy calling, worthy of its Divine author, the pure and holy Jesus, and suited to the nature of the place to which you are invi-ted,—the undefiled kingdom of God. That you may be fully prepared for that state of blessedness, you are exhorted to walk as Christ himself walked: to let your conversation, the whole of your deportment, your continual walk through life, be as I cometh the Gospel of Christ; and certainly nothing is worthy that Gospel which is not serious, sober, and holy; and you will not say that dancing is a holy exercise.

Among the works of the flesh, enumerated by the apostle in his Epistle to the Galatians. chap. v. 21, he mentions revellings, which was evidently a heathenish practice of disorderly feasting, in which they indulged themselves in mirth, wine, and in dancing; and if our modern dancers do not indulge themselves in all the disorderly practices of the heathens, they take care to retain so much of them as relates to drinking wine as its miserable substitute. take care to retain so much of them as relates to drinking wine, or its miserable substitute, rum and gin, and probably they are not a whit behind them in their immoderate dancing. "O, but we do it from a different motive." Pray what motive have you for drinking wine and for dancing? Do you design thereby to be-come more like God? More holy, meek, and humble? Or is it not rather for the gratifica-tion of the flesh? Alas! they that, are in the

Our reverend friend (who by the way is a young man of great muscular power) calmly left the desk, and walked deliberately to the pew where the interrogator sat, and fastening one hand firmly upon the collar of his coat, the other on the waistband of his "unmentionables,"lifted him square out of the seat, and bore him down the aisle to the ened his eyes upon his audience, and in a clear, full voice, said, "And they cast out devils in the form of a distiller," and suiting the action to the word, out went the knight of the washtub, a la leap-frog fashion, into the street.

LIFE'S CHANGES .- How affecting are the changes that occur within a single year; but add a few years together, and what a mighty revolution is seen, strongly indicative of the results which it is destined to produce. Where are the children which a few years since were place to the never-ceasing cares and toils of East side, and one door North of Duke-street. They have become heads of families. onal frame while stopping at the sound of parents of other children fast ripening into maturity. Where are the men of business, who, but a little while ago, took the lead in the various branches of human occupation? Some have been removed by death; and others. worn out with labours, or withering under the blight of time, have retired from the bustle of the world, as unequal to their former tasks, and are gradually sinking into that oblivion which the grave, the land of forgetfulness, will soon complete. Where are the old men. whose heads, blossoming like the almond tree, and fashions of the world? If you have ever used to whiten our assemblies, and give a venerable aspect to our devotions? The dark and silent tomb hides them almost all. What is the language of these affecting changes? Is it not, oh, man, that thou art a pilgrim, hastening away from this earthly scene? A few years more, and another will take thy place in the house of God, in the work-shop. in the field, or wheresoever thou hast laboured or enjoyed, and thou thyself wilt have gone to thine everlasting home.

> BEHOLD, HE COMETH !- " He that shall come will come, and will not tarry." And what a wail shall then arise from the affrighted world. when they see him in his glory, as the Judge of ill! Here is a case of ASTHMA CURED.

BROOKIAN, N. Y., Dec. 20th., 1853.

For about eight years I have been severly afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have saffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in a bed, getting what rest I could sitting in my chair. My difficulty of breathing and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together in the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most call bsated physicians, but have received as permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr, Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor, and threry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most vice lent attacks, and was in great distress, almost sufficating for want of breath. In less that ten minuites, from the time I applied the inhaler to my stomach, and took a reaspoon full of the Cherry Syrup I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since coatinued it with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved mc from. My advice to the suffering is—TRY IT. MARDANET EASTON. CONSUMPTION CURED.—NEW YORK, DEC. 27td. 1853.—I came to New York in the ship Telegraph my native place is St. John. New Brunswick, when I reached the city, my health was very poor, had a very bad cough, raised a good deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood, bad pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends New York, May 28, 1854.

[From Edwin Bruce.]

Mr. Henry Mason,—Dear Sir.—It is with nuch leasure that I offer my testimony as to the excellence por and Cherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life. Soon after wearing the Inhales, I found it relieved the pressure on my kings, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the Inhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better until it entirely left me, and I now consider myselfcured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, I feel unwilling t present to dispense with it. JOHN WOOD

DEAR SIR :—I am happy to be able to certify to the efficiency of Mrs. Winslow's Southing Syrup, and to the truth what it is represented to accomplish.—Hav ing a little boy suffering greatly from teething, who could not sleep and at night by his cries would not permit any of the family to do so, I purchased a bottle of the Soothing Syrup in order to test the remedy.—and when given to the child according to the directions, its effect upon him was like magic, he soon went to sleep, and all pain and nervousness disappeared.
