and, they do it as a religious act, and are freed from trouble." "Do not their parents and relatives try to prevent such a sacrifice?" "O, they tell them, you must not leave us; we shall die if you do; but all know it is only unmeaning words. None wish to prevent; but, after such lip words they say, if you wish; we will not keep you from your husband and heaven." "Is it really true

LIQUOR LAW.—A fact was told us not since, by a proprietor of one of the principal hotels in this city, which shows the bearing of the new liquor law upon this class of establishments, viz., that the receipts at the place averaged $300 per day, and alone sufficient to pay the rent on the entire concern.—Journal of Commerce.

TREES AND TREE PLANTING.—Mr. E. Nichols writes from Dover, Bureau county, Ill., to the Prairie Farmer, as follows:

These honeysuckles may be obtained by gardeners at low prices—the trumpet at not more than a York shilling a plant, the other I think, are a little higher.—American Agriculturist.

The true relative value of the different varieties, as animal nutriment and for malicider, may be pretty closely ascertained by exposing a lot of different kinds to a fixed temperature, and observing at what different degrees of the thermometer they become hands for that purpose, and by unremitting attention we hope to merit a share of public patronage.
