The charge of Dr. Maclay with respect to violations of the rules of the Union on the subject of versions, by the Committee on Versions, is next discussed at some length. After the doc tor's points on this topic are answered, the following language is held in explanation: "As the Board do not wish to risk the publication of an in pient revision, unless they are as-sured that such publication is superior to the commonly received version, and will, therefore, be beneficial to the character of the Union for fidelity and thoroughness in its work, they instruct this committee to advise them in regard to the matter. The Committee subject each manuscript to the examination of scholars in whom they have confidence, and obtain their written views regarding it, and then make up their minds and report to the Board the one which they recommend to have printed. All the rest of the manuscripts, as well as the printed revision, go to the Final Committee."

Respecting the "doctrinal notes" spoken of by Dr. Maclay, rules of the Union are quoted expressly directing revisers to omit all such.

It is asserted that the practice of employing several scholars on the same portion of Scriptures has been in vogue for four years past, and that Dr. Maclay must have been, or might have been cognizant of the fact when elected to the Presi-The statement that "the Secretary and one

The last part of the pamphlet of the Bible Union is devoted to a vindication of the course of the Board in dismissing Dr. Judd from his office as reviser. The report of the Sub Committee appointed to investigate that subject is quoted, showing that Dr. Judd did not dovote his time exclusively to the work of translation, as stipulated in the agreement; that his mind was exercised by other subjects which anfitted him to act as reviser; that he drew largely on his salary before having completed anything like a proport'onate share of the work; refused to give information as to the advanced state of his revision and declined to surrender to the Union, on application, the first fourteen chapters of Metthew. which he had finished

For the Christian Visitor. DEAR BROTHER :- We were recently favoured with a visit from Rev. J. A. Smith, of St. Mar. tins, who when returning from the Association held at Sackville, spent a Sabbath with us, and by his plain and lucid exhibition of truth, striking appeals, and deep pathos, endeared himself to many hearts. We hope the blessing of Almighty God nr y fellow his labour of love. . In recounting the mercies of our heavenly Fa ther we have abundant reason for gratitude to the giver of all good and for encouragement to labour in the cause of Christ with greater devotdness.

We have of late been favoured with some man

festations of Divine approbation, and from time to time have the privilege of leading happy converts down the banks of our Jordan, and of burying them with Christ in baptism. On Saturday last we enjoyed a blessed seas n Conference, and we think that the services of the Sabbath were as pleasant as any we ever en joyed. When we met on the bank of our flowing river, to administer the ordinance of baptism, it appeared as if a measure of that glory that shone in its effulgence on Jordan's limpid stream when Christ was buried beneath its yielding wave,

DEBATE ON THE REPEAL OF THE PROHIBITORY LAW.

MR. STREET said that he was glad to have an opportunity of supporting the present Bill, for it was evident that Prohibition was not adapted to this country. He was surprised to find the hon, member from Albert, Mr. Mc-Clelan, and the hon, member from Carleton duced numerous statistics of the relative state-Mr. Connell,) entirely averse to any License system, and prepared to advocate Free Trade in Liquors, (Mr. McC. rose to explain and said, that he had expressed no such opinion but that in the absence of any proper Bill to regulate the traffic, he was not willing to repeal the old Law.)

Mr. S. continued and said, that he thought the Government had acted wisely in not entering into a lenthened discussion upon a license law this session, but merely revive the doubt finally prevail, without prohibition. old license law, which would answer every The hon, member from Charlotte, (Mr. Gillpurpose till the next session, when a Bill could be matured, with more deliberation. The Prohibitory Law had legitimately and constitutionally become the law of the land, and in justice to the friends and advocates of that measure, ought to have been fairly tried. Such had not been the case, On the contrary, the officials of the Province, from the highest to the lowest, (with a few honorable exceptions) had arrayed themselves against the law, and had encouraged the people rather to violate than observe it. Some important provisions in the law required a jumust, to some extent, remain inoperative. but such decisions could not be had, and further, nearly all the legal profession were arrayed rgainst it. The whole proceedings, from the Governor down, had been a conspi racy against a law, the principles of which were calculated to benefit and bless the country; these were additional reasons why he should vote against the repeal. Mr. G. alluded to the impression that seemed to pervade certain circles, that the temperance community were destitute of that loyalty which was necessary to constitute a good cinzen, and faithful subject. He believed they were not a whit behind any other class of men in loyalty and patriotism, and they proved their love of country by wishing to rid it of one of the greatest evils it has ever grouned under. Loyalty, said he, consists not in bowing submissively to power, but it consisted in a devoted attachment to the coun-

He regretted that temperance men in too many instances, had not proved to have nerve enough to withstand this attack that had been made, but the time would come when the people would call for such a law. And he was of opinion now that it a fair ex-pression of opinion cou'd be had, from every person, of both sexes, that those opposed to

A barn ewned by Mr. Alden. near Hammond River, was struck, but not seriously injured. A great number of the telegraph posts near this spot, are scored and seamed with the lightning. G. W. STONE'S Vegetable Liquid Cathartic.

THE public do not require to be told that a mild, safe, and reliable Cathartic, in a liquid form, agreeable to the taste, and one which purges without violence; is a desideratum in medicine; this fact will be admirted by all. Such a discovery has been often attempted, but without success, until the introduction of the above named remedy. To grant and large and No patent medicine ever met with such ready approval by physicians as this. Many regular pratitioners are using it daily, all of whom have spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Persons, for the want of a better, have been obliged to resort to the use of those drastic, nauseous, and oftentimes injurious purgatives, such as castor oil, salts, schns, jallop, rhubarb, alloes, gamboge, &c., all of which cruse more or less debility, and fall to accomplish the object for which they are taken; on the contrary, they often increase the difficulty and render the patient less curable. None of these enter into the composition of this invaluable remedy. It is composed of barks, roots and seeds, the medical properties of which are exactly adapted to the cure of those complaints for which it is recommended. By a combination of those properties the public were put in possession of the most valuable preparation ever produced. This medicine is not intended simply as a Cathartic; its value as such is insignificant, when compared with its power of purifying the blood from all humors, regulating the action of the bowels, curing Dyspepsia, restoring the appetite, producing a healthy action of the Liver, freeing the Stomach from bile, and invigorating and strengthening the whole system. It is a certain cure for the Piles, and those suffering from that complaint should give it a trial. It is also warranted to cure canker in its worst forms. For all diseases of the Bowels it cannot be recommended too highly. In Summer Complaints, such as Dysentery, Diarrhoa,

Cholera Morbus, &c., it will be found invaluable. Reader, as sure as the sun rises in the East, just so sure you will be benefited by the use of this medicine for any of the above complaints, and as sure will it relieve those suffering from Rheumstism, Neuralgia Tic Doloureux, Gout, Headache, and Pain in the Sid. and Stomach, caused by Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, General Debility, &c., is often produced by Wind in the Stomach, which this remedy will expel at once. It is also an excellent remedy for Sea Sickness. Those having occasion to travel by water will find it invaluable.
