MY COUNTRY.

WRITTEN ON THE DEPARTURE OF MR. T. P. DAVIS, FOR AMERICA.

My country, I love thee; thy brake, brook, and tree, Thy hills and thy valleys are precious to me;
Thy streamlets, thy castles now hoary and grey,
Are full of rich beauty, though passing away; Thy pure mountain breeze, and thy calm cottage home.

Will be dear to remembrance where'er I may roam.

My country, I love thee; thy strange tales of yore Thy legends, thy bard-song, thy old ballad lore; Thy scenes of past action in warlike array, Thy lords and thy barons so strong in their day; Thy abbots once gorgeous, whose tapers did gleam O'er crows' and monks kneeling beside a lone shrine.

My country, I love thee; though hush'd are the tongues
That sung in wild music the fame of thy sons, Though thy harp-strings no longer are struck by the hand.

Of a white-hair'd retnier—a bard of his land, Still I love thee, I love thee, "Gwynllf Wallia," with thee Are my best thoughts—my deep heart, the land of the free.

I love thee, my country—my own mountain home, Where the voice of the Briton seems sweeter in tone,
Where the peasant is noble, as honest and true, Where the snow-draw and dairy are fair in hue, Where the daughters of Cymru are lovelier to see,
"Gwynllf Wallia," my country, the land of the free!
Carmarthen.

Family Circle.

Self-made Men.

BY E. H. DUVAL.

Lastly, age need not of necessity be regarded as a discouragement.

There can be no doubt he who has youth on his side is in a more favourable position for success than one advanced in years; but should the slumbering energies or latent talents of an individual be aroused after the season of youth has passed, let him not despair, he may yet be able to accomplish much that may be of benefit to himself and the world.

Admiral Blake who laid the foundation of English naval tactics was in his fiftieth year when he first went to sea. Cromwell was forty-two years old when he entered upon public life. Sir Wm. Jones the oriental scholar who was acquainted with twenty-eight languages was engaged studying the grammar of oriental dialects within a week of his death. Ferguson did not come out publicly as an astronomer till he was thirty-eight years old. Columbus was fifty-six when he discovered America; and Herschell was thirty-six years old when he made his first telescope.
Great things have been accomplished by men advanced to years and may be again.

The cases I have cited of men who have contended with difficulties with signal success, have been mostly drawn from distant lands; but, probably, New-Brunswick, in proportion to her population, could furnish as many cases of the kind as any country in the world.

A large proportion of our leading commercial men and legislators commenced life in very humble circumstances; their histories, if written, would be found replete with points of interest and instruction. Some, indeed, amongst us, commenced life apparently under the most unfavorable circumstances. A lady once told me that her husband on returning from a voyage to the old country said that his heart ached for a poor boy on board the vessel, who had come out, he feared, to a hard lot. According to common report he had first rough usage, but for many years he has held as a merchant and a legislator, a commanding and influential position in the Province.

I have felt almost inclined to mention by name several gentlemen both in and out of the legislature whose industry, enterprise and prudence, have raised them to positions of reputation and honour; but, not having permission from themselves, I refrain from doing so; and content myself with the thought that there is scarcely an individual in the room, of mature years, who is not familiar with cases of the kind within his own particular circle.

Such examples, immediately before our eyes, ought to operate as powerful stimulants to exertion, as should also, the consideration that we live in a land where we have an ample field before us. Where energy may expect to meet with success. Where we have not the prospect of toiling away our lives in care and anxiety without the hope of reward; nor to live a life of labour and at last find a pauper's grave. But in this country, every man whatever his original station in life or whatever may be his religious preferences may find fair play; and has before him, animating prospects.

I believe that a large proportion of the inhabitants of New Brunswick, have very inadequate conceptions of the extent of their privileges. True, we are labouring just now, under a commercial depression which casts a gloomy hue over our affairs—but let it be remembered that it is not in New Brunswick alone, that the pressure of the times is felt, but throughout the whole commercial world and I verily believe that the pressure bears as lightly here as in any other place, in the old world or in the new.

But, however severe may be the temporary embarrassments, I believe so firmly in the resources of New Brunswick that I see nothing but a bright future, before every young man of intelligence energy and character.

Ladies and gentlemen, these are not claptrap remarks got up for the occasion, they are the fixed sentiments of my mind; sentiments that I have cherished from the first day that I landed in St. John; sentiments that have been confirmed by what I have seen in every part of the Province, having visited every county, some of them several times. From which I am convinced that our greatest want is a sufficient and suitable population, to develop the resources of the Province, favoured as it is with abundant stores of wealth that only require labour and skill to turn them to profitable account. I felt this so deeply a year and half ago, when I had the opportunity of visiting my father-land, that I felt it to be my duty (though unauthorized) to lecture on "New Brunswick as a suitable field for emigration for the working classes." My stay in the old country was so short and my movements from place to place so rapid, that I regret to say, I could only lecture once; I stated my opinions, however, wherever I went. As the result of my visit home, thirty-six persons have come to this Province, nearly all of the labouring classes, and I am happy to say, that bad as the times have been, nearly or quite all have done well. Last Monday I received a letter stating that six more would sail in April and many others have informed me that they intend to come out as soon as they can raise the means to do so.

OBITUARY NOTICES.

MRS. BEYEA.

Died at Hampton April 16th, the widow Beyea, aged ninety years and nine months.
She was the wife of Mr. James Beyea; and came to this province, with her husband, at the close of the War of the Revolution. Mrs.
Beyea was brought to a saving knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus Christ, about a half a Century ago; and she has well adorned her profession through a long course of years.
She was baptized by Father Innes, almost fifty years ago, and united with the baptist church in Hampton; and during that long period she has persevered, by the grace of God, through all the changes and vicissitudes which the church has passed through; feeling that both the joys and the sorrows of the church were her own. She was well established in the doctrines of the sovereign, distinguishing grace of God. Believing that God's love to his people, is like himself, immutable and immovable as the everlasting hills. She was a christian of the old school; and of the old divinity. And these doctrines were not only maintained in theory, but sustained and comforted her in temptation, in duty, in all the cares of life, and through a forty years widowhood.

The loss of her husband left her with the care and burden of a large family; whom she brought up with care and tenderness; and whose example of faith and piety has been blessed of God to the saving of their souls.

Her residence was close to the Meeting House in Hampton. Consequently she had much company on Lord's Days; especially in the winter season, as no fire was provided in the house of God. Mrs. B. received all who came, with a pleasant countenance and a cheerful welcome; and seemed ever glad that she had it in her power to make them comfortable. The writer of these lines well remembers that, nearly forty years ago, when labouring in this field, in the gospel, her christian kindness and sympathy. It was one of his pleasant homes; where he was often fed and lodged; and of which he has always cherished a sweet remembrance.

Mrs. Beyea died as she lived, in the faith and hope of Jesus her precious Saviour; and longed to quit her earthly tabernacle, and to go with Him, and love and praise in her house above. She has gone, "like a sheaf of corn, ripe for glory." The righteous hall hope in their death. D. N.

HANNAH ANDERSON.

Died at Roshea in the County of Albert, on the 10th inst., Hannah Anderson, aged 88 years, 7 months and 21 days. She was born at Horton N. S. and was the eldest daughter of Deacon Peter Bishop by his second wife.
Mrs. A. never made a public profession of religion, but was generally thought to be pious by those best acquainted with her, shortly before her death, she expressed hope in the Saviour. Mrs. A. was mother of 14 children, 12 of whom are yet living, she also had 52 grand children and 36 great grand children. A sermon was preached on the solemn occasion from the 90th Psalm and 1st verse, when her mortal remains were conveyed to its final resting place on Saturday the 12th, inst., followed by many weeping spectators.—Com. by L.
H. Marshall.

MR. JOHN FILLMORE.

Who died on the 7th April, lived nearly to the end of his 93rd year. He lived to see the fifth generation. He has a left very numerous offspring. Some few years ago Mr. Fillmore experienced the pardoning love of God, and rejoiced in the liberty of the gospel. The writer informed his death from Numbers 13 and 10th.
"Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his." The audience listened with great solemnity and attention. How sweet is the reflection that friends long separated shall meet again on the blissful shores of eternity, to hail that Redeemer who rescued them from the devoing elements of Divine justice. May we all live the life of the righteous, so that there may be no danger in our death.—Com. by Rev. J. Rowe.

MARY M. CARPENTER.

Died at Moncton on the 12th of April, Mary M. Carpenter, daughter of William Carpenter, aged four years and six months. Though so very young, her mind was quite impressed with the thought that she would die. About a week before her departure, she gave her mother particular directions as to what her desires were respecting her clothes and toys. Her mother had insinuated to her that she would plant some flowers and roses around the graves of her little brothers, and she inquired why you plant some around my grave? She further inquired, will you place me in the coffin and set the coffin upon the table, so that my little sister can kiss me as I kissed my little brother, when he was placed there. She was a great sufferer, for two days and nights she was not able to speak, but just before she expired, she called her mamma. We trust the dear Saviour thus early prepared her as a lamb for His fold, and that He has taken her to a fairer clime where the plants will not wither nor droop, nor die. Her parents have been much afflicted.

Three of their children are sleeping in the dust, and but one only is spared. May the great Redeemer support them under all their afflictions, and prepare them for the heavenly kingdom.—Com.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

TRIO, OHIO; AM.

MY DUTY TO BEAR TESTIMONY TO THE EFFICACY OF THE Vegetable Pain Killer. I have used it for years in plants of the stomach and bowels, and in all cases subject to severe attacks of diarrhoea, and in morbus, for the last two years I have not had a case to use it or any other medicine for that plaint, it having perfectly restored my digestive powers, and given me a new lease of life. I have the severe and such a pain in my back, for three days and nights, that I could get no rest. I demanded of my physicians, after several things had been tried, to give me something to relieve my back and head of pain. He said I must have, and wait till the acute wore off, and the pain would wear away. I had too much pain to feel easy, and sent and got a 25 cent bottle of the "Vegetable Pain Killer." I took a little inwardly and bathed according to directions, and on application has removed all the pain, and I am able to write to-day, though with a trembling hand. The application was made last night about 9 o'clock, and I had a sweet night's rest; I have recommended it for several years, and it has travelled all over the world, and given universal satisfaction where it has been used according to directions.

Yours, gratefully,
L. PERRY DAVIS.

Pastor of Baptist Church, Trio, OHIO.

A letter from Rev. Chas. C. Robinson, Esq., of Bumrah, to his father, Joseph Robinson, Esq., of this city, has been handed us for publication, from which we make the following extracts.—(Providence Journal, New York, June 6, 1855: "Dear Father, I have used your Pain Killer for months, but have not prevent hitherto. Will you kindly say to Mr. Davis that Mrs. Hubbard and myself, and indeed I might add all who came out with us, feel very grateful for the box of Pain Killer which he gave us, when we left our native land for Bumrah. I have used it for Coughs, Cold and violent internal pains, summer complaints, burns, bruises, and for the stings of Scorpions, and with uniform success. The only severe case of the Pain Killer, which Mrs. Hubbard had in Bumrah, was instantly relieved by the Pain Killer. We always keep it where we can put our hand on it in the dark, if need be. Although I took Mr. Nisbet's box in addition to my own, when he returned to America, still it all gone but three or four
