THEGREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY

We regret to see by our English files and Cir. culars, that the tightn ss of the money market has depressed the Timber trade. Considerable anxiety is felt at home at the present state of monutary affairs. Until bullion ceases to flow with such rapidity to the continent, or until the supply becomes greater, money must continue in active demand at higher rates. The stock of Deals on hand appears to be equal to the sum-mer's demand, and unless some want, not in the ordinary course, arises, even with an impooved money market, it is scarcely likely that the Tim-ber trade would be much bettered.-[Leader.

The Johnston Government being now in power however, have reinstated George Bergman, John Morse, Thomas Swallow, John Roacn, and James W. ENORMOUS EMBEZZLEMENT IN NEW YORK. John McIlveen, cashier of the firm of J. Beck & John Mcliveen, cashier of the arm of J. The firm failed

some months ago, and wishing to ascertain the cause, if possible, of their deficiency in funds, they instituted an investigation of their books for several years past, and the discovery of the above enormous deficit in their cash account was made apparent. This account had been regularly balanced, but the balances had been forced, and the difference between the true and false balance had been embezzeled. The cashier had enjoyed the fullest confidence of his employers, and until the discovaries recently made was not suspected. It is stated that he has made confession to his employers in regard to the disposition; made over to them a house and lot in Fourth's reet, oppo-site Washington square, which he purchased with their money. It is expected also that consider able more property will be delivered up to them. McIlveen has always stood well in the community and was formerly one of the commanding offi-cers of the Scotch regiment, a "crack company" in the city. It is stated that the failure of his employers was owing to the heavy drain made by him upon their treasury. NEWFOUNDLAND .- Light on Green Isle, Catalina Harbor .- The Colonial Government at Newfoundland has given notice that on and after the 1st day of March 1857, a light would be exhibited from a lighthouse re-cently erected on Green Isle, on the S. side of the entrance of Catalina harbor, Trinity Bay, on the E. coast of Newfoundland. The light is a fixed white light, and will be visible seaward from the deck of a ship in a favorable state of the atmosphere at a distance of 8 miles from ENE, round southerly to SW. The lighthouse consists of a keeper's dwelling, of wood, of a story and a half high, with a pitched roof, through the centre of which rises a low stone tower surmounted by a lantern, the height from the base to the top being 32 eet. About the first day of June next this light, which is temporary, will be replaced by a more powerful light of the same character, the illuminating ap-paratus being a lens of the fourth order. The light will be placed at a height of 86 feet above the level of the sea, and will be visible through the same are of the horizon, from ENE round southerly to SW, for a dis-

Germain Street, April 29, 1857.-3t.

To the independent Electors of the County of Charlotte.

GENTLEMEN: In July last, I was elected as one of your Representatives, and expected to serve you for the term of four yhars; but His Excellency the Governor, by the advice of his Council, has thought fit to dissolve the Assembly, and you are again called upon to select four men to serve you in a new House. At the request of my political friends in different sections of the County, I shall again come before you as a Candidate for your votes. During the late session, I offered no FACTIOUS opposition to the present Government; I stated to you at the last Election, that upon a direct question of want of c nfidence, I should vote against them, but that I should deal with their measures according to their merits, as I shall, if elected, deal with the measures of any administration that may hereafter be formed, supporting such as I may think will be for formed, supporting such as 1 may think will be for the interest of my constituents, and opposing such as I think will be prejudicial thereto. In the dissolution of the late House of Assembl, no political measure was invol ed; but the question in the coming Election is, whether an anti-movement Government, (the principal leaders of which have always been opposed to the principle of Responsible Government,) or a Government by the people, shall control the destinies of the Province; men who have lways been the unflinching advoeates of this princirle, and of popular rights. You have had sufficient opportunity to judge of my political principles; it is therefore quite unnecessary that I should recapitulate them. Should I again be Elected, I shall endpayour to the best of my ability, to advance the leading our Country. The subject of Railways has for many years been discussed in this Province, -After mature considera-tion I am of opinion, that the scheme of 1856 is too extensive, and one which the present condition of our population and finances will not fully justify. I consider the 'European and North American' and the 'Saint Andrews and Quebee' Lines as most important to the Province at present; and so far, as any future legislation may be required for those lines, I shall, if returned, do my best to promote their com-The Fisherics of New Brunswick, on account of increasing importance, demand a careful consideration. Lord John, therefore, invites his former colleagues to show the sincerity of their avowed desire to support greater stress upon this point, from a persuasion that the cause of progress and reform depends upon the cordial co-operation of men holding the positions in the public mind awarded to Lord Palmerston and Lord John Russell; and we are happy to have the support of the British Quarterly Review in this udgment of the national interest. Our learned contemporary's opinion will have the greater weight with some persons, frem the total absence of partisanship. "Lord Palmerston," he says, " is not, in our eyes, a model states-man." "Lord John," he proceeds, " has done much to deserve friends; but, unhappily, he has done nearly as much to convert them into enemies." Yet, these are the men from w.iom we are to expect advanced legislation. "Our creed," says Lord Palmerston, "is peace abroad and pro-gressive improvement at home." "These last words," comments the Reviewer, " ad mit. of large interpretation ; and we are not without hope, that Lord John Russell and Lord Palmerston may see their way together to a large explanation of them."

Treaty with Morocco.

Our friendly relations with Oriental, or a least with Mohommedan Powers, have been extended by the ratification of an advantageous treaty with the Sultan of Morocco. By similar arrangements, Egypt and Tunis were already brought into amicable association with the West; Algiers is French by conquest and colonization; and the treaty now announced completes the connection between Europe and Africa, from the isthmus of Suez to the Straits of Gibraltar. After two years negociation, Mr. Hay, our Consul-General at Tangier, has succeeded in concluding a treaty between the Queen of Great Britain and the Sultan of Morocco and Fez. The whole terntory will be open to British travellers and residents, on the footing of the most favoured nations. They will have the right to hire houses ; with exemption from taxation, millitary service, forced loans, domiciliary visitation, and search, and with security of property and person, on a par with the sub-jects of the Sultan in the British dominions. We lay the ciety have nearly been completed, and, in the opinion of well-informed parties, a good working parliament will be the result; this is so far ground for hopeful anticipatien as to the future, which hope is still further encouraged by the very favourable spring weather we have experi-enced, holding out as it does a reasonable prospect of abundant supplies of the leading neces-saries of life. To counteract this, however, in some degree at least, we are constrained to note the tightness, if not, indeed, the unsatisfactory state of the money market, which has caused the Bank of England to raise its rate of discount to the very high amount of 7 per cent. upon government securities. This is understood to be caused by the excessive demand of bullion for the Con-tinent. In the face of those circumstances, it is satisfactory to record that the consumptive demand for wood has not suffered any abatement : indeed the requirements of consumers in most of the leading articles continue not only unimpaired but are only keeping up to the average extent experienced at this early period of the year.
