bark Eloise, which had on board forty of the passengers of the steamship Central America.

The passengers stated that the Central America foundered on the 12th inst., and that only sixty out of five hundred passengers were saved. Nothing is mentioned concerning the specie she had on board.

THE FATE OF THE STEAMSHIP NORFOLK.

The following particulars of the wreck were prepared by Mr. George W. Porter, of the Merchants' Exchange, Baltimore, who was a passenger on board the Joseph Whitney, which picked up the greater portion of the passengers and crew of the ill-fated steamer.

The steamship Norfolk, Capt. J. R. Kelly, which left Philadelphia on Saturday last, at 9 o'clock, a. m., for Norfolk and Richmond, with twenty-six passengers and a crew composed of twenty-one persons, and laden with a valuable cargo of merchandise, encountered a heavy gale from E. S. E. on Sunday evening, which continued to increase in violence during the night; when ten o'clock, p. m. and four a. m., she sprung a leak, carried away her foremast and foremast, and to high water a large portion of the cargo was thrown overboard. Her head was then turned beachward, with the view of running her on to save the lives of those on board, but the rudder broke off, and she was left a helpless wreck, in a violent gale and heavy sea, and at daylight on Monday broke into pieces, then about ten miles south of Chincoteague, the passengers and crew barely having time to take to the boats, saving nothing but what clothes they had, before she went down and was lost entirely from view.

After being on board the small boats in a heavy sea and high N. W. wind for about nine hours, they were fallen in with at 2 1/2 p. m. by the steamship Jos. Whitney. Capt. Howes, from Baltimore, bound to Boston, succeeded in taking up three of the boats, containing 40 persons. The fourth boat started off in another direction in search of a vessel which was not seen afterward, but it is supposed made for the shore. This boat's crew, containing the first and second engineer and fireman, was afterward picked up by the steamer Caledonia, bound from Charleston to Baltimore.

FOREIGN NEWS BY THE "PERSIA"

The steamship Persia brings us three days later news than that by the Baltic. From our files of papers we select such items as have not previously appeared.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Rumors of ministerial changes continued to be propagated. The London Star says: "Sir Charles Wood, it is believed, will leave the Admiralty and take the Board of Control, while Sir James Graham will become first Lord of the Admiralty. Lord Panmure is reported as anxious to resign, to be succeeded by Mr. Cardwell or Mr. Herbert. Admiral Berkeley, the senior Naval Lord of the Admiralty, will retire, having lost his seat in Parliament, and we hear will be succeeded by Admiral Pechell, M. P. for Brighton."

An important meeting in favor of the scheme for the improvement of the navigation of the rivers of India, with a view of increasing the supply of cotton from India, had been held at Manchester.

The warwick cup race is thus described: "Fisherman went away with the lead, Leconte lying off at about 20 lengths. The only change in these positions took place at about a mile from home, when Leconte went up to Oakball's quarters, but soon afterwards dropped back again. Fisherman was never caught, and won in a canter by a length. Leconte was beaten by upwards of twenty lengths."

At the autumn Commencement of Trinity College, Dublin, held for the purpose of conferring degrees on distinguished members of the British Association, Professor Rogers, of Boston, Mass., was amongst the parties so honored.

The shipment of the silver to the East by the steamer of the 4th was £269,000.

The Bank of England had given notice of a slight relaxation in their terms, by making advances on bills having six months to run, instead of only three, as of late.

Complaints of the spread of the potato disease, both in England and Ireland, were very prevalent, and Indian corn had consequently a rising tendency.

Mr. Charles Dickens reports that by the various performances, readings, lectures, &c., in remembrance of the late Douglas Jerrold, a clear profit has been made of £2000, which is to be expended in the purchase of a Government annuity for Mrs. Jerrold and her unmarried daughter.

A return from the Board of Trade of the exports for the first half of 1857, shows that thirty per cent. of the aggregate shipment goes to British possessions, and nineteen per cent. to the United States.

The Morning Advertiser says: "We are informed by a correspondent that the government is in a treaty with the Atlantic Telegraph Company to buy up their interest and complete the work. It is stated that the government has actually offered terms which the directors assented, subject to the confirmation of a special meeting of the proprietors."

An English paper says it is authorized to state that the Great Eastern steamship "will be launched in the first spring tides of next month (October). The day is not as yet absolutely fixed, but this important event will probably take place on Monday, the fifth of that month. The tides will be highest on that day."

LOUIS KOSKOUTH. This illustrious exile and distinguished patriot, passed through Glasgow yesterday, on his way to Arrochs hotel, accompanied by his wife and daughter, where he is to sojourn for three weeks. He is in much better health than when last in Scotland.—North British Daily Mail.

INDIA.—The Daily News suggests that arrangements should be made on large scale for bringing home the wives and children of officers and soldiers in India.

Amongst the passengers by the Ripon, which arrived on the 4th, is Miss Starr, who narrowly escaped being slain at Meerut; she was afterwards in a carriage with five others, three of whom were murdered. Mr. Hay, a missionary, with his wife and children, are also passengers; they escaped with only a few shillings. The Calcutta passengers seem to think the mutineers at Delhi could not hold out much longer.

Although the ordinary telegraphic advices from India are not expected before the 10th or 12th, it is not impossible that news may arrive before those dates.

The Calcutta passengers by the Ripon believe that when Delhi has fallen it is only a matter of time before the mutineers will spread all farther over the country, by great numbers of the mutineers escaping to various parts of India.

LATEST FROM DELHI.—An officer employed on the staff at Delhi, writes from the camp before that city, on the 14th of July: "The whole native army has gone, or is going. Some fifty Regiments have gone already, and all the rest are sure to follow. Here we are still, before Delhi, and not likely to get in till reinforcements arrive from England, for our force is about one-third the enemy's in numbers, and they outnumber us altogether in guns and ammunition. Delhi being one of the largest arsenals in India. We are therefore quite unable to besiege the place regularly, and our nearest batteries are 1200 yards off.

The engineers urged an assault, and everything was arranged for it, but at the last moment the General hung back, and since then we have lost so many men that I don't think the idea will ever be entertained again. Our own position is impregnable, the left resting on the river, the right well entrenched. The latter the enemy are very jealous of and are constantly trying to turn. We have had eighteen actions fought there since we came, and some of the regiments have lost a third of their number in killed and wounded already. I think the assault would have succeeded, but it is very questionable what we could have done inside that immense city with a handful of Europeans and some 15,000 Sepoys to drive out. We number 6500 of all ranks, but our irregulars are all rotten and ready to turn. The Ghoorkas (inhabitants of Nepal) and Sikhs, on the other hand, are thoroughly staunch, and have a thorough contempt for the Hindoostanes. The way in which the Ghoorkas fight is the admiration of the whole army."

The Oxygated Bitters are doing wonders in the case of Dyspepsia, Debility, Jaundice, and Liver Disease. Amongst the symptoms which these have cured, for these diseases, and of a kindred nature, this alone appears to perform all its promises.
