A MOTHER'S KISS.

A child whose infancy was joy,
A little boy of noble mien,
Now tossing gaily many a toy,
Now romping through the garden green—
His parents' blue-eyed little pet,
He tripped one morn, and down he fell;
His mother cried, "Come, Willie, let Me kiss the spot and make it well."

A mother's kiss hath power to cure;
Her love is balm for every wound;
Her gentle smile, her words so pure,
Can heal the bruise and make us sound;
And if there comes a bruised heart,
And bitter tears arise and swell
A mother's love still sooths the smart—
A mother's kiss will make it well.

What matters if the world forget
To praise us for the good we do,
Or, if it never pays the debt
Which to our truthfulness is due!
A mother's sympathy is ours,
Wherever on the earth we dwell;
Though gone forever childhood's hours,
The mother's kiss still makes us well.
My mother's hair is gray, and mine
Is lightly touched with silver streaks;
I am a full-grown man—but Time
Has deeply marked my mother's cheeks;
Yet still her thrilling kiss is warm
Upon my brow imprinted well:
Through all my life it hath a charm
My mother's kiss! to make me well.

From infancy until to-day,
In sickness, sorrow and mistrust,
Her gentle words drive care away
And lift my spirit from the dust.
She tells me that the angels call,
That she must go with God to dwell;
My broken heart I feel such befall,
No mother's kiss will make me well.
Yonkers, August 30, 1858.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

This simple version of the Lord's Prayer has been brought out by the Savannah Republican. Our Father who art in Heaven, To whom all power on earth is given, Hallowed be thy glorious name! Thy kingdom over all proclaim! Thy righteous will on earth be done, As 'tis in worlds beyond the sun. Give us this day our daily bread, And teach us how to live and feed! From all our sins free us, O Lord, For Thine is the kingdom, Thine the power, And Thine the glory, evermore!

Family Circle.

LITTLE BETTIE.

"Hand me some water, buddy, won't you?"
"In a minute, Bettie."
And Bettie's feverish cheeks were pressed again to the pillow; and little Harry's hands went on as busily as ever with the trap he was making, and at length he entirely forgot the request.

"Please get it now, buddy," he at last heard, and scattering knife, triggers and strings in his haste, he was soon holding a cup to her crimson lips. But she turned her head languidly from it.

"Not this, please; but some fresh and cold from the well," she said.

"Oh! don't be so particular, Bettie; this is fresh, and I am so busy I can't go now; won't this do?"
She no longer refused; quietly took the cup which he offered; and it was the last time she ever called upon her brother for an act of kindness; for another day had passed, she stood beside the river of life, and drank its cool waters never to thirst again. And of all who over that little brown coffin, as it lay on the table before the pulpit, there were none who shed more bitter tears than the little boy who could not forget that he had refused the last request of his little sister.

Little children, are you kind to one another, or are you cross, selfish and fretful? Remember, then the time may come when they will have bowed your reach; and then, oh! how glad would you give all you possess to have them back again. You might gather all your books and toys—every thing, for which you are now so willing to contend, but all you could do with them would be to place them on the grave of one you had wronged. I would not bring them back.

Henry was a kind-hearted boy and dearly loved his little sister; and she had only been sick a little while, so that he did not consider her dangerously ill; but this was no comfort to him when she was gone.

"Oh! mother!" he would say, "if I had only brought that water for her I could hear it; but now she's where I can never, never wait on her again."

Think of this when you are tempted to quarrel, to be selfish or unkind; for do you know if one of you should die, the next would remember every act of kindness, every bitter word which had fallen from your lips?—but then it would be too late to recall it; too late to ask forgiveness.—N. C. Presbyterian.

"TM AFRAID I'VE TOLD A LIE."
A true little girl was Nelly Lawson—this was seen in her face; for

"Thought, not feeling that's not true
Ne'er made less beautiful the blue
Undeveloped heaven of her eyes."

She was accustomed to speak the exact truth, for she had been taught to do so. Her parents did not rely upon nature to give her sincerity, any more than to give wheat to their fields, or roses to surround their house. Her mother did not deem it enough to insure good children to let them alone, and forbear to plant evil; she well knew that good must be planted seasonally, and nourished and cherished with tender vigilance.

When Nelly was very little, she came one day, with a very sad face, to her mother, saying, "Mother, I'm afraid I've told a lie!"

"Why do you think so, my dear?" asked her mother.

"Because," said she, when Father asked me if there were any bears under the big tree, I told her no; but when Nora went out to get some berries, I went with her, and we found two beautiful ones on the ground."

"They might have fallen after you were there."

"I guess they were there then, for they were under the leaves of the currant bush, and I shouldn't have seen them if it hadn't been for Nora. Was it not wrong for me to say there were none there?"

"Yes, it was wrong for you to say certainly there were none there. You should have said you thought there were; not so; but it was not a lie unless you wished to deceive her."

"I am very glad, then; but I am sorry to make mistakes. I suppose it is not quite right to make mistakes is it?"

"Not to make them carelessly; and it is very wrong to have a positive habit—a way of thinking that we cannot be mistaken."

Thus, with the fear of falsehood as the greatest of evils, Nelly's soul became that delightful spectacle, a mirror of truth; no crooked, indirect, feigning, and affected ways were hers. She knew that when she came into the spiritual world her lips could not utter what in heart she thought, and that, thought, and feeling are seen in their true light, and all shams and disguises worn here but drag the spirit to the abodes of the wretched.

CHERRY PECTORAL.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

Brimfield, Mass., 20th Dec., 1858.

Dr. J. C. Ayer—I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a cold, is Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. E. B. KNOTT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Uxbridge, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family since you invented it, and believe it the best remedy for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I could sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than to do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 7th, 1858.

BROTHER AYER—I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the Croup, Whooping Cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your family in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRSH KUNEN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., Monterey, Cal., writes, 3rd Jan., 1858: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs, less than one hour I could breathe completely well. Your medicine is the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic and Bronchitis.

West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4th, 1858.

SIR—Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1845: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

(Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human skill can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.)

Astor House, New York City, March 5th, '58.

DOCTOR AYER—I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of consumption, from which you could procure her no relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for a recommended trial of your medicine. We feel it kindness as we do your skill, for she recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and all her former ailments.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHAW, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the first medical chemists in the world, and its curative effect is as high as the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sold by J. F. Secord, Thos. Walker & Son, R. D. McArthur, S. L. Tiley, G. F. Everett, G. S. Reed, F. C. Irish & Co., Thomas M. Reed, J. G. Simpson, and all dealers in medicine.

Do try our visit to Lowell. We were shown through the Laboratory of our celebrated countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer. Scarcely could we have believed what is seen there without proof beyond disputing.

They consume a barrel of solid Pills, about 50,000 doses, and 20 barrels of Cherry Pectoral, 120,000 doses per diem. To what an enviable amount of human suffering does this point! 170,000 doses a day! Fifty millions of doses per year! What acres and thousands of acres of sick beds does this spread before the imagination! And what sympathies and woes! True, not all of this is taken by the very sick, but also, much of it is. This Cherry Drop and this Sugar Pill are to be the companion of pain and anguish and sinking sorrow—the inheritance of our Mother Eve bequeathed to the whole family of man. Here the infant darling has been too long too early by the bright day, withers half our race. Its little lungs are affected and only waiting and waiting shall tell what its breath shall turn. This red drop on its table is the talisman on which its life shall hang. There the blossom of the world just bursting into womanhood is stricken also. Affection's most assiduous care skills not, she is still fading away. The wan messenger comes nearer and nearer every week. This little medicament shall go there, their last, perhaps their only hope. The strong man has planned in his vital this same disease. This red drop by his side is helping him wrestle with the inexorable enemy, the wife of his bosom, and the cherubs of his heart are waiting in sick sorrow and fear lest the rod on which they lean in this world, be broken.

O doctor! Spare no skill, nor cost, nor toil to give the perishing sick the best that human art can give.—Galveston Texas News.

GENERAL DEBILITY AND EMACIATION CURED, AFTER ALL OTHER REMEDIES FAILED.

BY THE USE OF THE COMPOUND SARSAPARILLA.

Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.

The following interesting case came under my own observation. A lady, between sixty and seventy years of age, afflicted with general debility, weakness, and pain in the stomach, loss of appetite and great emaciation, applied to me for aid. Her attending physician prohibited cathartics, because she was weak to endure the operation. She had little hope of recovery, and her neighbors said "her work was done." I ordered a teaspoonful of your Compound Sarsaparilla three times a day. On the third day she was entirely relieved, and has continued so six months, during which time her appetite became good, her strength increased, and her bowels became regular. She is now managing her domestic affairs, and nursing a sick husband. I have prescribed it in many other cases, and it has never disappointed me.

I recommended the Neuropathic Drops in a case of nervous prostration, with nausea, flatulence, and internal pains. The patient derived more benefit from it than from all other remedies, recommends it heartily to her neighbors, and is never without it. I have given it in Toothache and other diseases with marked success.

ISAAC SMITH, M. D.

FROM REV. S. S. LEIGHTON.

I have used B. O. & G. C. Wilson's Wild Cherry Balsam in Coughs, Colds, and other Pulmonary Complaints; and three cases have come under my own observation, in which all similar remedies failed, which were completely restored by taking less than one bottle.

It is, in my opinion, an invaluable remedy, happily adapted to remove the diseases for which it is designed.

CASES OF CHOLERA CURED.

Geo. B. Estabrooks came to my house late at night. He was taken ill in the night, with violent cramps, and walked the floor all night in great distress. When I arose in the morning he was much alarmed about his recovery. I told him I could cure him. I gave him a teaspoonful of Neuropathic Drops, and in ten minutes he was entirely free from pain, and ate a hearty breakfast and went on his journey.

ANOTHER CASE.—Mr. William Wilson was going to a fair at Springfield, and came to my house about midnight, very sick indeed, with violent pains, thought he had the Cholera, and was going to die. He wished to leave his money with me for his family. I gave him a teaspoonful of your Drops, which relieved him. In twenty minutes I gave him another, and about an hour after a third, which entirely cured him, and he went to the fair in the morning.

DYSENTERY.

I have resorted to B. O. & G. C. Wilson's Dysentery Syrup, in all kinds of bowel complaints, and it is always sure. One dose is generally a perfect antidote. For Dysentery, one to three may be necessary. In very severe cases, I generally add fifteen to thirty Neuropathic Drops to each dose, which never fails, and my experience is, like that of hundreds of individuals who come to this city on business, and have visited the store of B. O. & G. C. Wilson, under circumstances which rendered a trial of the Syrup necessary, who have been perfectly astonished at the result, and the shortness of the time in which it effected a cure. The medicine can't be beat.

THE NEUROPATHIC DROPS WILL CURE COUGHS AND CHILBAINS.

CHELSEA, June 26th, 1857.

Gentlemen: For eight or nine years I have been troubled with a cough of the worst kind; I had it cut out as often as once in from 4 to 10 weeks, and still continued very lame. February 9th, 1857, I noticed that your Neuropathic Drops were used for coughs. I applied the Drops, night and morning, rubbing them on with my fingers for 10 or 15 minutes each time, for each time, for two weeks, which so effectually cured it that it has given me no trouble since.

E. L. MERRIAM.

Saint John, N. B.

July 30, 1857.

Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.—I beg to state that from personal knowledge of some of your Botanic Medicines, I believe them to be of a superior character. During the existence of the Cholera in this City, in the summer of 1855, I was called, as a minister, to visit a woman said to be dying with that dreadful disease. She had been attended by physicians during the night, and was left by three, only a few minutes before I entered. On seeing her condition, from what I had before witnessed, I believe there were hopes. I immediately commenced administering doses of your Neuropathic Drops and Dysentery Syrup, and ordered them continued at short intervals. In two hours she was much better, and in about six hours, sat up. She fully recovered. Other cases nearly similar of which I had personal knowledge, occurred during the existence of the Cholera in this City, by the use of your Drops.

E. McLEOD.

The above Medicines, although here serviceable in Cholera, are no less useful in Diarrhea, Dysentery, &c. and have worked a cure when all other means have failed.

Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.

I have found the Dysentery Syrup and Neuropathic Drops when taken together an invaluable remedy for Diarrhea & Dysentery, and I consider them Medicines that every Family should keep themselves supplied with.
