DREAMS OF HEAVEN.

BY MRS. HEMANS.

Come to me, dreams of heaven!
My fainting spirit bear
On your bright wings, by morning given,
Up to celestial air.

Away—far, far away,
From bowers by tempests riven;
Fold me in blue, still, cloudless day
O blessed dreams of heaven!

Come but for one brief hour,
Sweet dreams, and yet again
O'er burning thoughts and memory shower
Your soft, effacing rain!

Waft me where gales divine
With dark clouds ne'er have striven;
Where living thoughts forever shine,
O blessed dreams of heaven!

CARD-PLAYING IN FAMILIES.

"Much of the gambling with which our country is cursed, is the result of games for amusement. When young men see their mothers and sisters playing for 'pastime,' the horror of gaming for a small sum is lost; and step by step they advance, till fortune is wrecked and character ruined. How wise the admonition, 'Shun the appearance of evil!'"

So writes a young man who had been ruined by gambling, in giving an account of the steps by which his ruin had been accomplished. No young man ever became a gambler by betting the first time he played, and in his own estimation became skillful in it, before he will venture a wager. Those ladies, therefore, who, by their example, encourage their sons, brothers, and lovers in playing for amusement, are, in many cases, laying the foundation for their ruin. The fact that they are doing it unwittingly does not relieve them of the responsibility of it, nor will it lighten their sorrows when their sons, brothers, and husbands shall ruin them by their profligacy. They sow to the wind, and must not wonder if they reap the whirlwind. It is true that all young men who learn to play for amusement do not become gamblers; but none ever do become such who did not commence that way.—Pennsylvania Herald.

ECHOES OF THE VALLEY OF LIFE.

Hear the story of the child who went forth into the mountain ravine. Whilst the child wandered there he cried aloud, to break the loneliness, and heard a voice which called to him in the same tone. He called again, and, as he thought, the voice again mocked him. Flushed with anger, he rushed to find—no one. He then called out to him in anger, and with all abusive epithets, all of which were faithfully returned to him. Choking with rage, the child ran to his mother and complained that a boy in the woods had insulted him with many vile words. But the mother took her child by the hand, and said, "My child, these names were but the echoes of thine own voice. Send forth sunshine from thy spirit, and thou shalt never have a cloudy day. Carry about a vindictive spirit, and even in the flowers shall lurk curses. Thou shalt receive ever what thou givest, and that alone." Always, said the speaker, is that child in the mountain passes, and every man and every woman is that child.

THE WHOLE STORY.

A young man named James Powers was hanged at Washington on Saturday for murder. Just before mounting the scaffold he bade his brother farewell, and he said: "Remember what I told you, let the liquor alone." The same counsel has gone forth from a thousand scaffolds in this country, and its echoes are heard in many a prison cell. We waste much breath and ink in speculating upon the causes of crime and its extraordinary increase of late years. But the confession of the criminal tells the whole truth of the matter. It is rum that makes demons out of men of originally good impulses; it is filling our prisons, feeding the gallows, and dimming the security of life and property. Under its accursed influence men, who, when sober, would die rather than commit a dishonest act, scruple not to perpetrate robbery, murder, and all the crimes of the imagination. Of all the propositions for the prevention of crime, we are strongly persuaded that there is none of equal efficacy with the simple advice of young Powers—"Let the liquor alone."—Philadelphia Journal.

HEART-RENDING SPECTACLE.

A writer in the Charleston, S. C. Mercury thus concludes a description of his visit to the Africans brought there in the captured slave "Echo": "The result of the whole visit was intense sympathy for them, the slaves, and indignation towards their captors. You may read of the horrors of the 'middle passage,' but the half cannot be told as one view of these unfortunates will tell the tale. Dysentery, dropsy and ophthalmia, all I believe, the productions of contact, want of ventilation, and want of exercise, are the prevailing diseases. But even where these were not visible the spectacle was harrowing. A skeleton taken down from the nail of a doctor's closet and presented to your view would scarcely be more descriptive of anatomy than many of these living, walking specimens of the human frame. The effect was very startling, when you saw them squatting on their haunches, with their knees drawn up behind their elbows, in an attitude common to apes and baboons, but which no human frame clothed in flesh can attain. Some, when sitting and told to rise, did so with great difficulty, and moved with a step as tottering as I ever saw after illness. The very head seemed but a skull encased in a black covering. It is common to speak of a man being reduced to skin and bone, but one who saw these can scarcely use the expression again.

But if this is to be said of those comparatively in health, what language can describe the sick? I saw one poor creature swollen to the most wonderful size with dropsy; and as he lay on his back, he moved his hands, signifying to one of our party a request for his cigar, which, when given him, he smoked with the greatest avidity. Another manifested similar wants, and replied to our beckonings to come to us, by pointing to his leg, which we construed into inability to move. Two lay near, whose troubles had ceased in death; while another, the most affecting sight of all—a child of six or eight years lay on its side in the sun on the stone wharf, with eyes closed and no other evidence of life than the slight motion of the stomach indicating breathing. The poor creature, alone and unattended, had rested its head on its little hand as naturally as our own little ones do, and in this touching attitude of suffering childhood was fast losing the consciousness of a life whose experience had been only that of sorrow and suffering.

As I turned from this spectacle the thought was naturally suggested—for what was all this incurred? In all charity I could only answer—avarice. If ever argument was wanted in proof of human depravity, it was furnished here.

One thing impressed me forcibly—the complete docility, amounting to mere mechanical submission, of all these creatures. In the sick ward the physician was applying caustic to the eyes of his patients. When this painful remedy was applied—and poor creatures, they knew not that it was a remedy, or anything but part of the system of cruelty to which they had been subjected—they covered their faces with their hands in pain, and with their heads all bowed in meek submission; and though many were young children, not a sound, not a murmur, escaped. The scene was truly touching. To one of any sensibility the horrors of a battle-field were less so. I left the scene chastened and humbled, but with gratitude, too, I trust, to Almighty God for a lot cast in a Christian land."

NOW IS THE TIME.—"Not yet," said a little boy, as he was busy with his trap and ball; "when I grow older, I will think about my soul."

The little boy grew to be a young man.

"Not yet," said the young man; "I am now about to enter into trade; when I see my business prosper, then I shall have more time than now."

Business did prosper.

"Not yet," said the man of business; "my children must have my care; when they are settled in life, I shall be better able to attend to religion."

He lived to be a gray-headed old man.

"Not yet," still he cried; "I shall soon retire from trade, and then I shall have nothing else to do but read and pray."

And so he died; he put off till another time what should have been done when a child. He lived without God, and died without hope.

CHERRY PECTORAL, FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

Brimfield, Mass., 26th Dec., 1855.
Dr. J. C. AYER.—I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a cold, is Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. E. E. KIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MONTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N.Y., writes: "I have used your Cherry Pectoral and in my family since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than to do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.
Springfield, Mass., Feb. 7th, 1856.

BROTHER AYER.—I will cheerfully certify that Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., Monterey, Ia., writes, 3rd Jan., 1856.—"I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines with no relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicine is the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisis and Bronchitis.
West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4th, 1856.

SIR.—Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

Consumption.
Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort. Astor House, New York City, March 5th, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, IOWELL.—I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness as we do your skill, for she recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELLEY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the first medical chemists in the world, and its cures all found us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sold by J. F. Secord, Thos. Walker & Son, R. D. McArthur, S. L. Tilley, G. P. Everett, G. S. Reed, G. C. Irish & Co., Thomas M. Reed, J. G. Simpson, and all dealers in medicine.

If you want Pills, take Ayer's Pill. Nothing has ever appeared in this market that can compare with this new invention for chasing out the distempers that fasten and grow upon us. They are the Philosopher's elixir of life, that bids defiance to disease, and will leave us no alternative but die of old age.

GENERAL DEBILITY AND EMACIATION
CURED, AFTER ALL OTHER REMEDIES FAILED.

BY THE USE OF THE COMPOUND SARSAPARILLA.

Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.

The following interesting case came under my own observation. A lady, between sixty and seventy years of age, afflicted with general debility, uncleanliness, and pain in the stomach, loss of appetite and great emaciation, applied to me for aid. Her attending physician prohibited cathartics, because she was to weak to endure the operation. She had little hope of recovery, and her neighbors said "her work was done." I ordered a teaspoonful of your Compound Sarsaparilla three times a day. On the third day she was entirely relieved, and has continued to six months, during which time her appetite became good, her strength increased, and her bowels became regular. She is now managing her domestic affairs, and nursing a sick husband. I have prescribed it in many other cases, and it has never disappointed me.

I recommended the Neuropathic Drops in a case of nervous prostration, with nausea, flatulence, and internal pains. The patient derived more benefit from it than from all other remedies; recommends it heartily to her neighbors, and is never without it. I have given it in Toothache and other diseases with marked success.

ISAAC SMITH, M. D.

Foxborough, Mass., May 27, 1857.

FROM REV. S. S. LEIGHTON.

I have used B. O. & G. C. Wilson's Wild Cherry Balsam in Coughs, Colds, and other Pulmonary Complaints; and three cases have come under my own observation, in which all similar remedies failed, which were completely restored by taking less than one bottle.

It is, in my opinion, an invaluable remedy, happily adapted to remove the diseases for which it is designed.

CASES OF CHOLERA CURED.

Geo. B. Estabrooks came to my house late at night. He was taken ill in the night, with violent cramps, and walked the floor all night, in great distress. When I arose in the morning he was much alarmed about his recovery. I told him I could cure him. I gave him a teaspoonful of Neuropathic Drops, and in ten minutes he was entirely free from pain, and ate a hearty breakfast and went on his journey.

ANOTHER CASE.—Mr. William Wilson was going to a fair at Springfield, and came to my house about midnight, very sick indeed, with violent pains,—thought he had the Cholera, and was going to die. He wished to leave his money with me for his family. I gave him a teaspoonful of your Drops, which relieved him. In twenty minutes I gave him another, and about an hour after a third, which entirely cured him, and he went to the fair in the morning.

DYSENTERY.

I have resorted to B. O. & G. C. Wilson's Dysentery Syrup, in all kinds of bowel complaints, and it is always sure. One dose is generally a perfect antidote. For Dysentery, one to three may be necessary. In very severe cases, I have generally used fifteen to thirty Neuropathic Drops to each dose, which never fails, and my experience is, like that of hundreds of individuals who come to this city on business, and have visited the store of B. O. & G. C. Wilson, under circumstances which rendered a trial of the Syrup necessary, who have been perfectly astonished at the result, and the shortness of the time in which it effected a cure. The medicine can't be beat.

THE NEUROPATHIC DROPS WILL CURE
CORN AND CHILBLAINS.

CHelsea, June 26th, 1857.
Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.

Gentlemen: For eight or nine years I have been troubled with a corn of the worst kind; I had it cut out as often as once in four to ten weeks, and still continued very lame. February 9th, 1857, I noticed that your Neuropathic Drops were used for corns. I applied the Drops, night and morning, rubbing them on with my fingers for 10 or 15 minutes each time, for each time, for two weeks, which so effectually cured it that I have given me no trouble since.

E. L. MERRIAM.

Saint John, N. B.

July 30, 1857.
Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.—I beg to state that from personal knowledge of some of your Botanic Medicines, I believe them to be of a superior character. During the existence of the Cholera in this City, in the summer of 1855, I was called, as a minister, to visit a woman said to be dying with that dreadful disease. She had been attended by physicians during the night, and was left by three, only a few minutes before I entered. On seeing her condition, from what I had before witnessed, I believe there were hopes. I immediately commenced administering doses of your Neuropathic Drops and Dysentery Syrup, and ordered them continued at short intervals. In two hours she was much better, and in about six hours, sat up. She fully recovered. Other cases nearly similar of which I had personal knowledge, occurred during the existence of the cholera in this City, by the use of your Drops.

E. McLEOD.

The above Medicines although here serviceable in Cholera, are no less useful in Diarrhea, Dysentery &c. and have worked a cure when all other means have failed.

Messrs B. O. & G. C. Wilson.

I have found the Dysentery Syrup and Neuropathic Drops when taken together an invaluable remedy for Diarrhea & Dysentery, and I consider them Medicines that every Family should keep themselves supplied with.
